Ravaged Temperate Forests:

Ravaged Temperate Forests Terry Tompkins, 1993 Describes the characteristics of a temperate forest and examines the reasons these forests are at risk and what can be done to save them The Ravaged Paradise Dipanwita Dasgupta, 2023-04-03 This book makes a systematic attempt to explore the environmental history of Darjeeling during the British colonial period 1835 1947 which profoundly transformed the environment of Darjeeling by introducing commercial control over the natural resources After the foundation of Darjeeling as the hill station for the low income groups of British administration living in Bengal and Burma the place was transformed into a social recreational and commercial centre for the British authorities The railway construction boom introduction of tea plantation the growth of a commercial market for timber and increasing demands for fuel and building materials depleted the forest cover The less explored regions of Darjeeling attracted the adventure thirsty Britons A series of investigations were made on the marketable products the condition of roads and quality of soil of these regions The ethnographic geological botanical and zoological study of the Darjeeling was started by the colonial officials in the nineteenth century In the early stage of expansion of colonialism in Asia Africa Australia and South America the European colonizers faced numerous problems in dealing with the untouched nature The accumulation of the knowledge of surrounding regions and proper management of the labour became essential for the colonial authority for transformation of the existing environment of the densely forested tropical colonies Taylor and Francis does not sell or distribute the print editions of this book in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka The Temperate Forest Lorenzo Fornasari, Renato Massa, 1997 Describes the differing types of animals insects and vegetation in temperate forests Temperate Climates Keith Lye, 1997 Describes the weather plant and animal life and how people live in temperate regions around the world Restorative Redevelopment of Devastated Ecocultural Landscapes Robert L. France, 2016-04-19 A fusion of ecological restoration and sustainable development restorative redevelopment represents an emerging paradigm for remediating landscapes Rather than merely fixing the broken bits and pieces of nature restorative development advocates the reuse of devastated landscapes to improve the value and livability of a location for humans at the Restoration of Boreal and Temperate Forests John A. Stanturf, 2015-08-14 Humans have influenced the landscapes and forests throughout the temperate and boreal zones for millennia Restoration of Boreal and Temperate Forests Second Edition focuses on the negative impact of human activity and explains the importance of forest restoration as a way to repair habitat restore forest structure and function and counteract t Tropical Rain Forest Ecology, Diversity, and Conservation Jaboury Ghazoul, Douglas Sheil, 2024-03-14 Rain forests represent the world s richest repository of terrestrial biodiversity and play a major role in regulating the global climate They support the livelihoods of a substantial proportion of the world s population and are the source of many internationally traded commodities They remain despite decades of conservation attention increasingly vulnerable to degradation and clearance with profound though often uncertain future costs to global society Understanding the ecology of these diverse biomes and peoples dependencies on them is fundamental to their future management and conservation Tropical Rain Forest Ecology Diversity and Conservation introduces and explores what rain forests are how they arose what they contain how they function and how humans use and impact them The book starts by introducing the variety of rain forest plants fungi microorganisms and animals emphasising the spectacular diversity that is the motivation for their conservation The central chapters describe the origins of rain forest communities the variety of rain forest formations and their ecology and dynamics The challenge of explaining the species richness of rain forest communities lies at the heart of ecological theory and forms a common theme throughout The book s final section considers historical and current interactions of humans and rain forests It explores biodiversity conservation as well as livelihood security for the many communities that are dependent on rain forests

inextricable issues that represent urgent priorities for scientists conservationists and policy makers

Africa, the Devastated Continent? A. de Vos, 2012-12-06 Africa is not known as one of the more densely populated continents Yet the damaging marks of man s activities may be seen there dramatically Many of Africa s ecological zones are fragile Large scale soil erosion resultant cycles of drought and flash floods downgrading of fauna and flora are well known to many in general ways as well as from detailed examination of a few areas But large parts of Africa remain inaccessible Very few students of Africa have the opportunity or the tenacity to travel over these vast areas or into the hidden corners that lie beyond the well known routes of Africa As FAO s Regional Wildlife and National Parks Officer for Africa ANTOON DE Vos had the opportunity of travelling widely and studying and reporting on the acceleration of man made changes in much of the continent As an experienced practitioner of an important and difficult science ecology he has made a significant professional contribution with this book It is our hope that those who read it will be encouraged to carry on the important work and the concern with this subject to which Dr DE Vos has devoted so much of his knowledge energy and personal commitments

