Parenthood A Psychodynamic Perspective:

Parenthood Rebecca S. Cohen, Bertram J. Cohler, Sidney H. Weissman, 1984-04-23 Handbook of Parenting Marc H. Bornstein, 2019-02-01 This highly anticipated third edition of the Handbook of Parenting brings together an array of field leading experts who have worked in different ways toward understanding the many diverse aspects of parenting Contributors to the Handbook look to the most recent research and thinking to shed light on topics every parent professional and policymaker wonders about Parenting is a perennially hot topic After all everyone who has ever lived has been parented and the vast majority of people become parents themselves No wonder bookstores house shelves of how to parenting books and magazine racks in pharmacies and airports overflow with periodicals that feature parenting advice However almost none of these is evidence based The Handbook of Parenting is Period Each chapter has been written to be read and absorbed in a single sitting and includes historical considerations of the topic a discussion of central issues and theory a review of classical and modern research and forecasts of future directions of theory and research Together the five volumes in the Handbook cover Children and Parenting the Biology and Ecology of Parenting Being and Becoming a Parent Social Conditions and Applied Parenting and the Practice of Parenting Volume 3 Being and Becoming a Parent considers a large cast of characters responsible for parenting each with her or his own customs and agenda and examines what the psychological characteristics and social interests of those individuals reveal about what parenting is Chapters in Part I on The Parent show just how rich and multifaceted is the constellation of children s caregivers Considered first are family systems and then successively mothers and fathers coparenting and gatekeeping between parents adolescent parenting grandparenting and single parenthood divorced and remarried parenting lesbian and gay parents and finally sibling caregivers and nonparental caregiving Parenting also draws on transient and enduring physical personality and intellectual characteristics of the individual The chapters in Part II on Becoming and Being a Parent consider the intergenerational transmission of parenting parenting and contemporary reproductive technologies the transition to parenthood and stages of parental development and then chapters turn to parents well being emotions self efficacy cognitions and attributions as well as socialization personality in parenting and psychoanalytic theory These features of parents serve many functions they generate and shape parental practices mediate the effectiveness of parenting and help to organize parenting The Course of Gay and Lesbian Lives Bertram J. Cohler, Robert M. Galatzer-Levy, 2000-08 The authors argue that there is little support for assuming that homosexuality has a biological basis Recognizing the many pathways that lead to same gender sexual orientation the authors conclude that the cause is much less important than understanding the meaning of being homosexual Primary Love Randall S. Klein, 2010-06-05 In Primary Love Dr Klein describes love and intimacy as they evolve in the context of family relations from birth to maturity in adulthood Once the original attachment and the loving intimate bond between a mother and her infant child are established primary love is founded and secured Every relationship of love and intimacy formed thereafter has as its foundation nature and design the original pristine loving relationship encountered in the very earliest period of life When two adults form a mature intimate relationship it is the unconscious wish of both partners to recapture and claim the bliss and the ecstasy of primary love nestled securely in a mother's loving and ministering arms Dr Klein's view of love and intimacy is that which is found in the ideal marriage and family fully acknowledging that the pure and perfect marriage and family does not exist Yet the perfectly described nature of marriage and the family serves as an ideal toward which to strive for the ideal provides the ultimate of pleasure and reward in the human encounter of love

Parental Development Jack Demick, Krisanne Bursik, Rosemarie DiBiase, 2014-02-25 This volume seeks to identify and define the parameters of a relatively new problem area parental development Drawing on the grand developmental theories of Sigmund Freud Lawrence Kohlberg Jean Piaget Lev Vygotsky Heinz Werner and their descendants this book has the potential to generate an area of common concern for those interested in either child adolescent or adult development through the novel application of developmental principles and considerations to the ecological context of parenting To that end this volume brings together theory and research from the subfields of adult and child adolescent development Chapter authors place the problem area of parental development in theoretical context and examine selected psychological part processes implicated by focusing on cognitive and psychosocial development The authors then deal with a range of issues that are perhaps less traditional and or more in line with the complex character of everyday life That is they utilize either relatively novel comparison groups or treat parents at later stages of development rather than those in young adulthood as is often the case Finally the authors uncover both similarities and differences among their theoretical perspectives with an eye toward delineating some possible future research directions

Early Adolescence and the Search for Self Douglas Schave, Barbara Schave, 1989-06-23 This study achieves a new perspective to this very creative and volatile time of life The Schaves offer a better and more positive understanding of the developmental tasks of early adolescence and fully describes the states of mind the struggles of self differentiation and the coping styles used by this age group to protect against shame In addition they provide a systematic approach to treatment strategies techniques and problem solving with adolescents and their families This book is a trail blazer on many grounds It makes a contribution to the literature on adolescence by offering an entirely new and clinically highly relevant explanation to a period of life when rapid changes in psychic organization can turn the tide either toward a wholesome development or toward serious derailments and psychopathology Anna Ornstein The first book to focus specifically on early adolescence this study achieves a new perspective to this very creative and volatile time of life Drawing from their professional experience and their private practices the authors provide a stimulating integration of self psychology Piaget's cognitive developmental theory and affect theory They also elaborate on several important ideas presented in the revolutionary book The Interpersonal World of the Infant by Daniel N Stern This book offers a better and more positive understanding of the developmental tasks of early adolescence The authors consider the adolescent's search for self identity and self esteem a function of cognitive growth as well as affect attunement and self differentiation The cognitive and emotional search for selfhood further results in the development of defense mechanisms This book provides a completely different perspective for mental health professionals It fully describes the volatile states of mind the struggles of self differentiation and the coping styles used by this age group to protect against shame In addition it provides a systematic approach to treatment strategies techniques and problem solving with adolescents and their families Mental health professionals as well as parents of early adolescents will find Early Adolescence and the Search for Self a thought provoking study The reader is introduced to four main themes developed throughout this book The primary of affects and affect attunement from infancy through early adolescence the continued importance of parents in the development of self The distinct states of mind experienced by early adolescents and finally Adolescence as the period of consolidation of cognitive thinking

