Science and Society Joan Young Gregg,Joan Russell,1985-01-01 Science and Society Joan Young Gregg,Joan Russell,1995 Devils, Women, and Jews Joan Young Gregg,2012-02-01 Contemporary misogyny and antisemitism have their roots in the demonization of women and Jews in medieval Christendom In church art and mass preaching the construct of the devil as an outcast from heaven and the source of all evil was linked both to the conception of women as sensual and malicious figures betraying man s soul on its arduous journey to salvation and to the notion of Jews as treacherous dissidents in the Christian landscape These stereotypes widely disseminated for over three hundred years persist today The exemplum or cautionary story incorporated into preachers manuals and popular homilies was an important mode of religious teaching for clerical and lay folk alike Sermon narratives drawn from Hindu mythology Arab storytelling and secular folktales entertained all classes of medieval society while dispensing theological and cultural instruction In Devils Women and Jews the vital genre of the medieval sermon story is for the first time made accessible to specialists and nonspecialists alike Rendered in modern English the tales provide an invaluable primary resource for medievalists anthropologists psychologists folklorists and students of women s studies and Judaica Critical introductions and explanatory headnotes contextualize the tales and comprehensive endnotes and a bibliography allow readers to follow up analogue and subject studies in their own areas of interest Instructor's Manual for Science and Society Joan Young Gregg,1985 Proceedings of the Twenty-fourth Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society Wayne D. Zhuge, 2016-11-14 Text summarization has been studied for over a half century, but traditional methods process texts empirically and neglect the fundamental characteristics and principles of language use and understanding. Automatic summarization is a desirable technique for processing big data. This reference summarizes previous text summarization approaches in a multi-dimensional category space, introduces a multi-dimensional methodology for research and development, unveils the basic characteristics and principles of language use and understanding, investigates some fundamental mechanisms of summarization, studies dimensions on representations, and proposes a multi-dimensional evaluation mechanism. Investigation extends to incorporating pictures into summary and to the summarization of videos, graphs, and pictures, and converges to a general summarization method. Further, some basic behaviors of summarization are studied in the complex cyber-physical social space. Finally, a creative summarization mechanism is proposed as an effort toward the creative summarization of things, which is an open process of interactions among physical objects, data, people, and systems in cyber-physical social space through a multi-dimensional lens of semantic computing. The author's insights can inspire research and development of many computing areas. The first book that proposes the method for the summarization of things in cyber-physical society through a multi-dimensional lens of semantic computing. A transformation from the traditional application-driven research paradigm into a data-driven research paradigm for creative summarization through information modeling, cognitive modeling, and knowledge modeling. A multi-dimensional methodology for studying, managing, creating, and applying methods. The Society of Text Edward Barrett, 1989 This collection of essays continues Barrett's investigations into implementing networked online systems described in his first book Text, Context, and HyperText with a more focused emphasis on specific hypermedia systems. In four parts, the 22 essays take up designing hypertext and hypermedia systems for the online user, textual intervention and collaboration, new roles for writers and sensemaking and learning in the online environment. In his introduction, Barrett analyzes the design of networked online systems as part of a collaborative process, asserting that the online environment fosters collaboration by using computer technology to support interaction among those who design, use, and write software. The first five essays present a genealogy of hypertext development, assess various hypertext designs, discuss users' wants and needs, and analyze the rhetoric of hypertext applications in light of new models for computer human interaction Seven essays then take up new important online systems for information retrieval document production and training in the online environment Included are a first time full scale analysis of the Athena Muse hypermedia system developed at MIT the hypertext environment Intermedia developed at Brown the University of Maryland s Hyperties and the Educational Online System for document production and training technical writers now in its second year of use at MIT New roles for writers and productivity gains provided by online environments are the subject of the next six essays The final four essays discuss instructional efficiency and the failures of instructional materials Novel proposals are described for addressing the needs and strategies of learners for supporting cooperative work in creating revising and testing a software program for evaluating online help systems and for eliminating ambiguity in online text The Society of Text is included in the Information Systems series edited by Michael Lesk Promoting Spontaneous Use of Learning and Reasoning Strategies Emmanuel Manalo,Yuri Uesaka,Clark A. Chinn,2017-10-03 In this book scholars from around the world develop viable answers to the question of how it may be possible to promote students spontaneity in the use of learning and reasoning strategies They combine their expertise to put forward new theories and models for understanding the underlying mechanisms provide details of new research to address pertinent questions and problems and describe classroom practices that have proven successful in promoting spontaneous strategy use This book is a must for educators and researchers who truly care that schooling should cultivate learning and reasoning strategies in students that would prepare and serve them for life A seminal resource this book will address the basic problem that many educators are well acquainted with that students can learn how to effectively use learning and reasoning strategies but not use them of their own volition or in settings other than the one in which they learned the strategies Handbook of Multiple Source Use Jason L.G.
