W. Hornung, 2015-11-10 A hooded wagon was creeping across a depressing desert in the middle of Australia layers of boxes under the hood and of brass handled mahogany drawers below the boxes revealed the licensed hawker of the bush Now the hawker out there is a very extensive development of his prototype here at home he is Westbourne Grove on wheels with the prices of Piccadilly W But these particular providers were neither so universal nor so exorbitant as the generality of their class There were but two of them they drove but two horses and sat shoulder to shoulder on the box The afternoon was late all day the horses had been crawling for the track was unusually heavy There had been recent rains red mud clogged the wheels at every yard and clung to them in sticky tires Little pools had formed all over the plain and westward on the off side of the wagon these pools caught the glow of the setting sun and filled with flame Far over the horses ears a long low line of trees was visible otherwise the plain was unbroken you might ride all day on these plains and descry no other horse nor man The pair upon the box were partners Their names were Flint and Edmonstone Flint was enjoying a senior partner s prerogative and lolling back wreathed in smoke His thick bare arms were idly folded He was a stout brown bearded man who at thirty looked many years older indolence contentment and goodwill were written upon his face The junior partner was driving and taking some pains about it keeping clear of the deep ruts and pushing the pace only where the track was good He looked twenty years Flint s junior and was in fact just of age He was strongly built and five feet ten with honest gray eyes fair hair and an inelastic mouth