The Changing Family and Child Development Claudio Violato, Elizabeth Oddone-Paolucci, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This book is based on selected papers from a major international congress of the same name that was held at the University of Calgary in July 1997 The contributors come from Canada England Italy United States Hong Kong and New Zealand where they are researchers at major universities The papers are organized into four sections 1 Context of Families 2 Family Adjustment and Transitions 3 Child and Adolescent Development and Attachment The book sets out to bring together advanced research by psychologists social workers physicians sociologists and other social scientists on the interface between society the family children adolescents and other family members

Human Behavior in the Social Environment , The Spiritual Lives of Bereaved Parents Dennis Klass, 2013-11-12 This book describes how parents lose find or relocate spiritual anchors after the death of their child It describes how ordinary people reconstruct their lives after their foundations have shifted and how they make sense of their world after one of their centers of meaning has been removed Klass grounds his descriptions of spirituality in his scholarly study of comparative religions and in his two decades studying the lives of bereaved parents He argues that continuing bonds with their dead children can give parents a new transcendent reality Deceased children like saints or bodhisattvas can offer a bridge between the profane and sacred worlds support parents as they find meaning in a world made forever poorer and bind together a community adequate to parents grief The book reports Klass's clinical practice and his work as advisor to a bereaved parents self help support group

Relational Child Psychotherapy , 2010-03-30 The relational and the developmental point of view have never been brought together in an adequate way This up to date scholarly yet practical integration opens a new vista within relational psychoanalysis and pioneers a fresh approach in the psychoanalytic treatment of children and adolescents It is a work of great and lasting value to the field Peter Fonagy When the Bubble Bursts Eda Goldstein, 2013-05-13 There are common midlife events that account for the special narcissistic vulnerabilities of this period of life and Eda Goldstein ably reviews these events and the theoretical perspectives commonly brought to bear on them In When the Bubble Bursts however

Goldstein's special concern is those individuals who come to midlife with heightened narcissistic vulnerabilities that make the navigation of this stage of life more difficult still. In understanding the latter such patients and devising a treatment approach appropriate to their self issues Goldstein adopts a broadly self psychological frame of reference. It is a matter she finds again and again of understanding how current stressors frustrate healthy self needs and trigger narcissistic vulnerabilities. Self psychologically informed treatment which in Goldstein's pragmatic purview embraces modalities that are to varying degrees supportive psychodynamic and psychoanalytic reworks and strengthens self structures in helping patients find new ways of affirming their sense of self. Her substantive case studies which accompany the reader through all the chapters in her study draw on personal and supervisory experiences to illustrate crucial foci of the treatment process with a range of midlife patients in psychotherapy. Eda Goldstein presents a study that comprises an admirable blend of theoretical astuteness, clinical wisdom and personal honesty. Her clinical study of midlife narcissistic pathology is bracketed by her balanced discussion of theoretical perspectives on adult development and her concluding consideration of the countertransference issues elicited by midlife patients in midlife therapists. When the Bubble Bursts is an edifying contribution to the literatures of psychodynamic psychotherapy, self psychology and adult development. National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1985

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 32 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-05-13

Psychoanalysis and Women Volume 32 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis is a stunning reprise on theoretical, developmental and clinical issues that have engaged analysts from Freud on. It begins with clinical contributions by Joyce McDougall and Lynne Layton, two theorists at the forefront of clinical work with women. Jessica Benjamin, Julia Kristeva and Ethel Spector Person from their respective vantage points all engage the issue of passivity which Freud tended to equate with femininity. Employing a self psychological framework, Christine Kieffer returns to the Oedipus complex and sheds new light on the typically Pyrrhic oedipal victory of little girls. Section III broadens the historical context of contemporary theorizing about women by offering the personal reminiscences of Nancy Chodorow, Carol Gilligan, Brenda Solomon and Malkah Notman. A final section dedicated to women who shared psychoanalysis features historical essays on Ida Bauer, Freud's Dora, Anna Freud, Dorothy Burlingham, Edith Jacobson and Therese Benedek, along with Linda Hopkins's revealing interview of Marion Milner. Of special note is Marian Tolpin's examination of three women: Bauer, Helene Deutsch and Anna Freud, who helped shape Freud's notion of the female castration complex, and Elisabeth Young-Bruehl's exploration of how two women, Anna Freud and Dorothy Burlingham, developed parent-infant observation. Psychoanalysis and Women is an extraordinary chronicle of the distance traveled since Freud characterized women's sexual life as the dark continent. The contributors vitalize a half century of theory with the lessons of biography and they broaden clinical sensibilities by drawing on recent developmental, gender-related and socio-psychological research. In doing so they attest to the ongoing reconfiguration of Freud's dark continent and show the psychoanalytic psychology of women to be very much a revolution in progress. Human Behavior
