The image shows a close-up of an open manuscript. The left page, folio 10v, is filled with dense, handwritten text in a single column. The right page, folio 11r, features a large, detailed drawing of a landscape. The drawing depicts a winding path or river leading towards a distant building or structure, possibly a castle or a church. The style of the drawing is characteristic of the 15th or 16th century, with fine lines and shading. Above the drawing, there is some handwritten text, which appears to be a title or a description of the scene. The overall condition of the manuscript is well-preserved, with clear handwriting and a detailed illustration.

Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Evolution of Town Planning in Pakistan Anis Ur Rahmaan,2017-10-16 The book describes the world s oldest human settlements during the rather long and diversified sets of civilizations and cultural epochs in the regions which are now situated within the territorial limits of Pakistan and highlights three historical periods namely i the age of neolithic settlements ii the Indus Valley civilization and iii the period of precolonial empires and kingdoms and against this backdrop deals with the human settlements of the colonial and postcolonial period in Pakistan The main motivation for writing this book has been threefold First to increase the awareness among the current and prospective students of town planning in particular and the planners at large in general about the evolutionary process of town planning in Pakistan Second to identify some of the shortcomings gaps and overlapping in the process of planning and development of towns in Pakistan And third to emphasize the need to undertake further research about the various facets of the subject area

This book is a time series rather than a cross sectional analysis of the Evolution of Town Planning in Pakistan It attempts to highlight the various processes and geopolitical landmarks during the nine thousand years long evolutionary processes of physical planning and development in the Indian subcontinent in general and those in Pakistan in particular It traverses a long temporal and evolutionary progression of town planning processes in Pakistan This book is a very modest effort to fill a huge gap and may even provide an incentive for the future planning historians and academicians to undertake more in depth cross sectional analysis of various processes comprehensively
