Shards Of Memory:

Shards of Memory Ruth Prawer Jhabvala, 1995 The saga of an Indian family transplanted to Europe and America It begins with the great grandfather a merchant who emigrated to New York and spent his life writing nostalgic poetry on India A tale of East and West the nuances of social conventions and the immigrant's sense of detached belonging

Gender and Memory Luisa Passerini, 2017-07-12 Gender and Memory brings together contributions from around the world and from a range of disciplines history and sociology socio linguistics and family therapy literature to create a volume that confronts all those concerned with autobiographical testimony and narrative both spoken and written The fundamental theme is the shaping of memory by gender This paperback edition includes a new introduction by Selma Leydesdorff coeditor of the Memory and Narrative series of which this volume is a part Are the different ways in which men and women are recalled in public and private memory and the differences in men's and women's own memories of similar experiences simply reflections of unequal lives in gendered societies or are they more deeply rooted The sharply differentiated life experiences of men and women in most human societies the widespread tendencies for men to dominate in the public sphere and for women's lives to focus on family and household suggest that these experiences may be reflected in different qualities of memory The contributors maintain that memories are gendered and that the gendering of memory makes a strong impact on the shaping of social spaces and expressive forms as the horizons of memory move from one generation to the next They argue that in order to understand how memory becomes gendered we need to travel through the realms of gendered experience and gendered language

Excavating the Memory Palace Seth Long, 2021-01-04 With the prevalence of smartphones massive data storage and search engines we might think of today as the height of the information age In reality every era has faced its own challenges of storing organizing and accessing information While they lacked digital devices our ancestors when faced with information overload utilized some of the same techniques that underlie our modern interfaces they visualized and spatialized data tying it to the emotional and sensory spaces of memory thereby turning their minds into a visual interface for accessing information In Excavating the Memory Palace Seth David Long mines the history of Europe's arts of memory to find the origins of today's data visualizations unearthing how ancient constructions of cognitive pathways paved the way for modern technological interfaces Looking to techniques like the memory palace he finds the ways that information has been tied to sensory and visual experience turning raw data into lucid knowledge From the icons of smart phone screens to massive network graphs Long shows us the ancestry of the cyberscape and unveils the history of memory as a creative act

Telling Stories Jacqueline Bardolph, André Viola, Jean-Pierre Durix, 2001 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe

Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research

Transcultural Memory and Globalised Modernity in Contemporary Indo-English Novels Nadia Butt, 2015-09-14

This book places transcultural memory in the South Asian cultural and literary context Divided into two parts the book first defines transcultural memory in the age of globalised modernity both as a theory and social practice Then it examines contemporary Indo English novels from India and Pakistan with the theoretical and methodological tool of transcultural memory to shed new light on the connection between memory and modernity and memory and South Asian cultures in the wake of new social and political transformations on the Indian subcontinent A special focus on commemorative tropes in the novels not only show the possibility of a dialogue with different versions of the past but also how such a dialogue shapes processes of remembrance between and beyond borders Hence the book comes up with alternative ways of reading the Indo English novels divesting the concept of trans cultural memory from its Euro centrism and claiming it as equally significant in comprehending the new configurations of memory and modernity in non Western locations Place and Memory in the

