Masterpieces By Modern Chinese Fiction Writers Echo Of Classics:

The Ancient Ship Wei Zhang, 2008 Spanning four decades following the creation of the People's Republic in 1949 The Ancient Ship is a bold examination of a society in turmoil the struggle of oppressed people to control their own fate and the clash between tradition and modernization In the course of the narrative the townspeople of Wali a fictional northern town face the moments that have defined China's history during the latter part of the twentieth century the land reform programs the famine of 1959-1961 the Great Leap Forward the Anti Rightist Campaign and the Cultural Revolution Translated into English for the first time The Ancient Ship is a revolutionary work of Chinese fiction that speaks to people across the globe Page 4 of cover Haystacks and Other Selected Writings, 2014 Love in a Fallen City Eileen Chang, 2006-10-10 Masterful short works about passion family and human relationships by one of the greatest writers of 20th century China A New York Review Books Original A giant of modern Chinese literature The New York Times With language as sharp as a knife edge Eileen Chang cut open a huge divide in Chinese culture between the classical patriarchy and our troubled modernity She was one of the very few able truly to connect that divide just as her heroines often disappeared inside it She is the fallen angel of Chinese literature and now with these excellent new translations English readers can discover why she is so revered by Chinese readers everywhere Ang Lee Eileen Chang is one of the great writers of twentieth century China where she enjoys a passionate following both on the mainland and in Taiwan At the heart of Chang's achievement is her short fiction tales of love longing and the shifting and endlessly treacherous shoals of family life Written when Chang was still in her twenties these extraordinary stories combine an unsettled probing utterly contemporary sensibility keenly alert to sexual politics and psychological ambiguity with an intense lyricism that echoes the classics of Chinese literature Love in a Fallen City the first collection in English of this dazzling body of work introduces American readers to the stark and glamorous vision of a modern master Life Lu Yao, 2019-03 Gao Jialin a stubborn idealistic and ambitious young man from a small country village life is upended when corrupt local politics cost him his beloved job as a schoolteacher prompting him to reject rural life and try to make it in the big city Record of Regret Dong Xi, 2018-03-22 Be careful trying to place blame or it might come back to you Ceng Guangxian's father warns him after the first time his good intentions end in ruin Yet time and again as Guangxian comes of age bad luck and his own desires for a bigger better future wreak havoc upon his family fortune and social reputation leaving him scrambling to find the causes of the mishaps that define his life Dong Xi's Record of Regret here in its first English translation introduces readers to a masterpiece of contemporary Chinese literature and to the unparalleled tragicomic style of one of China's most celebrated writers Set in the wake of China's Cultural Revolution the novel follows Guangxian from his days as a middle school student to adulthood as a lonely middle aged man Guangxian's path of misery which he meticulously documents is driven by absurdity his discovery of two dogs mating leads to his father's infidelity with a neighbor Guangxian's attempts to court a woman with the gift of a new dress result in his imprisonment for rape he selects a spouse through a catastrophic game of chance drawing from a set of names scrawled on crumpled pieces of paper Guangxian's guilty conscience and youthful understanding of morality compound these disasters Translated by Dylan Levi King to preserve the tone and engaging style of Dong Xi's original text Record of Regret provides English readers a look into a darkly humorous landscape of dubious loyalties and lessons seen through the eyes of a man trying to find his place in an upside down world

Bird Talk and Other Stories by Xu Xu Xu Xu, 2020-05-19 Introducing the works of a major Chinese writer liberal cosmopolitan and lyrically exotic once banned but now embraced and newly discovered in the West

The Song of Everlasting Sorrow Anyi Wang, 2008 The Song of Everlasting Sorrow follows the adventures of Wang Qiyao a girl born of the crowded labyrinthine alleys of Shanghai's working class neighborhoods Infatuated with the glitz and glamour of 1940s Hollywood Wang Qiyao seeks fame in the Miss Shanghai beauty pageant and this fleeting moment of stardom becomes the pinnacle of her life After the Communist victory Wang Qiyao continues to indulge in the decadent pleasures of the Shanghai bourgeoisie secretly playing mahjong during the antirightist campaign and exchanging lovers on the eve of the Cultural Revolution She reemerges in the 1980s as a purveyor of old Shanghai only to become embroiled in a tragedy that echoes the Hollywood noirs of her youth 王琦瑶的上海, 2005 Renowned for his absurdist re-visioning of the world and experimentation with the techniques of humour in his writings Lao She has written about most major historical events in modern China In his masterpiece Camel Xiangzi he reveals his prophetic vision of the future of China The novel depicts the life of Xiangzi a young rickshaw puller in Beijing who fails to improve his life no matter how hard he works When innocent people's hopes are destroyed they are awakened to the truth that they are but playthings of fate which is a Chinese concept for the unnameable in life's absurdities The novel demonstrates the techniques of bitter humour Lao She employs in his portrayal of characters who are caught in the endless social turmoil in the 1930s The novel's socio-historical dimensions have made it a widely used text for the cultural analysis of modern China Book jacket

