Making a

Difference Solomon Sumani Sule-Saa, 2023-02-20 How did two very different language communities encounter and make early choices about Christianity This book is a historical record of the Dagomba and Konkomba people groups of Northern Ghana as they embraced the Bible translated into their mother tongues Author Dr Sumani Sule Saa employs Professor Lamin Sanneh's groundbreaking hermeneutic of mission as translation as a grid to examine the effect of Bible translation on the lives of these two very important language groups Sule Saa first presents a brief history of the Dagomba and Konkomba and describes their very different societal structures He analyses early Christian mission involvement and documents the role of two Bible translation agencies among these people groups Through a number of case studies he illustrates the positive impact of the Bible in their mother tongues Woven throughout Dr Sule Saa discusses to what degree the Christian faith has been indigenised into the ethos and behaviour of the Dagomba and Konkomba Theological students and those interested in missions will find this book relevant as it deals with missiological issues and serves as a reference on the establishment of Christianity among the Dagomba and Konkomba Its multi disciplinary approach will also appeal to a wider audience

The Computer in Reading and Language Arts Jay S. Blanchard, George E. Mason, 1987 In this stimulating and readable book educators most of whom have long been involved in computer based literacy research efforts provide up to date information on computer based activities in reading and language arts These experts offer valuable goals and strategies for integrating computer technology into the reading language arts curriculum including suggestions for activities that should and should not be used They also address the basics of developing evaluating and using computer based reading instruction programs The unique benefits of computer technology to teach English as a second language writing skills and the reading process to early readers are thoroughly explored Innovative Uses of the Computer in the Language Arts Classroom Computerized readability assessment Reinforcement and instructional objectives Student interest profiles Class book files This exciting book in a broader sense corrects the failure by many to consider the literacy issues that invariably surround and govern computer use While the types of computer literacy environments differ the literacy requirements are still the same the computer and the user must communicate through text Thus The Computer in Reading and Language Arts provides essential understanding of the literacy requirements and environments involved in computer use Optimizing a Lexical Approach to Instructed Second Language Acquisition F. Boers,S. Lindstromberg,2009-09-23 Empirically validated techniques to accelerate learners uptake of chunks demonstrate that pathways for insightful chunk learning become available if one is willing to question the assumption that lexis is arbitrary Care is taken to ensure that the pedagogical proposals are in accordance with insights from vocabulary research generally
