SENIOR RESOURCES GUIDE SERIES

What is aging in place?

Aging in place simply refers to the practice of living in your home as you age. More specifically, it means you decide not to move to a nursing home or assisted living facility as you age. Instead, aging in place can allow you to stay in your home, surrounded by family and friends, and support they need. It also allows you to stay in your home, surrounded by family and friends, and support they need. It also allows you to stay in your home, surrounded by family and friends, and support they need.

Planning ahead is important if you want to age in place. It can help you to make sure your golden years have the best possible outcome.

Do I need to modify my home?

Yes, evaluate your home and see if it is safe for you to live in. Is there adequate lighting? Are there any tripping hazards? Consider making modifications to your home.

Here are a few examples of modifications that can help you age in place:

APPLIANCES

- Install a handrail on the stairs
- Get a new toilet
- Get a new shower

Aging in place is growing increasingly popular. According to some estimates, more than 100 million people will live in their homes as they age. This is why it's important to plan ahead and make sure your home is safe and comfortable for you.