Beautiful Days Teng Xiaolan, 2013-03-26 This book of contemporary Chinese literature contains two separate novellas A Riot of Brilliant Purple and Tender Crimson and Beautiful Days A Riot of Brilliant Purple and Tender Crimson This novel is about the love lives of a father and daughter pair The heroine is Xiang Yijun a government officer who is greatly influenced by her Peking Opera performer father She is fond of singing this type of opera but the old fashion hobby sets her apart from others who see it as peculiar It doesn't help with her search for Mr Right either But one day she meets Mao An who not only is interested in Peking Opera but he also wants her to be his teacher Yijun believes it's destiny and quietly accepts the developing relationship with Mao An even when she finds out that he had asked another girl to be his teacher before her Meanwhile Yijun's usually self-contained father is inspired by a love expert on the Internet and falls secretly in love with a female neighbor The novel plot echoes the lyrics in the Kun Opera The Peony Pavilion though the flowers are in great bloom they are only appreciated by broken walls Beautiful Days The novel is a very simple story of a 70 year old Shanghai woman who wants to pick a satisfactory daughter in law for her baldheaded son This son was once infected by polio and the only thing he can be proud of is the fact that he was born in Shanghai and lives there Yao Hong a widow from Jiangxi Province is hired as the housekeeper for this family but later becomes the wife of the son Fighting and arguing ensues between Yao Hong and her mother in law but after some time the two women learn to accept each other acknowledging that life is full of surprises and that the unexpected can perhaps be a good thing after all The novel focusing on daily subjects is detailed in description Extraordinary lives are reflected by ordinary people The beauty of everyday is found in the motions of life Ruined City Jia Pingwa, 2016-01-22 When originally published in 1993 Ruined City Fei Du was promptly banned by China's State Publishing Administration ostensibly for its explicit sexual content Since then award winning author Jia Pingwa's vivid portrayal of contemporary China's social and economic transformation has become a classic viewed by critics and scholars of Chinese literature as one of the most important novels of the twentieth century Howard Goldblatt's deft translation now gives English speaking readers their first chance to enjoy this masterpiece of social satire by one of China's most provocative writers While eroticism exoticism and esoteric minutiae the pornography that earned the opprobrium of Chinese officials pervade Ruined City this tale of a famous contemporary writer's sexual and legal imbroglios is an incisive portrait of politics and culture in a rapidly changing China In a narrative that ranges from political allegory to parody Jia Pingwa tracks his antihero Zhuang Zhidie through progressively more involved and inevitably disappointing sexual liaisons Set in a modern metropolis rife with power politics corruption and capitalist schemes the novel evokes an unrequited romantic longing for China's premodern rural past even as unfolding events caution against the trap of nostalgia Amid comedy and chaos the author subtly injects his concerns about the place of intellectual seriousness censorship and artistic integrity in the changing conditions of Chinese society Rich with detailed description and vivid imagery Ruined City transports readers into a world abounding with the absurdities and harshness of modern life Lapse of Time Anyi Wang, 1988 The Dream of the Red Chamber Exclusive Edition, Cao Xueqin, 2020 Exclusive Edition Publisher c 2020 The Dream of the Red Chamber is one of the Four Great Classical Novels of Chinese Literature It is renowned for its huge scope large cast of characters and telling observations on the life and social structures of 18th century China and is considered by many to be the pinnacle of the classical Chinese novel The Red Chamber is an expression used to describe the sheltered area where the daughters of wealthy Chinese families lived Believed to be based on the author's own life and intended as a memorial to the women that he knew in his youth The Dream of the Red Chamber is a multilayered story that offers up key insights into Chinese culture Henry Bencraft Joly's attention to detail and the faithfulness in his translation of Hong Lou Meng makes this revised edition of The Dream of the Red Chamber an excellent book for the student of modern Chinese Edwin H Lowe from his introduction this partial version certainly deserves a wider readership as a brave early skirmish on the outer ramparts of this masterpiece The re-issuing of Joly's work will undoubtedly provide a rich crop of fascinating raw material for the growing community of

Translation Studies scholars John Minford from his foreword The True Story of Ah Q Lu Hsun,1976-01-01 Considered a masterpiece of both content and style Dream of the Red Chamber Cao Xueqin,H. Bencraft Joly,Alex Struik,2012-01-07

Dream of the Red Chamber is a masterpiece of Chinese literature and one of China's Four Great Classical Novels It was composed in the mid 18th century during the Qing Dynasty and is generally acknowledged to be a pinnacle of Chinese fiction The novel is believed to be semi autobiographical mirroring the rise and decay of author's own family and by extension of the Qing Dynasty As the author states in the first chapter it is intended to be a memorial to the women he knew in his youth friends relatives and servants At the center of the story is Bao yu a precocious spoiled and undisciplined boy and his romantic affinity to his poetry loving orphaned cousin Dai yu The novel is remarkable not only for its huge cast of characters and psychological scope but also for its precise and detailed observation of the life and social structures typical of 18th century Chinese aristocracy Ten Thousand Miles of Clouds and Moons Simon Shieh,2025-01-29
