less familiar productions such as It The Terror from Beyond Space 1958 were regularly exported to countries across the world. The histories of their encounters with foreign audiences have not yet been told. Science Fiction Cinema and 1950s Britain begins this task by recounting the story of 1950s British cinema goers and the aliens and monsters they watched on the silver screen. Drawing on extensive archival research, Matthew Jones makes an exciting and important intervention by locating American science fiction films alongside their domestic counterparts in their British contexts of release and reception. He offers a radical reassessment of the genre, demonstrating for the first time that in Britain, which was a significant market for and producer of science fiction, these films gave voice to different fears than they did in America. While Americans experienced an economic boom, low immigration, and the conferring of statehood on Alaska and Hawaii, Britons worried about economic uncertainty, mass immigration, and the dissolution of the Empire. Science Fiction Cinema and 1950s Britain uses these and other differences between the British and American experiences of the 1950s to tell a new history of the decade's science fiction cinema, exploring for the first time the ways in which the genre came to mean something unique to Britons.

Jason Don Nardo, 2015-09-01 In the fabulous annals of ancient Greek mythology, few characters were as famous as Jason. He appears in several myths, but his most renowned deed was finding the Golden Fleece. That gleaming hide of a special magical ram long rested in Colchis, a remote land located on the Black Sea's northern coast. Jason and the men who accompanied him on his quest became known as the Argonauts. This was because their ship was the Argo, named after Argus, the man who built her. In the ancient Greeks' eyes, Jason's epic voyage to find the Fleece was a heroic act of the highest order. So he joined the ranks of the heroes, a small number of unusually brave and daring men celebrated in the Greek myths. They were larger than life individuals who took on tasks that most other people lacked the courage and skill to face. Heroes' deeds often had vital effects on human lives. Modern myth teller Philip Wilkinson writes, "They founded tribes and cities, killed monsters, and provided the necessities of life." In this retelling, author Don Nardo brings the magic of Jason to young readers.

The Many Lives of Cy Endfield Brian Neve, 2015-07-21 Cy Endfield (1914-1995) was a filmmaker. Try and Get Me Hell Drivers, Zulu, with interests in close-up, magic, science, and invention. The director of several distinctive Hollywood movies, he was blacklisted and refused to name names before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Prehistoric Humans in Film and Television Michael Klossner, 2015-01-09 From the early days of the movies, cavemen have been a popular subject for filmmakers, not surprisingly, since the birth of cinema occurred only a few decades after the earliest scientific studies of prehistoric man. Filmmakers, however, were not constrained by the emerging science; instead, they most often took a comedic look at prehistory, a trend that continued throughout the 20th century. Prehistoric humans also populated adventure fantasy films, with the original One Million B.C. (1940) leading the charge. Documentaries were also made, but it was not until the 1970s that accurate film accounts of prehistoric humans finally emerged. This exhaustive work provides detailed accounts of 581 film and television productions that feature depictions of human prehistory. Included are dramas and comedies set in human prehistory documentaries and films and television shows in which prehistoric people somehow exist in historical periods from the advent of civilization up to the present or in extraterrestrial settings Each entry includes full filmographic data including year of release running time production personnel cast information and format A description of each film provides background on the prehistoric elements Contemporary critical commentary is included for many of the works More Than Meets the Eye Robert John Rehak, 2018-03-13 Introduction Seeing past the state of the art That which survives design networks and blueprint culture between fandom and franchise Used universes and immaculate realities appropriation and authorship in the age of previz Chains of evidence augmented performance before and after the digital Microgenres in migration special effects and transmedia travel Conclusion The effects of special effects In Search of the Argonauts Helen Lovatt, 2021-07-15 Few classical stories are as exciting as that of Jason and the Golden Fleece The legend of the boy who discovers a new identity as son of a usurped king and leads a crew of demi gods and famous heroes has resonated through the ages rumbling like the clashing rocks which almost pulverised the Argo The myth and its reception inspires endless engagements while it tells of a quest to the ends of the earth of the tyrants Pelias and Aetes of dragons teeth of the loss of Hylas beloved of Hercules stolen away by nymphs and of Jason's seduction of the powerful witch Medea later betrayed for a more useful princess it speaks to us of more of gender and sexuality of heroism and lost integrity of powerful gods and terrifying monsters of identity and otherness of exploration and exploitation The Argonauts are emblems of collective heroism yet also of the emptiness of glory From Pindar to J W Waterhouse Apollonius of Rhodes to Ray Harryhausen and Robert Graves to Mary Zimmerman the Argonaut myth has produced later interpretations as rich salty and complex as the ancient versions Helen Lovatt here unravels like untangled sea kelp the diverse strands of the narrative and its numerous and fascinating afterlives Her book will prove both informative and endlessly entertaining to those who love classical literature and myth Historical Dictionary of Science Fiction Cinema M. Keith Booker, 2020-06-15 In the years since Georges Méliès's Le voyage dans la lune A Trip to the Moon was released in 1902 more than 1000 science fiction films have been made by filmmakers around the world The versatility of science fiction cinema has allowed it to expand into a variety of different markets appealing to age groups from small children to adults The technical advances in filmmaking technology have enabled a new sophistication in visual effects This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Science Fiction Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 400 cross referenced entries on important personalities films companies techniques themes and subgenres This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about science fiction cinema Film Stardom and the Ancient Past Michael Williams, 2018-01-13 This book offers the first comprehensive exploration of how the ancient past has shaped screen stardom in Hollywood since the silent era It engages with debates on historical reception gender and sexuality nostalgia authenticity and the uses of the past Michael Williams gives fresh insights into divinized stardom a highly influential and yet understudied phenomenon that predates Hollywood and continues into the digital age Case studies include Greta Garbo and Mata Hari 1931 Buster Crabbe and the 1930s Olympian body the marketing of Rita Hayworth as Venus in the 1940s sculpture and star performance in Oliver Stone's Alexander 2004 landscape and sexuality in Troy 2004 digital afterimages of stars such as Marilyn Monroe and the classical body in the contemporary ancient epic genre The author's richly layered archaeological approach uses detailed textual analysis and archival research to survey the use of the myth and iconography of ancient Greece and Rome in some of stardom's most popular and fascinating incarnations This interdisciplinary study will be significant for anyone interested in star studies film and cultural history and classical reception The A to Z of Animation and Cartoons Nichola Dobson, 2010-04-01
