On The Cultural Cringe A.A. Phillips,2016-03-22 The Australian writer critic and teacher A A Phillips coined the term the cultural cringe in 1950 to describe an Australian tendency to identify our literature and art as inferior to work produced overseas particularly in Britain and the United States The term has resonated in debates about Australian culture society and identity ever since Although Phillips famous essay on the cringe was first published more than fifty years ago it remains a powerful reference point in discussions of the national culture It is reprinted here with two of his other essays on Australian culture and with additional biographical and critical material including an essay by Ivor Indyk

Histories of Post-Mortem Contagion Christos Lynteris,Nicholas H A Evans,2017-12-13 This edited volume draws historians and anthropologists together to explore the contested worlds of epidemic corpses and their disposal Why are burials so frequently at the center of disagreement recrimination and protest during epidemics Why are the human corpses produced in the course of infectious disease outbreaks seen as dangerous not just to the living but also to the continued existence of society and civilization Examining cases from the Black Death to Ebola contributors challenge the predominant idea that a single universal framework of contagion can explain the political social and cultural importance and impact of the epidemic corpse Australian Book Review ,2005 On The World Of The Sixty-Nine Tram Janet McCalman,2016-03-22 Janet McCalman writes about people and the environments events and forces that shape them This extract from her award winning book Journeys The Biography of a Middle Class Generation 1920 1990 is a vivid account of the school years of Australians who were young in the 1930s and are grandparents and great grandparents now Prisoners of War, Prisoners of Peace Barbara Hatley-Broad,2005-02-01 Millions of servicemen of the belligerent powers were taken prisoner during World War II Until recently the popular image of these men has been framed by tales of heroic escape or immense suffering at the hands of malevolent captors For the vast majority however the reality was very different Their history both during and after the War has largely been ignored in the grand narratives of the conflict This collection brings together new scholarship largely based on sources from previously unavailable Eastern European or Japanese archives Authors highlight a number of important comparatives Whereas for the British and Americans held by the Germans and Japanese the end of the war meant a swift repatriation and demobilization for the Germans it heralded the beginning of an imprisonment that for some lasted until 1956 These and many more moving stories are revealed here for the first time On The War-path Peter Pierce,Robin Gerster,2016-10-18 This important anthology reveals the many ways in which going to war has formed a cultural bridge between Australia and the world From the Sudan in 1885 to Afghanistan in 2001 the connection of war to travel is illustrated in the observations of writers as varied as Banjo Paterson George Johnston Nancy Wake John Pilger Lily Brett and Peter Weir Selecting writings from combatants abroad as well as the reflections of sightseers who travel to foreign battlefields and war sites Robin Gerster and Peter Pierce reveal how the experience of war has both broadened and refined and sometimes distorted Australian views of the world Their lively collection crosses the boundaries between literature literary criticism travel writing war writing and cultural commentary P.O.W. Prisoner of War Hank Nelson,1985 The experiences of Australian prisoners of war in Japanese prison camps Changi prison Ian Watt Marina MacKay,2018-11-22 Before his masterpiece The Rise of the Novel made him one of the most influential post war British literary critics Ian Watt was a soldier a prisoner of war of the Japanese and a forced labourer on the notorious Burma Thailand Railway Both an intellectual biography and an intellectual history of the mid century this book reconstructs Watt s wartime world these were harrowing years of mass death deprivation and terror but also ones in which communities and institutions were improvised under the starkest of emergency conditions Ian Watt The Novel and the Wartime Critic argues that many of our foundational stories about the novel about the novel s origins and development and about the social moral and psychological work that the novel accomplishes can be traced to the crises of the Second World War and its aftermath Imagining Siam Caron Eastgate Dann,2008 Thailand has been systematically transformed into a classic neocolonial object of Western desire an easily penetrated erotic zone that caters to the appetites of Western interlopers In the first comprehensive critical study of Western literature about Thailand Imagining Siam provides a thorough analysis using Edward Said's concepts of English language travelogues and travel literature. It offers a broad view covering literary attempts to describe Siam in the 13th century through the formative phase of Western engagement in the 16th century and the various competing European imperialisms in the 19th century to today's era of mass tourism and the global reach of economically and culturally powerful First World populations. Imagining Siam will appeal to those interested in Thailand critiques of travel writing and the Anna Leonowens legacy. Anna of Anna and the King of Siam On All Fronts John Tudor Laird, 1989 This anthology is a vivid narrative record of the experiences of Australian men and women during the highly charged years of World War II. These memorable stories depict aspects of life both on the home front and in military life.

Prisoners of the Japanese in World War II Van Waterford, 1994 Narratives and facts on life in civilian internment centers and POW camps are presented here. Meanjin, 1983 Meanjin is a quarterly literary journal publishing the best new writing from established voices and emerging talents. For over 70 years Meanjin has articulated questions of national importance, questions of art, culture, policy and identity as well as introducing some of the greatest literary names Australia has ever produced. Beyond Surrender Joan Beaumont, Lachlan Grant, Aaron Pegram, 2015-06-01 Over the twentieth century 35 000 Australians suffered as prisoners of war in conflicts ranging from World War I to Korea. What was the reality of their captivity? Beyond Surrender presents for the first time the diversity of the Australian behind the wire experience, dissecting fact from fiction and myth from reality. Beyond Surrender examines the impact that different types of camps, commandants and locations had on surrender, survival, prison life and the prospects of escape. It considers the attitudes of Australian governments to those who had surrendered, the work of relief agencies and the agony of families waiting at home for their husbands, brothers and fathers to be freed. Covering several conflicts and diverse sites of captivity, Beyond Surrender showcases new research from Kate Ariotti, Joan Beaumont, Lachlan Grant, Jeffrey Grey, Karl James, Jennifer Lawless, Peter Monteath, Melanie Oppenheimer, Aaron Pegram, Lucy Robertson, Seumas Spark and Christina Twomey. Prisoners of the Japanese Roger Bourke, 2006 Between December 1941 and May 1942 the Japanese army took more than 130 000 allied prisoners of war; more than a quarter did not survive their imprisonment. Here Bourke analyses the major novels and films of the prisoners of war experience under the Japanese and uncovers the extent to which these fictions have influenced our beliefs. Routledge Library Editions: World War II in Asia Timothy Hall, John J. Sbrega, 2021-03-11 The 4 volumes in this set, originally published between 1980 and 1983, bring to light and focus on the conflict between Japan and Australia and Japan and the USA. Timothy Hall's volumes are richly illustrated with black and white photographs, used highly contentious documents as their sources and give fascinating insights into a period of Australian history which is sometimes less than glorious. John J. Sbrega's tour de force is not only one of the most extensive annotated bibliographies on the USA and Japan in World War 2 ever published but it also provides invaluable information on lesser known but no less important aspects of the conflict.
