Pierce,2019-08-20 From the late nineteenth century well into the 1960s North Carolina boasted some of the nation s most restrictive laws on alcohol production and sale For much of this era it was also the nation s leading producer of bootleg liquor Over the years written accounts popular songs and Hollywood movies have turned the state s moonshiners fast cars and frustrated Feds into legends But in Tar Heel Lightnin' Daniel S Pierce tells the real history of moonshine in North Carolina as never before This well illustrated entertaining book introduces a surprisingly varied cast of characters who operated secret stills and ran liquor from the swamps of the Tidewater to

Piedmont forests and mountain coves From the state's earliest days through Prohibition to the present Pierce shows that moonshine crossed race and economic lines linking men and women the rebellious and the respectable the oppressed and the merely opportunistic As Pierce recounts even churchgoing types might run shipments of that good ol' mountain dew when hard times came and there was no social safety net to break the fall Folklore popular culture and changing laws have helped fuel a renaissance in making and drinking commercial moonshine and Pierce shows how today's producers understand their ties to the past Above all this book reveals that moonshine's long colorful history features surprises that can change how we understand a state and a region opened the fate through the tall picket fence but immediately spotted her again just as the reporter and her cameraman intercepted on the sidewalk When he tried to skirt them The woman blocked his path Hi Im Linda Gray from channel four news Is that your tree house Yeah he answered relieved at seeing Vanessa walking toward him Its very impressive Did you build it all by yourself or did your dad help you My dad helped me with the electricity Its the law And y my friends helped too Your parents must be very proud If its all right with your folks wed like to do a story on it Would mind giving us a tour Filing his thought was the question why Jessica stood smiling broadly just a foot away from him She was so close that he could smell an intoxicating fragrance coming from her hair Could a girl smell any better than she did right now A hand in the middle of his back sent him stumbling forward causing him to bump into Vanessa Geez are you going to kiss her or stand here all day Brian asked The realization that the chest had pressed toget Blues Revue ,2003 Lotteries Alan J.
