Moods of the Ohio Moons Merrill C. Gilfillan, 1991 For almost thirty years Merrill Gilfillan has written outdoor columns devoted primarily to describing and creating moods about the world of nature These columns are informed by a rural background and field notes from more than sixty years of outdoor experience In Gilfillan's words Observation is more of the mind than of vision our attitude is the secret of original observation I choose the subjective approach to outdoor enjoyment I did this after training in zoology and twenty years of field work as a wildlife biologist We should learn to seek our own original view of what we observe The scientific method is necessary to gain facts but the manner in which one experiences the facts is what will determine their final value to the individual and perhaps to society Moods of the Ohio Moons is the product of this subjective method of observation balanced with scientific knowledge and intended to encourage readers to explore their own individual appreciation and understanding of nature Twelve essays one for each month relate incidents and events weather diagnostic events vegetation and wildlife agriculture trends of land use and the wild harvest that contribute to the mood of the time As Gilfillan demonstrates each month has its mood established primarily by nature and only secondarily by humans
