Twitchell,2014-04-08 In Winnebago Nation popular critic James B Twitchell takes a light hearted look at the culture and industry behind the yearning to spend the night in one s car For the young the roadtrip is a coming of age ceremony for those later in life it is the realization of a lifelong desire to be spontaneous nomadic and free Informed by his own experiences on the road Twitchell recounts the RV s origins and evolution over the twentieth century its rise fall and rebirth as a cultural icon its growing mechanical complexity as it evolved from an estate wagon to a converted bus to a mobile home and its role in bolstering and challenging conceptions of American identity Mechanical yet dreamy independent yet needful solitary yet clubby adventurous yet homebound life in a mobile home is a distillation of the American character and an important embodiment of American exceptionalism Richie Rich and Hobo Hank spend time in essentially the same rig at the same campground albeit for different reasons and in different levels of comfort The frontier may be tapped out but we still yearn for the exploratory life Twitchell concludes with his thoughts on the future of RV communities and the possibility of mobile cities becoming a real part of the American landscape

Caravans Hege Høyer Leivestad,2018-03-08 In Caravans Hege Høyer Leivestad opens the caravan door to understand how daily life is organised among Britons and Swedes who have relocated either seasonally or permanently to mobile homes Leivestad investigates how the caravan and campsite come to fit and challenge conventional domestic ideals and how the static mobile caravan can nurture ideas of freedom even when it is standing still With sensitivity and an awareness of the humour and pathos of the lives of her subjects Leivestad closely examines the shaping of the European camping phenomenon and its day to day pleasures and pains ranging from friendships ties to conflictive bingo nights from nosy and noisy neighbours to fake fireplaces and rotten awning floors As the first ethnographic study of caravan life in Europe Caravans offers a refreshing take on contemporary mobility debates showing how movement can best be understood by taking a detailed look at certain specific mundanities in material culture This rich and topical ethnography is a must read for students of anthropology human geography and architecture and for those with an interest in the possibilities and perils of a life on wheels
