edged as his writing Deep as Dante Herman Melville said Hawthorne himself declared that he was not one of those supremely hospitable people who serve up their own hearts delicately fried with brain sauce as a tidbit for the public Yet those who knew him best often took the opposite position He always puts himself in his books said his sister in law Mary Mann he cannot help it His life like his work was extraordinary a play of light and shadow In this major new biography of Hawthorne the first in more than a decade Brenda Wineapple acclaimed biographer of Janet Flanner and Gertrude and Leo Stein Luminous Richard Howard brings him brilliantly alive an exquisite writer who shoveled dung in an attempt to found a new utopia at Brook Farm and then excoriated the community or his attraction to it in caustic satire the confidant of Franklin Pierce fourteenth president of the United States and arguably one of its worst friend to Emerson and Thoreau and Melville who unlike them made fun of Abraham Lincoln and who also unlike them wrote compellingly of women deeply identifying with them he was the first major American writer to create erotic female characters Those vibrant independent women continue to haunt the imagination although Hawthorne often punishes humiliates or kills them as if exorcising that which enthralls Here is the man rooted in Salem Massachusetts of an old pre Revolutionary family reared partly in the wilds of western Maine then schooled along with Longfellow at Bowdoin College Here are his idyllic marriage to the youngest and prettiest of the Peabody sisters and his longtime friendships including with Margaret Fuller the notorious feminist writer and intellectual Here too is Hawthorne at the end of his days revered as a genius but considered as well to be an embarrassing puzzle by the Boston intelligentsia isolated by fiercely held political loyalties that placed him against the Civil War and the currents of his time Brenda Wineapple navigates the high tides and chill undercurrents of Hawthorne s fascinating life and work with clarity nuance and insight The novels and tales the incidental writings travel notes and children s books letters and diaries reverberate in this biography which both charts and protects the dark unknowable core that is quintessentially Hawthorne In him the quest of his generation for an authentically American voice bears disquieting fruit Time's Portraiture (From: "The Dolliver Romance and Other Pieces: Tales and Sketches") Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2020-03-16 In Time s Portraiture included in The Dolliver Romance and Other Pieces Tales and Sketches Nathaniel Hawthorne expertly weaves a tapestry of existential musings and introspective character studies exploring the nature of time and the permanence of memory This piece showcases Hawthorne s signature style marked by rich symbolism and lyrical prose which invites readers to contemplate the deeper implications of human experiences and their implications on personal identity Set against the backdrop of 19th century American society the tale reflects the transitional period Hawthorne inhabited grappling with the weight of history and the ephemeral nature of existence Nathaniel Hawthorne renowned for his explorations of morality and the human condition draws upon his Puritan ancestry and the cultural currents of his time in crafting Time s Portraiture His own struggles with heritage and identity inform the reflective nature of this work providing insight into the philosophical inquiries that pervade Hawthorne s oeuvre Having lived through significant societal shifts he captures the tension between romantic idealism and the sobering realities of life infusing his narratives with a depth that resonates with his readers Time's Portraiture is an essential read for those interested in American literature's exploration of time, memory, and identity. Hawthorne's reflective narrative invites readers to ponder their own relationship with the past and the inevitability of change, making this poignant tale a timeless exploration of the human experience. Nathaniel Hawthorne in His Time James R. Mellow, 1980 Hawthorne in His Own Time Ronald A. Bosco, Jillmarie Murphy, 2007-06 At his death Nathaniel Hawthorne 1804-1864 was universally acknowledged in America and England as the Great Romancer. Novels such as The Scarlet Letter and The House of the Seven Gables and stories published in such collections as Twice Told Tales continue to capture the minds and imaginations of readers and critics to this day. Harder to capture, however, were the character and personality of the man himself. So few of the essays that appeared in the two years after his death offered new insights into his life, art, and reputation that Hawthorne seemed fated to premature obscurity or at least permanent misrepresentation. This first collection of personal reminiscences by those who knew Hawthorne intimately or knew about him through reliable secondary sources rescues him from these confusions and provides the real human history behind the successful writer. Remembrances from Elizabeth Peabody, Sophia Hawthorne, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Bronson Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis, and