Language Learner JoAnn Hammadou Sullivan, 2002-04-01 The field of second language learning research has grown rapidly in recent years. Educators have become increasingly aware that pedagogical knowledge varies significantly from one subject domain to the next and that findings from educational research in one domain are not necessarily applicable to the next. Researchers in second language learning are adding to our understandings of second language specific pedagogy. There exists a need therefore for an outlet for these ever improving understandings of this content specific pedagogy. The new book series Research in Second Language Learning will provide just such an outlet. The series invites articles from all methodological approaches to research. The series will promote a research based approach to the decision making process in second language teaching learning.

Reflective Language Teaching Thomas S. C. Farrell, 2018-09-06 Reflective Language Teaching: Practical Applications for TESOL Teachers is an extensively revised and updated second edition of the popular and accessible text Reflective Language Teaching: From Research to Practice originally published in 2008. This fully up to date second edition includes an expanded preface, updated case studies and new cases throughout that deal with new developments in language teaching and reflective practice, fully updated citations, three brand new chapters on online reflective practice and teaching young learners and a new final chapter on developing a culture of reflection. As in the first edition, this book outlines strategies for professional development through reflective practice in the language classroom. Accessible and comprehensive, the book presupposes no prior knowledge of linguistics or language teaching and each chapter includes reflective discussion questions to help the reader apply the strategies and procedures discussed.

Teaching English Through ELA, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies Long Peng, 2022-07-21 Accessible and hands on, this textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to teaching language through content, an approach known as Content Based Language Teaching (CBLT). A content based language focused approach to teaching in the disciplines is essential to serving the language and disciplinary needs of English learners (ELs) in the classroom. Guided by learning standards and informed by research, this book demonstrates how content materials in the English Language Arts (ELA), Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies can be harnessed to develop the English language proficiency of ELs as well as advance their disciplinary knowledge and skills. Using content materials in ELA, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies as a starting point, this textbook illustrates how to teach English as an additional language effectively by integrating language instruction with disciplinary teaching. It showcases numerous learning and instructional activities complete with targeted language exemplified in sentential and discourse contexts, direct instruction, teacher modeling, guided and individual practices, and assessments which are further backed up by detailed discussions of their goals, rationales, and implementation. This textbook also features a discussion of differentiation to address the varied needs of students. To further assist readers in determining how to incorporate language instruction, Peng identifies extensive possibilities for language teaching that are based on the same content materials and beyond those targeted by sample learning activities. Each chapter ends with three types of exercises multiple choice questions open ended discussion questions and problems of application to bolster understanding promote reflection and encourage application Complementing the book are additional online resources including ready to use PowerPoints which are available on the book's webpage at Routledge.com 9780367521134 Covering key issues such as characteristics of effective language instruction differentiation and the challenges associated with CBLT this is an essential text in TESOL methods and content area language teaching as well as an invaluable resource for pre-service and in-service ESL/EFL teachers and content area teachers who are interested in furthering their students' language and literacy development
