Lists of Books for a High School Student's Reading Lakewood High School (Lakewood, Ohio),1927      Reading Japan Cool John E. Ingulsrud,Kate Allen,2010-02-03 Japanese animation video games and manga have attracted fans around the world The characters the stories and the sensibilities that come out of these cultural products are together called Japan Cool This is not a sudden fad but is rooted in manga Japanese comics which since the mid 1940s have developed in an exponential way In spite of a gradual decline in readership manga still commands over a third of the publishing output The volume of manga works that is being produced and has been through history is enormous There are manga publications that attract readers of all ages and genders The diversity in content attracts readers well into adulthood Surveys on reading practices have found that almost all Japanese people read manga or have done so at some point in their lives The skills of reading manga are learned by readers themselves but learned in the context of other readers and in tandem with school learning Manga reading practices are sustained by the practices of other readers and manga content therefore serves as a topic of conversation for both families and friends Moreover manga is one of the largest sources of content for media production in film television and video games Manga literacy the practices of the readers the diversity of titles and the sheer number of works provide the basis for the movement recognized as Japan Cool Reading Japan Cool is directed at an audience of students of Japanese studies discourse analysts educators parents and manga readers      The Reading Report Card, 1971-88 Ina V. S. Mullis,Lynn Jenkins,National Assessment of Educational Progress (Project),1990 Intended to serve as a resource for the many and varied groups concerned with improving students reading proficiencies this report from the Nation s Report Card provides a long term perspective on students reading skills and strategies based on a series of five national assessments conducted from 1971 to 1988 Each chapter of the report provides a different perspective on trends in students reading abilities The first chapter describes changes in the average reading performance of 9 13 and 17 year olds across the five reading trend assessments conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP between 1971 and 1988 The second chapter defines levels of reading proficiency and presents the percentages of students attaining these successive levels in each assessment The third chapter summarizes trends in students responses to questions on their reading instruction and experiences and investigates the relationships between these background factors and reading proficiency Overall the findings described in the report reveal generally positive but subtle changes in reading performance at the national level since 1971 1 nine year olds assessed in 1988 read significantly better than their counterparts assessed in 1971 but this progress was made in the 1970s 2 thirteen year olds reading achievement has fluctuated slightly over the years and 3 seventeen year old students assessed in 1988 read significantly better than their counterparts assessed in either 1971 or 1975 A procedural appendix and an appendix of data are attached RS      Engaging Adolescents in Reading John T.
