Outpost Allan Baillie,2012-01-25 Something was in the rings that shouldn t have been there Life on the remote moon Ord is dangerous Random eruptions in the ice extreme cold loneliness and loss it s all Dece knows Until one day he sees a mysterious object caught in the rings of the nearby gas planet Cotal With no choice but to investigate what he will find is so extraordinary that it is almost beyond understanding The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature David Rudd,2012-07-26 The Routledge Companion to Children s Literature is a vibrant and authoritative exploration of children s literature in all its manifestations It features a series of essays written by expert contributors who provide an illuminating examination of why children s literature is the way it is Topics covered include the history and development of children s literature various theoretical approaches used to explore the texts including narratological methods questions of gender and sexuality along with issues of race and ethnicity realism and fantasy as two prevailing modes of story telling picture books comics and graphic novels as well as young adult fiction and the crossover novel media adaptations and neglected areas of children s literature The Routledge Companion to Children s Literature contains suggestions for further reading throughout plus a helpful timeline and a substantial glossary of key terms and names both established and more cutting edge This is a comprehensive and up to date guide to an increasingly complex and popular discipline Re-visioning Historical Fiction for Young Readers Kim Wilson,2011-06-15 This study is concerned with how readers are positioned to interpret the past in historical fiction for children and young adults Looking at literature published within the last thirty to forty years Wilson identifies and explores a prevalent trend for re-visioning and rewriting the past according to modern social and political ideological assumptions. Fiction within this genre while concerned with the past at the level of content is additionally concerned with present views of that historical past because of the future to which it is moving. Specific areas of discussion include the identification of a new sub-genre Living history fiction, stories of Joan of Arc, historical fiction featuring agentic females, the very popular Scholastic Press historical journal series, fictions of war and historical fiction featuring multicultural discourses. Wilson observes specific traits in historical fiction written for children, most notably how the notion of positive progress into the future is nuanced differently in this literature in which the concept of progress from the past is inextricably linked to the protagonist's potential for agency and the realization of subjectivity. The genre consistently manifests a concern with identity construction that in turn informs and influences how a metanarrative of positive progress is played out. This book engages in a discussion of the functionality of the past within the genre and offers an interpretative frame for the sifting out of the present from the past in historical fiction for young readers.

Classic Teenplots John T. Gillespie, Corinne J. Naden, 2006-08-30 Tells how to create book talks featuring young adult novels and covers one hundred titles giving background information on each book and author, a list of main characters, a plot summary, critical comments, and key themes.

Krakatoa Lighthouse Allan Baillie, 2009-03-02 Suddenly there was a trench across the beach about ten meters away from the fishermen where before there had been nothing but flat sand. The fishermen moved quickly away as the trench heaved grey ash across the sand. They sprinted when it hurled black rocks at them. Kerta didn't want to go to Krakatoa. He knows that a dark spirit, Orang Aljeh, is there and he is terrified he might wake it. But Kerta is there on the volcano and the Ghost of Krakatoa has woken up. A powerful story of survival and loss based on the real-life events of the Krakatoa eruption in 1883. Winner of the 2010 New South Wales Premier's Literary Award Patricia Wrightson Prize. This book is a marvel of precision and economy, stuffed to the gunnels with ideas and brimming over with a dark energy, a masterclass in how to write. Krakatoa Lighthouse is that rare find: an exciting, moving story that keeps opening the doors to larger questions. Baillie puts the reader right there in the moment with stunningly accurate detail yet we never feel the dead hand of history overwhelming us. From the 2010 NSW Premier's Literary Award Judges Report.
