I'm No Longer Troubled by the Extravagance Rick Bursky, 2015-09-21 I'm No Longer Troubled by the Extravagance is a collection of poems that assign new meanings to the people and things of the past. The book moves in three sections through a fantastic landscape that maps human fragility. The poems in the first section speak to matters of the heart, intimacy and loss, punctuated by lovers who leave. The second section is comprised of prose poems chronicling misadventures and conspiracies: Russian spies on Wilshire Boulevard, artichokes that mate for life and secret photographs of God. Finally, the third section pans out from individual experience, hosting the collective in fable-like reflections. Together, the poems in Extravagance mark with fragile acceptance the surreal extravagance of being alive. The Relentless One day we'll know how long the dead have to be dead before they feel hunger. One day it'll be summer forever. In the meantime, the weather, looking for its cue, keeps an eye on me, and I keep whatever money's in my pocket crumpled in a ball. A relentless responsibility dogs me, and the funny thing is these are the lyrics to a happy song. Go ahead, tap your foot, snap your fingers. We're roasting a pig in the yard. Rick Bursky is the author of Death Obscura (Sarabande Books, 2010) and The Soup of Something Missing (Bear Star Press, 2004), winner of the Dorothy Brunsman Poetry Prize. He lives in Los Angeles where he works in advertising and teaches poetry in the UCLA Extension Writer's Program.

The Black Maria Aracelis Girmay, 2016-04-18 Taking its name from the moon's dark plains, misidentified as seas by early astronomers, The Black Maria investigates African diasporic histories, the consequences of racism within American culture, and the question of human identity. Central to this project is a desire to recognize the lives of Eritrean refugees who have been made invisible by years of immigration crisis, refugee status, exile, and resulting statelessness. The recipient of a 2015 Whiting Award for Poetry, Girmay's newest collection elegizes and celebrates life while wrestling with the humanistic notion of seeing beyond, seeing violence, seeing grace, and seeing each other better. To the sea, great storage house, history on which we rode, we touched the brief pulse of your fluttering pages, spelled with salt, life, your rage, your indifference, your gentleness, washing our feet, all of you, going on, whether or not we live, to you we bring our carnations, yellow, pink, how they float like bright sentences atop your memory's dark hair. Aracelis Girmay is the author of two poetry collections, Teeth and Kingdom Animalia, which won the Isabella Gardner Award and was a finalist for the NBCC Award. The recipient of a 2015 Whiting Award, she has received grants and fellowships from the Jerome Cave Canem and Watson foundations, as well as Civitella Ranieri and the NEA. She currently teaches at Hampshire College's School for Interdisciplinary Arts and in Drew University's low-residency MFA program. Originally from Santa Ana, California, she splits her time between New York and Amherst, Massachusetts.

The Orchard Brigit Pegeen Kelly, 2013-12-20 Richly allusive the poems in Brigit Pegeen Kelly's The Orchard evoke elements of myth in distinctive aural and rhythmic patterns Her poetic strength lies in her ability to cast poems as modern myths and allegories Propelled by patterned repetitions and lush cadences the poems move the reader through a landscape where waking and dream consciousness fuse Brigit Pegeen Kelly teaches creative writing at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign Her poetry collections are Song BOA Editions the 1994 Lamont Poetry Selection of The Academy of American Poets and a finalist for the 1995 Los Angeles Times Book Award and To the Place of Trumpets selected by James Merrill for the 1987 Yale Series of Younger Poets Prize You and Yours Naomi Shihab Nye, 2005 In You and Yours Naomi Shihab Nye continues her conversation with ordinary people whose lives become through her empathetic use of poetic language extraordinary Nye writes of local life in her inner city Texas neighborhood about rural schools and urban communities she's visited in this country as well as the daily rituals of Jews and Palestinians who live in the war torn Middle East The Day I missed the day on which it was said others should not have certain weapons but we could Not only could but should and do I missed that day Was I sleeping I might have been digging in the yard doing something small and slow as usual Or maybe I wasn't born yet What about all the other people who aren't born Who will tell them Balancing direct language with a suggestive aslantness Nye probes the fragile connection between language and meaning She never shies from the challenge of trying to name the mysterious logic of childhood or speak truth to power in the face of the horrors of war She understands our lives are marked by tragedy inequity and misunderstanding and that our best chance of surviving our losses and shortcomings is to maintain a heightened awareness of the sacred in all things Naomi Shihab Nye poet editor anthologist is a recipient of writing fellowships from the Lannan and Guggenheim foundations Nye's work has been featured

Text Types and the History of English Manfred Görlach, 2008-08-22 The history of modern European languages has been largely determined by the range of functions they have acquired particularly after 1500 This development necessitated a notable expansion of their syntax and lexis but is most characteristically reflected in the conventionalization of text types Starting from the German concept of Textsorte as developed from the 1960s onwards the present account is a first comprehensive attempt at charting the field for the history and present day situation of the English language In text types a designation is linked with a more or less stable form which guides the writer's production as well as the reader's expectation permitting one to recognize straightforward uses as well as deliberate misuses Some two thousand of such designations are here listed with minimal definitions and dates for first occurrences The discussion then concentrates on selected types which are seen as especially illustrative for English book dedications cooking recipes advertisements church hymns lexical entries and jokes Their functions and development over time are treated in correlation with their specific linguistic characteristics and adaptations to different period styles and social changes in the readership The functional range of text types in traditions outside England and the consequences of the export of English categories are exemplified by the history of Scots Scottish English and of English in India The arguments are accompanied by a lavish supply of textual excerpts and more than fifty pages of facsimiles which are especially relevant for insights derived from typographical features A full bibliography and indices are provided at the end The book will prove useful for decisions on the constitution of representative text corpora and stimulate research into a greater number of individual text types as well as contrastive analyses at least among European languages
