Worlds in Collision Laurie Guy, 2002 The period from 1960 to 1986 was distinguished by the debate over decriminalization of sexual acts between males In the 1960s homosexual men faced prison sentences if they were sexually active and so they made themselves invisible By 1986 they were demanding their rights and the nation s attention This change had come after years of debate The New Zealand Homosexual Law Reform Society and the gay liberation movement actively sought reform Many within society actively opposed it and the issue became a catalyst for a significant rift in the churches Intense lobbying and vehement opposition marked the fifteen months before the Homosexual Law Reform Bill was passed in July 1986 Based on 22 interviews with important participants in the debates as well as extensive research in archives and published material Worlds in Collision is the first time this important story has been told It is a major contribution not only to the international literature on the history of homosexuality but also to our understanding of New Zealand society in the later twentieth century
