Fifty Years of the Law Commissions Matthew Dyson,James Lee,Shona Wilson Stark,2016-11-03 This book brings together past and present law commissioners judges practitioners academics and law reformers to analyse the past present and future of the Law Commissions in the United Kingdom and beyond Its internationally recognised authors bring a wealth of experience and insight into how and why law reform does and should take place covering statutory and non statutory reform from national and international perspectives The chapters of the book developed from papers given at a conference to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Law Commissions Act 1965 An account of Oxenfoord castle Hew Hamilton Dalrymple (hon. sir.),1901 The Work of the British Law Commissions Shona Wilson Stark,2017-07-13 The Law Commission of England and Wales and the Scottish Law Commission were both established in 1965 to promote the reform of the laws of their respective jurisdictions Since then they have each produced hundreds of reports across many areas of law They are independent of government yet rely on governmental funding and governmental approval of their proposed projects They also rely on both government and Parliament and occasionally the courts or other bodies to implement their proposals This book examines the tension between independence and implementation and recommends how a balance can best be struck It proposes how the Commissions should choose their projects given that their duties outweigh their resources and how we should assess the success or otherwise of their output Countries around the world have created law reform bodies in the Commissions image They may wish to reflect on the GB Commissions responses to the changes and challenges they have faced to reappraise their own law reform machinery Equally the GB Commissions may seek inspiration from other commissions experiences The world the GB Commissions inhabit now is very different from when they were established They have evolved to remain relevant in the face of devolution the UK s changing relationship with the European Union increasing pressure for accountability and decreasing funding Further changes to secure the future of independent law reform are advanced in this book The Encyclopaedia Britannica: L-Lord Advocate ,1911 The last great work of the age of reason the final instance when all human knowledge could be presented with a single point of view Unabashed optimism and unabashed racism pervades many entries in the 11th and provide its defining characteristics Despite its occasional ugliness the reputation of the 11th persists today because of the staggering depth of knowledge contained with its volumes It is especially strong in its biographical entries These delve deeply into the history of men and women prominent in their eras who have since been largely forgotten except by the historians scholars The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/books/booksblog> 2012 apr 10 encyclopedia britannica 11th edition Scottish Feminist Judgments Sharon Cowan, Chloë Kennedy, Vanessa E Munro, 2019-12-12 An innovative collaboration between academics practitioners activists and artists this timely and provocative book rewrites 16 significant Scots law cases spanning a range of substantive topics from a feminist perspective Exposing power politics and partiality feminist judges provide alternative accounts that bring gender equity concerns to the fore whilst remaining bound by the facts and legal authorities encountered by the original court Paying particular attention to Scotland's distinctive national identity fluctuating experiences of political sovereignty and unique legal traditions and institutions this book contributes in a distinctive register to the emerging dialogue amongst feminist judgment projects across the globe Its judgments address concerns not only about gender equality but also about the interplay between gender class national identity and citizenship in contemporary Scotland The book also showcases unique contributions from leading artists which provoked by the enterprise of feminist judging or by individual cases offer a visceral and affective engagement with the legal The book will be of interest to academics practitioners and students of Scots law policy makers as well as to scholars of feminist and critical theory and law and gender internationally Scottish and Irish Diaries from the Sixteenth to the Nineteenth Century with an Introduction Arthur Ponsonby Baron Ponsonby, 1927 The Honourable Henry Erskine, Lord Advocate for Scotland, with Notices of Certain of His Kinsfolk and of His Time Alexander Fergusson, 2025-08-12 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Debating Judicial Appointments in an Age of Diversity Graham Gee, Erika Rackley, 2017-09-11 What should be the primary goals of a judicial appointments system and how much weight should be placed on diversity in particular Why is achieving a diverse judiciary across the UK taking so long Is it time for positive action What role should the current judiciary play in the appointment of our future judges There is broad agreement within the UK and other common law countries that diversity raises important questions for a legal system and its officials but much less agreement about the full implications of recognising diversity as an important goal of the judicial appointments regime Opinions differ for example on the methods forms timing and motivations for judicial diversity To mark the tenth anniversary of the creation of the Judicial Appointments Commission JAC in England and Wales this collection includes contributions from current and retired judges civil servants practitioners current and former commissioners on the JAC and leading academics from Australia Canada South Africa and across the UK Together they provide timely and authoritative insights into past current and future debates on the search for diversity in judicial appointments Topics discussed include the role and responsibility of independent appointment bodies assessments of the JAC's first ten years appointments to the UK Supreme Court the pace of change
