The SAGE Handbook of Writing Development Roger Beard, Debra Myhill, Jeni Riley, Martin Nystrand, 2009-07-09
Writing development is currently the focus of substantial international debate because it is the aspect of literacy education that has been least responsive to central government and state reforms Teaching approaches in writing have been slower to change than those in teaching reading and pupil attainment in writing has increased at a much more modest rate than pupil attainment in reading This handbook critically examines research and theoretical issues that impact on writing development from the early years through to adulthood It provides those researching or teaching literacy with one of the most academically authoritative and comprehensive works in the field With expert contributors from across the world the book represents a detailed and valuable overview of a complex area of study
The Rhetoric of Cool Jeff Rice, 2007-05-11
The Rhetoric of Cool Composition Studies and New Media offers a historical critique of composition studies rebirth narrative using that critique to propose a new rhetoric for new media work Author Jeff Rice returns to critical moments during the rebirth of composition studies when the discipline chose not to emphasize technology cultural studies and visual writing which are now fundamental to composition studies Rice redefines these moments in order to invent a new electronic practice The Rhetoric of Cool addresses the disciplinary claim that composition studies underwent a rebirth in 1963 At that time three writers reviewed technology cultural studies and visual writing outside composition studies and independently used the word cool to describe each position Starting from these three positions Rice focuses on chora appropriation commutation juxtaposition nonlinearity and imagery rhetorical gestures conducive to new media work to construct the rhetoric of cool An innovative work that approaches computers and writing issues from historical critical theoretical and practical perspectives The Rhetoric of Cool challenges current understandings of writing and new media and proposes a rhetorical rather than an instrumental response for teaching writing in new media contexts Composition and Rhetoric Based on Literary Models Rose Mary, Kavana, Arthur Beatty, 1902 African American Rhetoric(s) Elaine B Richardson, Ronald L Jackson, 2007-02-12 African American Rhetoric s Interdisciplinary Perspectives is an introduction to fundamental concepts and a systematic integration of historical and contemporary lines of inquiry in the study of African American rhetorics Edited by Elaine B Richardson and Ronald L Jackson II the volume explores culturally and discursively developed forms of knowledge communicative practices and persuasive strategies rooted in freedom struggles by people of African ancestry in America Outlining African American rhetorics found in literature historical documents and popular culture the collection provides scholars students and teachers with innovative approaches for discussing the epistemologies and realities that foster the inclusion of rhetorical discourse in

African American studies In addition to analyzing African American rhetoric the fourteen contributors project visions for pedagogy in the field and address new areas and renewed avenues of research The result is an exploration of what parameters can be used to begin a more thorough and useful consideration of African Americans in rhetorical space

Transnational Writing Program Administration David S. Martins, 2015-03-15 While local conditions remain at the forefront of writing program administration transnational activities are slowly and thoroughly shifting the questions we ask about writing curricula the space and place in which writing happens and the cultural and linguistic issues at the heart of the relationships forged in literacy work Transnational Writing Program Administration challenges taken for granted assumptions regarding program identity curriculum and pedagogical effectiveness logistics and quality assurance faculty and student demographics innovative partnerships and research and the infrastructure needed to support writing instruction in higher education Well known scholars and new voices in the field extend the theoretical underpinnings of writing program administration to consider programs activities and institutions involving students and faculty from two or more countries working together and highlight the situated practices of such efforts The collection brings translingual graduate students at the forefront of writing studies together with established administrators teachers and researchers and intends to enrich the efforts of WPAs by examining the practices and theories that impact our ability to conceive of writing program administration as transnational This collection will enable writing program administrators to take the emerging locations of writing instruction seriously to address the role of language difference in writing and to engage critically with the key notions and approaches to writing program administration that reveal its transnationality

Vitanza, 2010-11-23 After the first issue of PRE TEXT appeared in 1981 a colleague told Victor Vitanza the creator editor and publisher of the journal how disgusted she was by it how unreadable it was how devoted to self aggrandizement and how much she enjoyed two articles in it Devoted to exploring and expanding the field of rhetoric and composition by publishing articles considered inappropriate by other journals in the field PRE TEXT has from its inception made people angry Yet it has survived and thrived This collection of essays pays tribute to the first ten years of the journal and each reprinted article is paired with a short comment by the author Also included is Victor Vitanza s retrospective history of the journal and prospectives for the future Instructor's Manual to Accompany Rhetorical Models for Effective Writing J. Karl Nicholas, James R. Nicholl, 1985 Re Visioning Composition Textbooks Gary S. Zaboly, Xin Liu Gale, Fredric G.

