Shell Money Of The Slave Trade:

The Shell Money of the Slave Trade Jan Hogendorn, Marion Johnson, 2003-09-18 A study of the role of cowrie shell money in West African trade particularly the slave trade Shell Money Mikael Fauvelle, 2024-03-21 Where when and under what circumstances did money first emerge This Element examines this question through a comparative study of the use of shells to facilitate trade and exchange in ancient societies around the world It argues that shell money was a form of social technology that expanded political economic capacities by enabling long distance trade across boundaries and between strangers The Element examines several cases in which shells and shell beads permeated throughout daily life and became central to the economic functioning of the societies that used them In several of these cases it argues that shells were used in ways that meet all the standard definitions of modern money By examining the wide range of uses of shell money in ancient economic systems around the world this Element explores the diversity of forms that money has taken throughout human history This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Empire of Brutality Christopher Michael Blakley, 2023 Christopher Blakley's Empire of Brutality is a human animal history of slaving and slavery in the Atlantic World between the end of the seventeenth century and the abolition of the Atlantic trade in 1808 His multidisciplinary study examines how varied relationships between enslaved people and animals led to the dehumanization and racialization of people of African descent in the Americas Blakley discusses the role of animal exchanges among slavers in West Africa the knowledge and curiosity of enslaved specimen collectors in the Atlantic world regimes of labor on Caribbean and Chesapeake plantations and the forms of resistance that enslaved people engaged in by injuring killing stealing and thinking about animals His analysis provides a better understanding of why enslaved people emphasized in their writing how slaveholders compared them to animals suggesting that critiques of slavery as dehumanizing by people of African descent were to a marked degree the result of these material human animal networks and linkages Blakley's study brings together disparate geographies including the castle trade in Atlantic Africa slave depots in New Spain and plantations in the British Caribbean and Chesapeake worlds to build on the emerging literature of human animal studies and new scholarship in early American environmental history His work is among the first to approach human animal networks under slavery systematically and comprehensively It makes a significant contribution by historicizing human animal relations produced by Atlantic wide networks of slavery It also provides an analysis of these linkages that over time led to the racialization and dehumanization of people of African descent as animal like subjects In this way his work offers an important environmental and material basis for the rich scholarship on the ideological and intellectual origins of race and racism It also illuminates the divergent affective responses of enslaved people towards animals ranging from curiosity to disgust and empathy House documents , 1889 The Atlantic Slave Trade Herbert S. Humans in Shackles Ana Lucia Araujo, 2024-10-19 A sweeping narrative history of the Atlantic slave trade and slavery in the Americas During the era of the Atlantic slave trade more than twelve million enslaved Africans were forcibly transported to the Americas in cramped inhumane conditions Many of them died on the way and those who survived had to endure further suffering in the violent conditions that met them onshore Covering more than three hundred years Humans in Shackles grapples with this history by foregrounding the lived experience of enslaved people in tracing the long complex history of slavery in the Americas Based on twenty years of research this book not only serves as a comprehensive history it also expands that history by providing a truly transnational account that emphasizes the central role of Brazil in the Atlantic slave trade Additionally it is deeply informed by African history and shows how African practices and traditions survived and persisted in the Americas among communities of enslaved people Drawing on primary sources including travel accounts pamphlets newspaper articles slave narratives and visual sources such as artworks and artifacts Araujo illuminates the social cultural and religious lives of enslaved people working in plantations and urban areas building families and cultivating affective ties congregating and re-creating their cultures and organizing rebellions Humans in Shackles puts the lived experiences of enslaved peoples at the center of the story and investigates the heavy impact these atrocities have had on the current wealth disparity of the Americas and rampant anti Black racism

Slave Trades, 1500-1800 Patrick Manning, 2016-12-05 The trade in slaves is perhaps the most notorious feature of the era of European expansion Though begun in ancient times and continued well after 1800 in the early modern period there developed a particular nexus in which it boomed This volume distinguishes between procurement and trade and the exploitation of settled slaves the subject of a separate volume in the series edited by Judy Bieber and underscores the importance of the slave trade as a factor in world history A rank redistribution of wealth and power it permitted the exploitation and reconstruction of much of the globe The articles address issues of the volume and flow of trade the various populations enslaved factors of sex age and ethnicity and its impact on economic change as in the monetization of Africa or economic growth in England

