The Complete Writings Charles Dudley Warner, 2018-04-05

Reproduction of the original The Complete Writings by Charles Dudley Warner Helene Deutsch Paul Roazen, 2020-03-09

Student and protege of Sigmund Freud Helene Deutsch was one of the most influential psychoanalysts of her time An early woman analyst Deutsch was an ardent feminist and a leading proponent of Freud's controversial theories about the psychology of women. Deutsch was also one of the first prominent career women to combine a professional life with motherhood even though she never resolved her own conflicts over those contradictory demands. At the time of her death in 1982 at the age of 97, Helene Deutsch was the last survivor of Freud's original circle from Vienna. This volume is a definitive account of the life and works of this remarkable and enigmatic woman. The author knew Deutsch personally and was given exclusive access to her papers after her death. The private life of Helene Deutsch was as unconventional as her professional life. While Felix Deutsch, a physician who specialized in psychosomatic medicine, was to remain her husband for fifty years and father her son Martin, their relationship was highly eccentric. Roazen produces evidence that indicates Felix Deutsch may have been homosexual, also that their son was raised primarily by Felix as Helene was more interested in her career than was Felix in his, and the Deutsches often lived continents apart. With the rise of Nazism, Helene Deutsch departed in 1935 for America. She was welcomed in Cambridge, Massachusetts, by the Boston Psychoanalytic Society and was made director of the Society's new institute for the training of analysts. Her two-volume The Psychology of Women, published in 1945, remains one of the foundations of modern analysis. Roazen's biography is an authoritative portrait of a pioneer of psychoanalysis and one of the unique women of her day. It will be of interest to psychoanalysts, cultural historians, and specialists in women's studies.

Paradox, Aphorism and Desire in Novalis and Derrida Clare Kennedy, 2008. Building on recent investigations into affinities between early German Romanticism and French post-structuralism, this study brings together the work of Jacques Derrida with the writings of one of early Romanticism's most important theorists, Friedrich von Hardenberg (1772–1801), better known as Novalis. In contrast to recent criticism which traces the historical path from Romanticism to modern theory in broad strokes, this book undertakes comparative readings of Novalis's and Derrida's texts on literature and philosophy. The book focuses on the significance both writers accord to paradox and argues that readings which are attuned to paradox can better appreciate the proximity of Romanticism and post-structuralism. As well as their affirmation of paradox, the texts of Novalis and Derrida testify to a profound respect for the Other, and the close readings of selected texts reveal remarkable similarities in their thinking on literature, philosophy, and representation, and on the intricate interrelation between language, identity, and desire.
