Potter, 2016-06-28 One thinks of the arts in Nazi Germany as struggling in an oppressive system yet evidence has repeatedly shown that conditions were far more favourable than we assume Potter conducts a historiography of Nazi arts examining writings from the last seven decades to demonstrate how historical moral and intellectual conditions have sustained a distorted characterization of cultural life in the Third Reich Showing how past research has revealed the decentralized nature of Nazi arts policies Potter argues that the insulation of academic disciplines allowed outdated presumptions about Nazi micromanagement of the arts to persist Berlin! Participation in Art and Architecture Martino Stierli, Mechtild Widrich, 2015-10-16 Does participatory art and architecture shape social reality or is it shaped by it Shifting the ground of this debate which tends to assume one or other direction of influence this innovative book explores the inherently dialectic relationship between society and the built environment At the same time it strives for a historically conscious discussion of a very contemporary issue Chapters rethink the top down model of participation and audience activation of high modernism from Alexander Dorner s immersive museum to Mies van der Rohe s room s for play investigate participation in spaces under political pressure from exhibitions in bombed out buildings in besieged Sarajevo 1992 5 to the art and organizing of revolution in Egypt 2012 13 draw historical parallels between modes of participation and the exercise of power that are seldom compared with one another from sites of occupation in 1968 Mexico and 2011 Spain finally creating links between cartography and feminism and between tourism and internet surveillance With these juxtapositions of the aesthetic and the everyday and the built and the mediated new questions arise is space formed once and for all or is it the changeable product of changeable patterns of use Does the aesthetic always correspond to the political or might an aesthetically authoritarian space be conducive to social justice In exploring these questions this book looks at how participants themselves exert power rather than being victimised or liberated from it Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Deutsche Nationalbibliographie und Bibliographie der im Ausland erschienenen deutschsprachigen Veröffentlichungen ,2008 Comics of the New Europe Martha Kuhlman, José Alaniz, 2020-04-21 Bringing together the work of an array of North American and European scholars this collection highlights a previously unexamined area within global comics studies It analyses comics from countries formerly behind the Iron Curtain like East Germany Poland Czech Republic Hungary Romania Yugoslavia and Ukraine given their shared history of WWII and communism In addition to situating these graphic narratives in their national and subnational contexts Comics of the New Europe pays particular attention to transnational connections along the common themes of nostalgia memoir and life under communism The essays offer insights into a new generation of European cartoonists that looks forward inspired and informed by traditions from Franco Belgian and American comics and back as they use the medium of comics to reexamine and reevaluate not only their national pasts and respective comics traditions but also their own post 1989 identities and experiences Towards More Democracy in Social Services Gaby Flösser, Hans-Uwe Otto, 2011-10-13 No detailed description available for Towards More Democracy in Social Services Fodor's Berlin's 25 Best, 7th Edition Fodor's, 2010-12-28 Parallel Public Sara Blaylock, 2022-03-01 How East German artists made their country's experimental art scene a form of counter public life Experimental artists in the final years of the German Democratic Republic did not practice their art in the shadows on the margins hiding away from the Stasi's prying eyes In fact as Sara Blaylock shows many cultivated a critical influence over the very bureaucracies meant to keep them in line undermining state authority through forthright rather than covert projects In Parallel Public Blaylock describes how some East German artists made their country's experimental art scene a form of counter public life creating an alternative to the crumbling collective underpinnings of the state Blaylock examines the work of artists who used body based practices including performance film and photography to create new vocabularies of representation sharing their projects through independent networks of dissemination and display From the collective films and fashion shows of Erfurt's Women Artists Group which fused art with feminist political action to Gino Hahnemann the queer filmmaker and poet who set nudes alight in city parks these creators were as bold in their ventures as they were indifferent to state power Parallel Public is the first work of its kind on experimental art in East Germany to be written in English Blaylock draws on extensive interviews with artists art historians and organizers artist made publications official reports from the Union of Fine Artists and Stasi surveillance records As she recounts the role culture played in the GDR's rapid decline she reveals East German artists as dissenters and witnesses citizens and agents their work both antidote to and diagnosis of a weakening state History of International

Pevsner: The Complete Broadcast Talks Mr Stephen Games, 2014-05-30 This book brings together the surviving texts of the 113 talks on art and architecture that we know of given by the art historian Sir Nikolaus Pevsner on radio and television over a 37 year period between 1945 1977 These talks are important as an example of the attempt by the BBC in particular to provide intellectual programming for the mass population The talks are important for what they reveal about changing tastes in the treatment of the arts as a broadcast topic as well as offering a case study of the development of one particular historian s approach to a subject that was gaining ground in universities as a direct result of his popularisation of it

Landscapes of a New Cultural Economy of Space Theano S. Terkenli, Anne-Marie d'Hauteserre, 2006-07-13 Making sense of new cultural economies it is argued needs consistent attention to the resonances of individual lives Otherwise a discussion of cultural economies remains suspended in a detached virtualism Miller 2000 The idea of the remaking of geographies and cultural economies remains necessarily a consistent search to make the subject dynamic in its resonance with the contemporary world In recent debates concerning the reframing of the cultural economies of geography there is an evidence of increasing acknowledgement of the overlooked importance of subjectivities within geographical explanation This has often been difficult when trying to attend to the large scale apparent dynamics of change The shift of geographies to focus upon cultural economies combines two profound threads that inform this chapter the acknowledgement of the breadth and inclusivity of what economies are and the refusal mutually to isolate the cultural and the economic Thus the economic becomes engaged and even framed in relation to the cultural and vice versa Such an appraisal makes more robust the limits of either or claims from these two grounding components of geographical thinking and its representation of the world These themes are sustained in different ways across the chapters of this book This chapter seeks to build a critical discourse concerning space embodied practice and lay knowledge It does this in order to address the mechanisms through which individuals are engaged in the processes of new cultural economies