Singing Crane Garden Vera Schwarcz, 2014-11-05 The Singing Crane Garden in northwest Beijing has a history dense with classical artistic vision educational experimentation political struggle and tragic suffering Built by the Manchu prince Mianyu in the mid nineteenth century the garden was intended to serve as a refuge from the clutter of daily life near the Forbidden City In 1860 during the Anglo French war in China the garden was destroyed One hundred years later in the 1960s the garden served as the ox pens where dissident university professors were imprisoned during the Cultural Revolution Peaceful Western involvement began in 1986 when ground was broken for the Arthur Sackler Museum of Art and Archaeology Completed in 1993 the museum and the Jillian Sackler Sculpture Garden stand on the same grounds today In Place and Memory in the Singing Crane Garden Vera Schwarcz gives voice to this richly layered corner of China's cultural landscape Drawing upon a range of sources from poetry to painting Schwarcz retells the garden's complex history in her own poetic and personal voice In her exploration of cultural survival trauma memory and place she reveals how the garden becomes a vehicle for reflection about history and language Encyclopedic in conception and artistic in execution Place and Memory in the Singing Crane Garden is a powerful work that shows how memory and ruins can revive the spirit of individuals and cultures alike The Memory Act Chinedu Nnadi, 2025-08-28 After a wave of mass shootings shatters the nation the U S government promises salvation through control The Memory Act hailed as the dawn of a safer future forces every citizen to undergo memory scans and neural implants designed to suppress violent impulses Crime plummets Politicians boast of peace Corporations thrive on the new technology But safety comes at a price The scans do more than monitor they predict Anyone flagged as pre violent is detained reprogrammed or erased Thought itself has become a crime For Clara Hensley a quiet small town librarian the nightmare begins during a routine scan Labeled Category Red she is accused of harboring violent potential based on fleeting memories she can barely recall Overnight Clara s ordinary life collapses Federal agents give her a choice disappear into rehabilitation or surrender her mind to permanent rewiring Instead Clara runs In a nation where every corner is surveilled and every secret thought can be exposed she becomes a fugitive But as she slips into the shadows she discovers she is not alone An underground network of dissidents writers whistleblowers and falsely accused rebels believes the Memory Act is not protection but tyranny Together they fight to reclaim what has been stolen the right to think freely Hunted by agents betrayed by neighbors and haunted by the question of whether her darkest impulses are real Clara must decide stay hidden and survive or risk everything to ignite resistance Because in a world where every memory is monitored freedom itself is the most dangerous crime

Systems for Big Graph Analytics Da Yan, Yuanyuan Tian, James Cheng, 2017-05-31 There has been a surging interest in developing systems for analyzing big graphs generated by real applications such as online social networks and knowledge graphs This book aims to help readers get familiar with the computation models of various graph processing systems with minimal time investment This book is organized into three parts addressing three popular computation models for big graph analytics think like a vertex think like a graph and think like a matrix While vertex centric systems have gained great popularity the latter two models are currently being actively studied to solve graph problems that cannot be efficiently solved in vertex centric model and are the promising next generation models for big graph analytics For each part the authors introduce the state of the art systems emphasizing on both their technical novelties and hands on experiences of using them The systems introduced include Giraph Pregel Blogel GraphLab CraphChi X Stream Quegel SystemML etc Readers will learn how to design graph algorithms in various graph analytics systems and how to choose the most appropriate system for a particular application at hand The target audience for this book include beginners who are interested in using a big graph analytics system and students researchers and practitioners who would like to build their own graph analytics systems with new features

Memory Mary Nooter Roberts, Allen F. Roberts, 1996 In conjunction with an exhibition presented by the Museum for African Art New York 2 february 8 september 1996 Mapping Memory Kaitlin M. Murphy, 2018-10-02 In Mapping Memory Kaitlin M Murphy investigates the use of memory as a means of contemporary sociopolitical intervention Mapping Memory focuses specifically on visual case studies including documentary film photography performance new media and physical places of memory from sites ranging from the Southern Cone to Central America and the U S Mexican borderlands Murphy develops new frameworks for analyzing how visual culture performs as an embodied agent of memory and witnessing arguing that visibility is inherently performative By analyzing the performative elements or strategies of visual texts such as embodiment reenactment haunting and the performance of material objects and places Murphy elucidates how memory is both anchored in and extracted from specific bodies objects and places Drawing together diverse theoretical strands Murphy originates the theory of memory mapping which tends to the ways in which memory is strategically deployed in order to challenge official narratives that often neglect or designate as transgressive certain memories or experiences Ultimately Murphy argues memory mapping is a visual strategy to ask and to challenge why certain lives are rendered visible and thus grievable and others not
