Rekindling Democracy Cormac Russell, 2020-06-01 Finally a book that offers a practical yet well researched guide for practitioners seeking to hone the way they show up in citizen space At a time when public trust in institutions is at its lowest expectations of those institutions to make people well knowledgeable and secure are rapidly increasing These expectations are unrealistic causing disenchantment and disengagement among citizens and increasing levels of burnout among many professionals Rekindling Democracy is not just a practical guide it goes further in setting out a manifesto for a more equitable social contract to address these issues Rekindling Democracy argues convincingly that industrialized countries are suffering through a democratic inversion where the doctor is assumed to be the primary producer of health the teacher of education the police officer of safety and the politician of democracy Through just the right blend of storytelling research and original ideas Russell argues instead that in a functioning democracy the role of the professionals ought to be defined as that which happens after the important work of citizens is done The primary role of the twenty first century practitioner therefore is not a deliverer of top down services but a precipitator of more active citizenship and community building

Zones of Re-membering Don Gifford, 2011-03 Don Gifford in Zones of Re membering shows clearly thoughtfully yet entertainingly how no one explanation will account for the depth and complexity of human experience and its grounding in Memory Because consciousness is a function of Memory life without Memory is no life at all as Alzheimer s all too frequently demonstrates Both our individual and collective Memory is stored in the arts he contends which in turn provide a way of knowing and of nourishing Memory and consciousness Memory like language is never really stable or accurate but appears as narrative and these narratives collectively form our entire culture For Gifford the profoundest explorer of the human consciousness time and memory is James Joyce and in its range of reference wit and humanity the spirit of Joyce permeates this book

The Long Field Pamela Petro, 2023-08-15 For readers of H Is for Hawk an intimate memoir of belonging and loss and a mesmerizing travelogue through the landscapes and language of Wales Hiraeth is a Welsh word that's famously hard to translate Literally it can mean long field but generally translates into English inadequately as homesickness At heart hiraeth suggests something like a bone deep longing for an irretrievable place person or time an acute awareness of the presence of absence In The Long Field Pamela Petro braids essential hiraeth stories of Wales with tales from her own life as an American who found an ancient home in Wales as a gay woman as the survivor of a terrible AMTRAK train crash and as the daughter of a parent with dementia Through the pull and tangle of these stories and her travels throughout Wales hiraeth takes on radical new meanings There is traditional hiraeth of place and home but also queer hiraeth and hiraeth triggered by technology immigration ecological crises and our new divisive politics On this journey the notion begins to morph from a uniquely Welsh experience to a universal human condition from deep longing to the creative responses to loss that Petro sees as the genius of Welsh culture It becomes a tool to understand ourselves in our time A finalist for the Wales Book of the Year Award and named to the Telegraph's and Financial Times's Top 10 lists for travel writing The Long Field is an unforgettable exploration of the hidden contours of the human heart

Writing Home Glenn Morrison, 2017-01-30 Writing Home explores the literary representation of Australian places by those who have walked them In particular it examines how Aboriginal and settler narratives of walking have shaped portrayals of Australia's Red Centre and consequently ideas of nation and belonging Central Australia has long been characterised as a frontier the supposed divide between black and white ancient and modern But persistently representing it in this way is preventing Australians from reimagining this internationally significant region as home Writing Home argues that the frontier no longer adequately describes Central Australia and that the Aboriginal songlines make a significant but under acknowledged contribution to Australian discourses of hybridity belonging and home Drawing on anthropology cultural theory journalism politics and philosophy the book traces shifting perceptions of Australian place and space since precolonial
