and considers their effects on children and young people on relationships both in and out of school and on educational practices It undertakes a Foucauldian genealogy of the discourses of the self in education in order to scrutinise the focal points of experience for children and young people Part One of the book offers a critical analysis of the discourses of the self that operate within interventions of self esteem self concept self efficacy and self regulation and their incursions into education Part Two provides counter narratives of the self drawn principally from the arts and politics and providing alternative and potentially radical ways of when and how the self might speak It also articulates how teachers may support children and young people in giving voice to these counter narratives as they move through school