 Gale, 1999-01-01 Explores the cultures ideologies traditions and the material and political conditions that influence the writing and publishing of textbooks Understanding Expository Text Bruce K. Britton, John B. Black, 2017-11-01 Originally published in 1985 the various chapters in this volume give examples of research on all three aspects of text understanding namely structure world knowledge and process More than this however the research described represents a shift in emphasis from studying stories which dominated the field in the late 1970s to studying expository text This focus on stories was probably due to the essential first step in any science of examining the simplest materials possible However the editors thought that it was time to shift the research focus from stories to expository text and this volume is their attempt to provide this transition Design Principles for Teaching Effective Writing Raquel Fidalgo Redondo, Karen Harris, Martine Braaksma, 2017-11-20 This volume presents effective instructional programs focused on two perspectives on writing the teaching and learning of writing as a skill and the use of writing as a learning activity in various school subjects or skills acquisition It is focused on analysing micro design features of the programs such as learning activities supporting materials specific strategies instructional techniques but also macro design rules of intervention programs such as instructional sequence instructional stages based on research evidence provided for previous studies This volume goes beyond a practical volume because it provides additional reflection and discussion about theoretical background and empirically based evidence which support the specific intervention programs described Several chapters in this book include links to an Open Access e book where teacher and student materials for the authors instructional approaches can be found see ToC The Language Teaching Matrix Jack C. Richards, 1990-02-23 For use in courses on language teaching methodology and teacher preparation this book also serves as an invaluable source for courses in language curriculum development materials development and teaching practice The author views effective language teaching as a network of interactions involving the curriculum methodology the teacher the learner and instructional materials hence the metaphor of a matrix Each chapter discusses and examines the theoretical and practical dimensions of a central issue in language teaching Among the topics covered are curriculum development designing instructional materials teaching listening speaking reading and writing the nature of effective teaching self monitoring in teacher development and language and content Richards presents key issues in an accessible and highly readable style and shows how teachers and teachers in training can be involved in the investigation of classroom teaching and learning The emphasis is not on prescriptions but rather on developing effective teaching through understanding the various factors that interact in second language learning and in the second language classroom Securing a Place for Reading in Composition Ellen C. Carillo, 2015-01-15 Securing a Place for Reading in Composition addresses the dissonance between the need to prepare students to read not just write complex texts and the lack of recent scholarship on reading writing connections Author Ellen C Carillo argues that including attention to reading practices is crucial for developing more comprehensive literacy pedagogies Students who can read actively and reflectively will be able to work successfully with the range of complex texts they will encounter throughout their post secondary academic careers and beyond Considering the role of reading within composition from both historical and contemporary perspectives Carillo makes recommendations for the productive integration of reading instruction into first year writing courses She details a mindful reading framework wherein instructors help students cultivate a repertoire of approaches upon which they consistently reflect as they apply them to various texts This metacognitive frame allows students to become knowledgeable and deliberate about how they read and gives them the opportunity to develop the skills useful for moving among reading approaches in mindful ways thus preparing them to actively and productively read in courses and contexts outside first year composition Securing a Place for Reading in Composition also explores how the field of composition might begin to effectively address reading including conducting research on reading revising outcome statements and revisiting the core courses in graduate programs It will be of great interest to writing program administrators and other compositionists and their graduate students

Theory and Practice of Writing William Grabe, Robert B. Kaplan, 2014-09-25 This book undertakes a general framework within which to consider the complex nature of the writing task in English both as a first and as a second language The volume explores varieties of writing different purposes for learning to write extended text and cross cultural variation among second language writers The volume overviews textlinguistic research explores process approaches to writing discusses writing for professional purposes and contrastive rhetoric It proposes a model for text construction as well as a framework for a more general theory of writing Later chapters organised around seventy five themes for writing instruction are devoted to the teaching of writing at the beginning intermediate and advanced levels Writing assessment and other means for responding to writing are also discussed William Grabe and Robert Kaplan summarise various theoretical strands that have been recently explored by applied linguists and other writing researchers and draw these strands together into a coherent overview of the nature of written text Finally they suggest methods for the teaching of writing consistent with the nature processes and social context of writing
