Gender & Women's Studies Librarian, 1999 Contemporary American Women Fiction Writers Laurie Champion, Rhonda Austin, 2002-11-30 American women writers have long been creating an extraordinarily diverse and vital body of fiction particularly in the decades since World War II Recent authors have benefited from the struggles of their predecessors who broke through barriers that denied women opportunities for self expression This reference highlights American women writers who continue to build upon the formerly male dominated canon Included are alphabetically arranged entries for more than 60 American women writers of diverse ethnicity who wrote or published their most significant fiction after World War II Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes L DBLA brief biography L DBLA discussion of major works and themes DBLA survey of the writer's critical reception L DBLA bibliography of primary and secondary sources Kliatt Young Adult Paperback Book Guide, 1993 Constructing the Eighties Walter Grünzweig, Roberta Maierhofer, Adolf Wimmer, 1992

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1992-10 Assessing and Correcting Reading and Writing Difficulties Thomas G. Gunning, 2002 This text provides numerous examples and thorough coverage of procedures for assessing and instructing struggling readers of all ages In keeping with current theory the text emphasizes prevention and early intervention It is based on the premise that student performance is variable and that assessment and instruction are planned and modified to meet the varied needs and levels of students Gunning does not subscribe to a medical model that emphasizes deficiencies but rather focuses on what students can do This text calls for inclusion not exclusion but recognizes that struggling learners need expert carefully planned assessment and instruction Assessment coverage includes a grounding in basic concepts of tests and measurement While formal standardized measures are described emphasis is placed upon informal but highly regarded techniques such as the informal reading inventory miscue analysis running records observation think alouds holistic scoring of writing and portfolio assessment In addition to chapters devoted specifically to assessment ways to connect assessment and instruction are mentioned throughout the text Coverage of instructional techniques is thorough and practical Nine chapters are devoted to instructional techniques I Know What the Red Clay Looks Like Rebecca Carroll, 2024-12-03 Thirty years after its original publication this newly imagined edition brings the work and musings of fifteen Black literary luminaries in conversation with a new generation of writers and readers The first edition of I Know What the Red Clay Looks Like published in 1994 remains an essential text for readers of Black feminist literature in all genres Featuring interviews with and excerpts by writers like Rita Dove Pearl Cleage Barbara Neely June Jordan and others this indispensable work speaks to the intersections of politics and art making along the lines of race gender sexuality and class Now writer and cultural critic Rebecca Carroll presents the original conversations alongside personalized introductions by some of the brightest voices in today's literary world including Donika Kelly Safiya Sinclair Diamond Sharp and Chanda Prescod Weinstein among others This new edition also includes an introductory poem by Morgan Parker a foreword by Salamishah Tillet and a new author's note The new contributors carry the torch of the original interviewees lives and words with heart rigor gratitude and radical imagination illuminating how these conversations are about more than just writing they are about life relationships joy gratitude wellness and self preservation I Know What the Red Clay Looks Like is a book unbound by time lifting up a chorus of past and present voices Paying homage to a historic lineage of Black feminist writers and their impact on our current literary landscape it is a book by and for the storytellers the poets the playwrights the dreamers and all readers interested in what it means to make art within and from marginalized spaces Library Journal, 1992

Traces Of A Stream Jacqueline Jones Royster, 2000-04-15 Traces of a Stream offers a unique scholarly perspective that merges interests in rhetorical and literacy studies United States social and political theory and African American women writers Focusing on elite nineteenth century African American women who formed a new class of women well positioned to use language with consequence Royster uses interdisciplinary perspectives literature history feminist studies African American studies psychology art sociology economics to present a well textured rhetorical analysis of the literate practices of these women With a shift in educational opportunity after the Civil War African American women gained access to higher education and received formal training in rhetoric and writing By the end of the nineteenth century significant numbers of African American women operated actively in many public arenas In her study Royster acknowledges the persistence of disempowering forces in the lives of African American women and their equal perseverance against these forces Amid these conditions Royster views the acquisition of literacy as a dynamic moment for African American women not only in terms of their use of written language to satisfy their general needs for agency and authority but also to fulfill socio political purposes as well Traces of a Stream is a showcase for nineteenth century African American women and particularly elite women as a group of writers who are currently underrepresented in rhetorical scholarship Royster has formulated both an analytical theory and an ideological perspective that are useful in gaining a more generative understanding of literate practices as a whole and the practices of African American women in particular Royster tells a tale of rhetorical prowess calling for alternative ways of seeing reading and rendering scholarship as she seeks to establish a more suitable place for the contributions and achievements of African American women writers Female Subjects in Black and White Elizabeth Abel, Barbara Christian, Helene Moglen, 2023-09-01 This landmark collaboration between African American and white feminists goes to the heart of problems that have troubled feminist thinking for decades Putting the racial dynamics of feminist interpretation center stage these essays question such issues as the primacy of sexual difference the universal nature of psychoanalytic categories and the role of race in the formation of identity They offer new ways of approaching African American texts and reframe our thinking about the contexts discourses and traditions of the American cultural landscape Calling for the racialization of whiteness and claiming that psychoanalytic theory should make room for competing discourses of spirituality and diasporic consciousness these essays give shape to the many stubborn incompatibilities as well as the transformative possibilities between white feminist and African American cultural formations Bringing into conversation a range of psychoanalytic feminist and African derived spiritual perspectives these essays enact an inclusive politics of reading Often explosive and always provocative Female Subjects in Black and White models a new cross racial feminism This landmark collaboration between African American and white feminists goes to the heart of problems that have troubled feminist thinking for decades Putting the racial dynamics of feminist interpretation center stage these essays question such issues

