Iurie Stamati

Ocherki Po Istorii Otechestvennogo Slavianovedeniia 1930e Gody:

Women Archaeologists under Communism, 1917-1989 Florin Curta, Iurie Stamati, 2021-11-27 This book explores the uncharted territory of the history of archaeology under Communism through the biographies of five women archaeologists from the Soviet Union Bulgaria Romania Hungary and Poland They were working in medieval archaeology with a specific focus on the early Slavs The choice of specialists in medieval archaeology has much to do with the fact that in the five East European countries considered in this book medieval archaeology began to develop into a serious discipline less than a century ago The main catalyst for the sudden rise of medieval archaeology was a dramatic shift in emphasis from traditional political and constitutional to social and economic history In five countries the rise of medieval archaeology thus coincides in time and was ultimately caused by the imposition of Communist regimes The five women were therefore true pioneers in their field and respective countries

The Slavic Dossier Iurie Stamati, 2018-12-24 In The Slavic Dossier Iurie Stamati's objective is to understand the reasons for the emergence of two different discourses on the place of the Slavs on the territory of Moldova and their role in the genesis of Moldovans and their culture during the medieval period in the Soviet archaeology His analysis goes beyond the utilitarian perception of Soviet archaeology To achieve this Stamati not only questions the political contexts in which these discourses emerged but also looks at the history of the Moldovan archaeological field personal profiles of archaeologists their theoretical and ideological attachment relationships and interactions with each other inside and outside the archaeological field

National Identities in Soviet Historiography Harun Yilmaz, 2015-02-20 Under Stalin's totalitarian leadership of the USSR Soviet national identities with historical narratives were constructed These constructions envisaged how nationalities should see their imaginary common past and millions of people defined themselves according to them This book explains how and by whom these national histories were constructed and focuses on the crucial episode in the construction of national identities of Ukraine Azerbaijan and Kazakhstan from 1936 and 1945 A unique comparative study of three different case studies this book reveals different aims and methods of nation construction despite the existence of one party rule and a single overarching official ideology The study is based on work in the often overlooked archives in the Ukraine Azerbaijan and Kazakhstan By looking at different examples within the Soviet context the author contributes to and often challenges current scholarship on Soviet nationality policies and Stalinist nation building projects He also brings a new viewpoint to the debate on whether the Soviet period was a project of developmentalist modernization or merely a renewed Russian empire The book concludes that the local agents in the countries concerned had a sincere belief in socialism especially as a project of modernism and development and at the same time were strongly attached to their national identities Claiming that local communist party officials and historians played a leading role in the construction of national narratives this book will be of interest to historians and political scientists interested in the history of the Soviet Union and contemporary Eastern Europe the Caucasus and Central Asia
