Esterik,2015-03-01 The recovered possess the key to overcoming anorexia Although individual sufferers do not know how the affliction takes hold piecing their stories together reveals two accidental afflictions One is that activity disorders dieting exercising healthy eating start as virtuous practices but become addictive obsessions The other affliction is a developmental disorder which also starts with the virtuous those eager for challenge and change But these overachievers who seek self improvement get a distorted life instead Knowing anorexia from inside the recovered offer two watchwords on helping those who suffer One is negotiate to encourage compromise which can aid recovery where coercion fails The other is balance for the ill to pursue mind with body activities to defuse mind over body battles Telling Rhythm Amittai F. Provides a postmodern theory of poetry that sees rhythm as its essential quality Intermediate Light Robert Alexander Houstoun,1925 Aristotle's Gynecology Mariska Leunissen,2025 In Aristotle's Gynecology Mariska Leunissen examines Aristotle's methods for the establishment of gynecological facts within his natural science arguing that many of the gynecological phenomena at stake such as menstruation and the nature of menstrual blood the role of female pleasure during sex and women's experiences of erotic dreams and their knowledge of conception and their experiences of false pregnancy and childbirth were mostly for socio cultural reasons not at all or not immediately accessible for a male natural scientific observer such as Aristotle Given this lack of immediate empirical evidence Aristotle employed alternative methods for the establishment of facts such as relying on signs and circumstantial empirical evidence or using analogical and probabilistic reasoning and relied heavily on existing expert reports such as mainly early medical sources but also sometimes verbal reports from women themselves Moreover Aristotle used a secondary standard for testing the results of this inquiry namely one which he originally developed for investigations into physically remote meteorological and cosmological phenomena that are not apparent to observation and according to which statements of facts are credible if they are ontologically possible Leunissen thus reconstructs Aristotle's gynecology in the context of his commitments to empiricism and his scientific methods for the fact establishing phase of natural science and elucidates the role his concepts of evidence credibility and signs play in his natural scientific research However through its focus on Aristotle's use of gendered knowledge and his reconstruction of natural phenomena believed to be characteristic of women Leunissen's book also offers a glimpse of the lived experiences and reproductive beliefs of women in Ancient Greece Overcoming Worries About Body Image and

Late Medieval and Renaissance art was surprisingly pushy its architecture demanded that people move through it in prescribed patterns its sculptures played elaborate games alternating between concealment and revelation while its paintings charged viewers with imaginatively moving through them Viewers wanted to interact with artwork in emotional and or performative ways This inventive and personal interface between viewers and artists sometimes conflicted with the Church's prescribed devotional models and in some cases it complemented them Artists and patrons responded to the desire for both spontaneous and sanctioned interactions by creating original ways to amplify devotional experiences The authors included here study the provocation and the reactions associated with medieval and Renaissance art and architecture These essays trace the impetus towards interactivity from the points of view of their creators and those who used them Contributors include Mickey Abel Alfred Acres Kathleen Ashley Viola Belghaus Sarah Blick Erika Boeckeler Robert L A Clark Lloyd DeWitt Michelle Erhardt Megan H Foster Campbell Juan