Voices of the Poor in Africa Elizabeth Allo Isichei, 2004 An ambitious new approach to African studies utilizing indigenous sources to bring back the voices of the native Africans in their own words rather than that of colonizers and foreigners Elizabeth Isichei explores the Atlantic slave trade as reflected in the poetics of rumour and the poetics of memory an approach different from the quantitative and demographic studies which have transformed the subject over the past twenty years To this and to her study of popular consciousness in the colony and postcolony she brings together a wide range of disciplines ethnography art and art history and contemporary literary theory among them to look at the intellectual history of Africa from African rather than European premises The result is a history of popular consciousness which shows the experiences of ordinary people often in protest to an ongoing experience of

Slave Traders by Invitation Finn Fuglestad, 2018-07-01 The Slave Coast situated in what is now the West African state of Benin was the epicentre of the Atlantic Slave Trade But it was also an inhospitable surf ridden coastline subject to crashing breakers and devoid of permanent human settlement Nor was it easily accessible from the interior due to a lagoon which ran parallel to the coast The local inhabitants were not only sheltered against incursions from the sea but were also locked off from it Yet paradoxically it was this coastline that witnessed a thriving long term commercial relationship between Europeans and Africans based on the trans Atlantic slave trade How did it come about How was it all organised And how did the locals react to the opportunities these new trading relations offered them The Kingdom of Dahomey is usually cited as the Slave Coast s archetypical slave raiding and slave trading polity An inland realm it was a latecomer to the slave trade and simply incorporated a pre existing system by dint of military prowess which ultimately was to prove radically counterproductive Fuglestad s book seeks to explain the Dahomean anomaly and its impact on the Slave Coast s societies and polities

Money in One Lesson Gavin Jackson, 2022-01-20 Superb Tim Harford author of How to Make the World Add Up Money is essential to the economy and how we live our lives yet is inherently worthless We can use it to build a home or send us to space and it can lead to the rise and fall of empires Few innovations have had such a huge impact on the development of humanity but money is a shared fiction a story we believe in so long as others act as if it is true Money is rarely out of the headlines from the invention of cryptocurrencies to the problem of high inflation extraordinary interventions by central banks and the power the West has over the worldwide banking system In Money in One Lesson Gavin Jackson answers the most important questions on what money is and how it shapes our world drawing on vivid examples from throughout history to demystify and show how societies and its citizens both past and present are always entwined with matters of money A highly illuminating well researched and beautifully written book on one of humanity s most important innovations Martin Wolf chief economics commentator Financial Times

Lose Your Mother Saidiya Hartman, 2008-01-22 In Lose Your Mother Saidiya Hartman journeys along a slave route in Ghana following the trail of captives from the hinterland to the Atlantic coast She retraces the history of the Atlantic slave trade from the fifteenth to the twentieth century and reckons with the blank slate of her own genealogy There were no survivors of Hartman's lineage nor far flung relatives in Ghana of whom she had come in search She traveled to Ghana in search of strangers The most universal definition of the slave is a stranger torn from kin and country To lose your mother is to suffer the loss of kin to forget your past and to inhabit the world as a stranger As both the offspring of slaves and an American in Africa Hartman too was a stranger Her reflections on history and memory unfold as an intimate encounter with places a holding cell a slave market a walled town built to repel slave raiders and with people an Akan prince who granted the Portuguese permission to build the first permanent trading fort in West Africa an adolescent boy who was kidnapped while playing a fourteen year old girl who was murdered aboard a slave ship Eloquent thoughtful and deeply affecting Lose Your Mother is a powerful meditation on history memory and the Atlantic slave trade

The Fetish Revisited J. Lorand Matory, 2018-10-04 Since the early modern encounter between African and European merchants on the Guinea Coast European social critics have invoked African gods as metaphors for misplaced value and agency using the term fetishism chiefly to assert the irrationality of their fellow Europeans Yet as J Lorand Matory demonstrates in The Fetish Revisited Afro Atlantic gods have a materially embodied social logic of their own which is no less rational than the social theories of Marx and Freud Drawing on thirty six years of fieldwork in Africa Europe and the Americas Matory casts an Afro Atlantic eye on European theory to show how Marx's and Freud's conceptions of the fetish both illuminate and misrepresent Africa's human made gods Through this analysis the priests practices and spirited things of four major Afro Atlantic religions simultaneously call attention to the culture specific materially conditioned physically embodied and indeed fetishistic nature of Marx's and Freud's theories themselves Challenging long held assumptions about the nature of gods and theories Matory offers a novel perspective on the social roots of these tandem African and European understandings of collective action while illuminating the relationship of European social theory to the racism suffered by Africans and assimilated Jews alike
