The Cultural Studies Reader is essential reading for any student wanting to know how cultural studies developed where it is now and its future directions. Global Cultural Studies? Tobias Jetter, 2023-05-03. Can cultural studies attend to the problems of our globalized world? Or is this project of engaged scholarship too deeply rooted in the parochial terrain of the national? This collection of essays, the first volume in the new JMU Cultural Studies publication series, attends to this vital yet difficult question. Based on joint seminars bringing together emerging scholars from Germany and India, the contributions confront classic texts from US American, British, and Indian cultural studies with the specific concerns and contemporary perspectives of the authors. The collection thus tests the potentials of the tradition to speak to the transnational as well as the national environments of the very present. Emphasis is placed on Marxist and feminist legacies which are then projected into the domains of contemporary disability, food, and film studies. Periodicals, Readers and the Making of a Modern Literary Culture: Bengal at the Turn of the Twentieth Century Samarpita Mitra, 2020-06-15. In Periodicals, Readers and the Making of a Modern Literary Culture: Bengal at the Turn of the Twentieth Century, Samarpita Mitra studies literary periodicals as a particular print form and reveals how their production and circulation were critical to the formation of a Bengali public sphere during the turn of the twentieth century. Given its polyphonic nature, capacity for sustaining debates, and adaptability by readers with diverse reading competencies, periodicals became the preferred means for dispensing modern education and entertainment through the vernacular. The book interrogates some of the defining debates that shaped readers' perspectives on critical social issues and explains how literary culture was envisioned as an indicator of the emergent nation. Finally, it looks at the Bengali Muslim and women's periodicals and their readerships and argues that the presence of multiple literary voices makes it impossible to speak of Bengali literary culture in any singular terms. The Routledge Handbook of Magazine Research David Abrahamson, Marcia R. The Futures of the Present: New Directions in (American) Literature Danuta Fjellestad, David Watson, 2018-04-19 It has become a critical commonplace that postmodernism no longer serves as an adequate designation for contemporary literature But what comes after postmodernism What are the tendencies and directions within contemporary American literature that promise to shape its future The contributions to this book are written in the shadows of new media a turn towards the nonhuman in critical thinking and a surge in environmental and apocalyptic thought Engaging with such contemporary debates the authors map the rapidly changing ecosystem of contemporary literary genres and forms and attend to transformations in the production reception and circulation of books This book takes for granted that American literature does have a future although whatever this future holds it is unlikely to be what we expect At this historical juncture the American novel seems to carve its future though an engagement with issues at the forefront of our present thereby ensuring its own ongoing contemporaneity This book was originally published as a special issue of Studia Neophilologica
