De Neui, 2012-06-01 What happens when an expatriate missionary is thrust into a context where the standard of living is so divergent that perceived or actual wealth suddenly becomes the strongest draw of attraction What actual message is communicated through the wordless witness of the Western Christian missionary lifestyle Is attention to so called good news now so financially focused that other foundational issues become overshadowed This issue becomes even more complicated when the missionary arrives clueless about personal privilege ignorant of the envy of others and carries the mistaken attitude that others think similarly SEANET proudly presents Complexities of Money and Missions in Asia for all who are asking such questions From seven different indigenous and expatriate perspectives this volume deals with the perceptions of money specifically from those seeking to serve obediently in the Buddhist contexts of Asia SEANET serves as a networking forum wherein groups and individuals can meet to reflect and strategize together on topics particular to their collective mission SEANET does not promote one particular strategy or one particular theology but seeks to learn from models of hope that show what God is doing around the world Each year the annual SEANET conference brings together over one hundred and fifty practitioners who are privileged to live and serve throughout the Buddhist world The chapters of this volume represent seven of those voices from the network

Suffering Paul H. De Neui, 2011-02-03 What is dukkha In Buddhism this word encompasses the concepts of dis ease unsteadiness sorrow and lack of inner calm In English it is usually translated simply as suffering However it is defined dukkha is central to understanding Buddhism The Buddha described not only what it was but taught that there is a way out of it Suffering is an undeniable theme in both Christianity and Buddhism Both treat the topic with great intensity Buddha taught that suffering was inherent to the mortal condition Christ was born into a life of suffering and called disciples to follow him in this path Through enlightenment Buddha pointed to a way out of suffering Through his death Christ suffered once for all Both groups experience suffering but often talk about it from completely different starting points Are there insights from each perspective that can inform the other We believe so Suffering Christian Reflections on the Buddhist Dukkha is a collection of articles by Western and non Western Christ followers for those who want to delve deeper into one important aspect of Buddhist worldview It is written for the practitioner privileged to live and serve in the Buddhist context This book is also for the Buddhist seeking to understand the Christian perspective on existence in today s world where suffering is our ever present reality

Emerging Faith Paul H. De Neui, 2020-01-05 Mistakes are inevitable but repeating them isn't In non Western contexts Christianity has often been viewed as the religion of foreigners with a hidden political agenda Sharing the gospel in non imperialistic ways can be challenging particularly in Asia Every location to which God calls his messengers has its own rich history that should be shared with gospel workers and local people Those desiring to serve interculturally must learn as much as possible about the past before joining that history Are we learning from the past or are we simply repeating the same mistakes in our own times and places No culture in the world is a blank slate rather we can look for the initiating inviting work of the missio Dei already emerging from within every surprising source This book showcases the writings of sixteen reflective practitioners who offer insights based on their study and experience of history These women and men come from a wide variety of cultural and theological backgrounds Their stories include An American who brought Protestant Buddhism to Sri Lanka A Norwegian Lutheran who started a Christian monastic community in Hong Kong A local scholar who led a faith movement in China that nearly overthrew the government A Thai villager who became an evangelist and a silent film star Highlighting key people and places Emerging Faith surveys several Christian movements found in the mission history of Asia If you wish to challenge your thinking and respond to God's invitation to participate in the global context look here for encouragement and guidance

Family and Faith in Asia Paul H. De Neui, 2010-06-01

If Christian mission in Asia and most of the non Western world is ever to advance it must seriously consider the importance of family networks Far too long the strategy of a one by one approach has stifled the spread of the gospel reinforced a highly individualized unbiblical theology and destroyed social relationships that might lead to conversation conversion and social transformation With this concern in mind SEANET is proud to present another volume in its series addressing critical missiological issues relevant to the practice of mission in Buddhist Asian and many other contexts Our title Family and Faith in Asia The Missional Impact of Extended Networks attempts to issue a wake up call to serious reflection on a highly ignored social reality in Buddhist and many other social contexts The book is a resource useful for anyone wishing to study practical approaches to issues related to family and faith in Asia particularly in Buddhist contexts for mission