twenty others printed in Hawthorne in His Own Time follow him from his childhood in Salem through his years of initial literary obscurity, his days in the Boston and Salem Custom Houses, his service as U.S. Consul to Liverpool and Manchester, and his life in the Anglo-American communities at Rome and Florence to his late years as the Great Romancer. In their enlightening introduction, editors Ronald Bosco and Jillmarie Murphy assess the postmortem building of Hawthorne's reputation as well as his relationship to the prominent Transcendentalists, spiritualists, Swedenborgians, and other personalities of his time. By clarifying the sentimental associations between Hawthorne's writings and his actual personality and moving away from the critical review to the personal narrative, these artful and perceptive reminiscences tell the private and public story of a remarkable life. Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1967 Nathaniel Hawthorne in His World Carolyn Kane, 1973 Time's Portraiture Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2015-05-17 Being the Carrier's Address to the Patrons of The Salem Gazette for the 1st of January 1838 True Stories of History and Biography Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2020-11-22 True Stories Of History And Biography by Nathaniel Hawthorne Nathaniel Hawthorne July 4, 1804–May 19, 1864 was an American novelist, dark romantic, and short story writer. His works often focus on history, morality, and religion. He was born in 1804 in Salem, Massachusetts, to Nathaniel Hawthorne and the former Elizabeth Clarke Manning. His ancestors include John Hathorne, the only judge from the Salem witch trials who never repented his involvement. He entered Bowdoin College in 1821, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in 1824, and graduated in 1825. He published his first work in 1828, the novel Fanshawe; he later tried to suppress it, feeling that it was not equal to the standard of his later work. He published several short stories in periodicals, which he collected in 1837 as Twice Told Tales. The next year he became engaged to Sophia Peabody. He worked at the Boston Custom House and joined Brook Farm a transcendentalist community before marrying Peabody in 1842. The couple moved to The Old Manse in Concord Massachusetts later moving to Salem the Berkshires then to The Wayside in Concord. The Scarlet Letter was published in 1850 followed by a succession of other novels. A political appointment as consul took Hawthorne and family to Europe before their return to Concord in 1860. Hawthorne died on May 19 1864 and was survived by his wife and their three children. Much of Hawthorne's writing centers on New England many works featuring moral metaphors with an anti Puritan inspiration. His fiction works are considered part of the Romantic movement and more specifically dark romanticism. His themes often center on the inherent evil and sin of humanity and his works often have moral messages and deep psychological complexity. His published works include novels short stories and a biography of his college friend Franklin Pierce the 14th President of the United States. Nathaniel Hawthorne was born on July 4 1804 in Salem Massachusetts his birthplace is preserved and open to the public. William Hathorne the author's great great great grandfather was a Puritan and the first of the family to emigrate from England. He settled in Dorchester Massachusetts before moving to Salem. There he became an important member of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and held many political positions including magistrate and judge becoming infamous for his harsh sentencing. William's son and the author's great great grandfather John Hathorne was one of the judges who oversaw the Salem witch trials. Hawthorne probably added the w to his surname in his early twenties shortly after graduating from college in an effort to dissociate himself from his notorious forebears. Hawthorne's father Nathaniel Hathorne Sr was a sea captain who died in 1808 of yellow fever in Dutch Suriname he had been a member of the East India Marine Society. After his death his widow moved with young Nathaniel and two daughters to live with relatives named the Mannings in Salem where they lived for 10 years. Young Hawthorne was hit on the leg while playing bat and ball on November 10 1813 and he became lame and bedridden for a year though several physicians could find nothing wrong with him. In the summer of 1816 the family lived as boarders with farmers before moving to a home recently built specifically for them by Hawthorne's uncles Richard and Robert Manning in Raymond Maine near Sebago Lake. Years later Hawthorne looked back at his time in Maine fondly. Those were delightful days for that part of the country was wild then with only scattered clearings and nine tenths of it primeval woods. In 1819 he was sent back to Salem for school and soon complained of homesickness and being too far from his mother and sisters. He distributed seven issues of The Spectator to his family in August and September 1820 for the sake of having fun. The homemade newspaper was written by hand and included essays poems