Making Animals Public Professor Gay Hawkins, Dr Ben Dibley, 2024-06-01 Making Animals Public television animality and political engagement focuses on the proliferation of animal content on television and how this has transformed how animals are known and encountered generating unique modes of televisual animality The book examines the multiplicity of public realities and knowledges that animals on TV have constituted from scientific objectivity to the unique Australian environment to controversial victims of gross exploitation Just as television has made animals public in very particular ways it has also made new publics that have learnt to be affected by them Thanks to extraordinary access to the ABC s Natural History and general archives the authors are able to investigate the dynamic relation between making animals public and making publics over time

The Structure and Dynamics of Human Ecosystems William R. Burch, Gary E. Machlis, Jo Ellen Force, 2017-08-22 A landmark book that strives to provide both grand theory and practical application innovatively describing the structure and dynamics of human ecosystems As the world faces ever more complex and demanding environmental and social challenges the need for interdisciplinary models and practical guidance becomes acute The Human Ecosystem Model described in this landmark book provides an innovative response Broad in scope detailed in method at once theoretical and applied this grand study offers an in depth understanding of human ecosystems and tools for action The authors draw from Goethe s Faust classic anthropology and sociology studies contemporary ecosystem ecology Buddhist ethics and more to create a paradigm shifting model and a major advance in interdisciplinary ecology

Science Books & Films , 1987 Greenhouse Gas Emissions - Fluxes and Processes A. Tremblay, Louis Varfalvy, Charlotte Roehm, Michelle Garneau, 2011-04-30 In a time when an unquestionable link between anthropogenic emissions of greenhouse gases and climatic changes has finally been acknowledged and widely documented through IPCC reports the need for precise estimates of greenhouse gas GHG production rates and emissions from natural as well as managed ecosystems has risen to a critical level Future agreements between nations concerning the reduction of their GHG emissions will pend upon precise estimates of the present level of these emissions in both natural and managed terrestrial and aquatic environments From this viewpoint the present volume should prove to a benchmark contribution because it provides very carefully assessed values for GHG emissions or exchanges between critical climatic zones in aquatic environments and the atmosphere It also provides unique information on the biases of different measurement methods that may account for some of the contradictory results that have been published recently in the literature on this subject Not only has a large array of current measurement methods been tested concurrently here but a few new approaches have also been developed notably laser measurements of atmospheric CO concentration 2 gradients Another highly useful feature of this book is the addition of nitroting and process studies as well as modeling essential atlas of botany , The Wardian Case Luke Keogh, 2020-11-20 The story of a nineteenth century invention essentially a tiny greenhouse that allowed for the first time the movement of plants around the world feeding new agricultural industries the commercial nursery trade botanic and private gardens invasive species imperialism and more Roses jasmine fuchsia chrysanthemums and rhododendrons bloom in gardens across the world and yet many of the most common varieties have roots in Asia How is this global flowering possible In 1829 surgeon and amateur naturalist Nathaniel Bagshaw Ward placed soil dried leaves and the pupa of a sphinx moth into a sealed glass bottle intending to observe the moth hatch But when a fern and meadow grass sprouted from the soil he accidentally discovered that plants enclosed in glass containers could survive for long periods without watering After four years of experimentation in his London home Ward created traveling glazed cases that would be able to transport plants around the world Following a test run from London to Sydney Ward was proven correct the Wardian case was born and the botanical makeup of the world's flora was forever changed In our technologically advanced and globalized contemporary world it is easy to forget that not long ago it was extremely difficult to transfer plants from place to place as they often died from mishandling cold weather and ocean salt spray In this first book on the Wardian case Luke Keogh leads us across centuries and seas to show that Ward's invention spurred a revolution in the movement of plants and that many of the repercussions of that revolution are still with us from new industries to invasive plant species From the early days of rubber banana tea and cinchona cultivation the last used in the production of the malaria drug quinine to the collecting of beautiful and exotic flora like orchids in the first great greenhouses of the United States Botanic Garden in Washington DC and England's Royal Botanic Gardens Kew the Wardian case transformed the world's plant communities fueled the commercial nursery trade and late nineteenth century imperialism and forever altered the global environment
