Collections

February 2000

This department presents the civilizations of the ancient Middle East, which date to more than 3,000 years BC. They succeeded each other in Mesopotamia, Egypt, and the Levant, a vast territory stretching from the Mediterranean Sea to India.

References

Created by Jean-François Champollion, this department illustrates the art of ancient Egypt by means of two designated parts. The first is Champollion's, from the original in Champs, and the second is a drawing, highlighting specific aspects of Egyptian civilization. Two additional versions, devoted to Upper Egypt and Roman Egypt, round out this collection.

Greek, Roman,
and Modern Architecture

This department continues to actively produce the three national collections—Clothing, Furniture, and Books. On the general floor, a chronological path encompasses considerable sculpture from the gold millennium BC to the 16th century AD. On the first floor, the collection is organized by technique and type of material such as bronze, jewelry, silverware, and glassware as well as by time periods and styles.

History of the Law and Medical Council

These two rooms and an archaeological path present the archaeological history of the colony.

1000

The collections in this department cover the history of European painting from the mid-15th century to the mid-19th century. They are divided into three major groups: the French school (a number of subgroups), the Italian and Spanish schools, and the Northern European schools (German, Flemish, and Dutch).

100

This department encompasses European sculpture from the High Middle Ages to the mid-eight century. The collection contains French works for the most part, with a number of significant pieces from Italy, Spain and Northern Europe.

1000

The collections in this department – e.g. objects from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, decorative arts of the 17th and 18th centuries, items from the 19th century in the Chinese collection belonging to the French crown, 19th century objects and furniture, and the Napoleon III apartments – mean many different periods.

The Lerner Museum is mounting a new campaign to make visitors realize the connection between design for art, design and modern culture.

As you proceed through this museum, you will notice an extraordinary wealth and magnitude of the artifacts to be followed in visits to the museum. By following these rules, you and I hope to effectively display and protect our heritage collections while ensuring a pleasant visit for all.
