

evidence most of them came from the areas of European settlements and many of the patients, mostly plantation workers, had been immigrants to Usambara. The hospital, which was managed by the Bodelschwingschen Anstalten Bethel, remained relatively autonomous from the colonial government. The hospital had no impact on the debates and discussions among psychiatrists. In contrast to their French counterparts, German psychiatrists were not interested in setting up mental hospitals in the colonies. Diefenbacher thinks that this attitude derives from the opinions of the German psychiatrists that they already had a suitable field of activity in the large German cities and in the multi-ethnic state of Austria/Hungary. Diefenbacher's book is based on a careful and extensive study of primary sources in the archives of the Bodelschwingschen Anstalten in Bethel and in the Tanzanian national archives in Dar es Salaam.

However, the book is weak on theory and interpretation. The first part of the book, which deals with the history of psychiatry in the English and French colonies, is little more than a summary of a few selected publications. Apart from using terms like 'native' or 'tribe' frequently and without regard to their negative historical connotation, the author also betrays a casual attitude towards detail. Kishamba, for example, is not a 'local dialect' (p. 82), but a language. There are more articles on the healing practices of African peoples than those written by physicians. Having read the book, one is no clearer about the attitude of the African population towards European psychiatry. The author recognizes that European psychiatry was culture-bound but this recognition has not influenced the course of his research. Conflict or parallels between psychiatric treatment in Lutindi and traditional healing practices would have added to the book's interest—assuming, of course, that there were fewer mistakes of style, grammar, and spelling.

Francis M. Deng. Seed of Redemption: A Political Novel. New York: Lilian Barber Press, 1986. 304 pp. Hardbound. Price $17.95.

Professor Francis Deng is a seasoned Africanist. Lawyer by training, anthropologist by inclination and diplomat, teacher, and writer by profession, he has ably made his undeniable mark on recent Sudanese scholarship. To his already well-known works on politics, anthropology, law, and the oral tradition of his people, the Dinka, he now adds his first novel, Seed of Redemption.

The hero of this intriguing novel is Faris Khalifa, a Sudanese army officer and a great grandson of a southern woman who had been taken slave late in the nineteenth century and spent the rest of her life in the North. His father was from Dar Fur in Western Sudan, while one of his grandfathers was an Egyptian. In Faris's veins, therefore, runs as much African blood as Arab. Culturally he is the personification of the Sudanese society; the natural product of centuries of intermarriage, intermixing, and the cross-cultural interaction between Arabs and Africans that give the Sudanese people those distinctive characteristics of which they are proud. Because of his mixed heritage,

Seed Of Redemption A Political Novel:

Seed of Redemption Francis Mading Deng, 1986

Global Security Watch—Sudan Richard A. Lobban Jr., 2010-09-02

This book provides an overview of contemporary issues in Sudan Africa's largest nation examining the country's history and current scene to help readers develop a deeper understanding of how much Sudan matters in today's world. With deep connections to the Sahel and savanna to the west, the African world to the south, the Horn of Africa to the east, and the Middle East to the north, Sudan is important strategically, legally, geopolitically, and militarily but too often overlooked or underestimated. Sudan, the country of residence of Osama bin Laden for six years, has played and will continue to play a significant role in worldwide security matters. An analysis of the causes, resolutions, and implications of the ongoing Sudanese conflicts, including the genocide in Darfur, this book is essential reading for policymakers, researchers, and students alike. This book considers Sudan's historical foundations, examining how the agendas of countries to the south, east, and north have influenced Sudan's people and government. The author also explains the origins and context of the Darfur conflict, laying out possible steps toward a resolution. Questions concerning Sudanese oil: where is it, how much is there, to whom does it belong, help focus any discussion of Sudan's emerging importance in the contemporary world. Other issues such as the influence of Islamism or the Sudanese activities of the Arab League, China, or the African Union underline the uncertainties that confront the people of Sudan today.

African Literatures in English Gareth Griffiths, 2014-09-19 Here is an introduction to the history of English writing from East and West Africa, drawing on a range of texts from the slave diaspora to the post-war upsurge in African English language and literature from these regions.

Islam, Sectarianism, and Politics in Sudan Since the Mahdiyya Gabriel Warburg, 2003 Gabriel Warburg contends that efforts in Sudan to enforce an Islamic state and an Islamic constitution on a multi-religious and multi-ethnic society have led to prolonged civil war, endless military coups, and political, social, and economic bankruptcy. He analyzes the history of Sudan's Islamic politics to illuminate current conflicts in the region. The revolt in 1881 was led by a Mahdi who came to renew and purify Islam. It was in effect an uprising against a corrupt Islamic regime, the largely alien Turco-Egyptian ruling elite. The Mahdiyya was therefore an anti-colonial movement seeking to liberate Sudan from alien rule and to unify the Muslim Umma, and it later evolved into the first expression of Sudanese nationalism and statehood. Post-independence Islamic radicalism in turn can be viewed against the background of the Anglo-Egyptian Condominium, 1899-1956. It also thrived as a result of the resurgence of Islam since the mid-1960s when Nasserism and other popular ideologies were swept aside. Finally, Sudan has emerged as the center of militancy in Sunni Islam since June 1989 when a group of radical Islamic officers, under the guidance of Dr. Hassan al-Turabi and the NIF, assumed power.
