Cornell, Anne de Graaf, Trudi Newton, Moniek Thunnissen, 2018-05-08 Transactional Analysis TA has continued to grow and develop ever since its inception by the Canadian American psychiatrist Dr Eric Berne over a half century ago It has proven itself to be an extremely useful model for human relations professionals working in a variety of contexts and fields such as psychotherapy coaching and counselling management and organisational development or parenting and education TA combines an accessible theory on the development of people and systems with a practical approach centred on the possibilities of change growth and development Into TA is a comprehensive textbook of contemporary TA in theory and practice The first section of the book focusses on theory presented so that both beginning and experienced professionals will find much of value TA theory is then further integrated with other current models of psychology education and organisational consultation The second section provides rich and stimulating examples of TA in practice that bring the theory to life Emotional Regulation and Human Flourishing: Theoretical and Empirical Perspectives Claudia Navarini, Blaine Fowers, Juan Andrés Mercado, Angelo Panno, Pía Valenzuela, 2025-04-01 Several authors i e Scheler Arnold Goldie Keltner and Ekman agree that traditionally in the history of Western thought emotions have been seen as enemies of rationality and disruptive of cooperative social relations

However emotions guide our perceptions of the world our memories of the past and even our moral judgments of right and wrong most typically in ways that enable effective responses to the current situation For example studies find that when we are angry we are acutely attuned to what is unfair which helps animate actions that remedy injustice Emotions structure not just colour diverse social interactions such as attachment between parents and children flirtations and negotiations between rivals Thus emotions organize rather than disrupt rational thinking According to Arnold positive or negative we need to deal with emotions We need to think about them and what they tell us As Williams poses the moral significance of emotions reveals how fact and value come together in the moral agent Human beings capacity for ethics arises from the intersection between reason and emotion