Alice Walker Maria Lauret, 2011-02-01 Alice Walker Pulitzer Prize winning author of The Color Purple is one of America's major and most prolific writers She is also among its most controversial How has Walker's work developed over the last forty years Why has it often provoked extreme reactions Does Walker's cultural political and spiritual activism enhance or distort her fiction Where does she belong in the evolving tradition of African American literature Alice Walker second edition examines the full range of Walker's prose writings her novels short stories essays activist writings speeches and memoirs has been thoroughly revised in the light of the latest scholarship and critical developments brings coverage of Walker's work right up to date with a new chapter on Now is the Time to Open Your Heart 2004 and discussion of her recent non fictional writing including Overcoming Speechlessness 2010 traces Walker's lineage back to nineteenth century visionary black women preachers and activists assesses Walker's prose oeuvre both in terms of its literary and its activist merits and shortcomings Ideal for students and scholars alike this established text remains an essential guide to the work of a key US author as it explains her unique place in contemporary American letters

The World Has Changed Alice Walker, 2010-04-20 The National Book Award and Pulitzer Prize winning author's fascinating and far reaching conversations with acclaimed writers and thought leaders Spanning more than three decades this collection of fascinating discussions between Alice Walker and renowned writers leaders and teachers explores the changes that Walker has experienced in the world as well as the change she herself has brought to it Compelling literary and cultural figures such as Gloria Steinem Pema Chodron and Howard Zinn represent a different stage in Walker's artistic and spiritual development Yet they also offer an unprecedented look at her career and political growth Noted literary scholar Rudolph Byrd sets Walker's work into context with an introductory essay as well as with a comprehensive annotated bibliography of her writings Read as separate pieces these conversations offer vivid glimpses of Walker's energetic personality Taken together they offer a sense of her marvelous engagement with her world Kirkus Reviews

The Author's Presence in the Select Fictional Elements of Osamu

Dazai's No Longer Human Louren Jay Caballero; Christia Mae Rodriguez; Mark Paul Famat, 2023-03-16 A footprint of reality dwells in every pen a writer holds Whenever it inks from one page to the next it is inevitable for him to contribute a piece of himself to the narrative The resemblance stays uncanny to the writer who writes from the heart and unconsciously reveals himself in his work This research paper wanders beyond the walls of fiction as it exposes the reality of the dark life of the author evident in every flip of his book every plot in motion every character in conflict and every milieu in sight

Liberating Narratives Stefanie Sievers, 1999 Three contemporary novels of slavery Margaret Walker's Jubilee 1966 Sherley Anne Williams's Dessa Rose 1986 and Toni Morrison's Beloved 1987 are the central focus of Liberating Narratives In significantly different ways that reflect their individual and socio political contexts of origin these three novels can all be read as critiques of historical representation and as alternative spaces for remembrance sites of memory that attempt to shift the conceptual ground on which our knowledge of the past is based

The Rags of Time Maureen Howard, 2009-10-15 The magnificent conclusion of Maureen Howard's ambitious quartet of novels Maureen Howard is one of America's most esteemed authors beloved both for the lyricism of her writing and her dazzling intellect The Rags of Time is a moving meditation on memory and imagination that in its interplay of history politics art and life explores the very necessity of telling stories Focusing on a New York writer with an ailing heart as she reviews her own history and the lives she imagined in her fiction the novel interlaces the sorrows and consolations of private moments with the undeniable memory of the public record The result is nothing less than a deeply profound exploration of American life

Consequences of Phenomenology Don Ihde, 1986-01-01 Echoing Richard Rorty's earlier Consequences of Pragmatism this collection begins with an essay on Phenomenology in America 1964 1984 and concludes with a Response to Rorty or Is Phenomenology Edifying In between the differences in the philosophical habits and practice of Anglo American and Euro American philosophers are examined and a reformulated non foundational phenomenology is sketched as a new direction responsive to the current situation in American philosophy Don Ihde considers perception technics and contemporary Continental thinkers such as Jacques Derrida Hans Georg Gadamer Michel Foucault Ortega y Gasset and Paul Ricoeur
