The Husband Deirdre Purcell, 2016-09-22 The Husband is a gripping human story of love in its many guises of losing everything and ultimately in the small Midlands village of Glanmilish of rediscovering the meaning of family Marian Lescher's steady if predictable life in her native Chicago is upended when she is unexpectedly swept into a love affair with Irishman Daniel Lynch a star medic renowned for his charismatic personality Soon she has divorced her husband and in the throes of newfound passion finds herself quickly remarried to this extraordinary man Her new husband has unlocked something in Marian and she feels high on life as never before even when a darker side to his nature begins to reveal itself Nothing can prepare her for what is to follow though as devastating circumstances lead her on a trail to Daniel s home in Ireland and in turn back to the US as she tries to come to terms with the enigmatic nature of the man for whom she threw it all away only to discover that nothing was what it seemed Complex Emotions and Grammatical Mismatches Katarzyna Dziwirek, Barbara Lewandowska-Tomaszczyk, 2010-07-30 Nominated for the Best contribution to Slavic Linguistics AATSEEL book award 2011 The concept of complex emotions is obviously polysemous On the one hand we can interpret it as a non basic non prototypical or culture specific notion on the other and this is the interpretation we propose in this work a complex emotion concept can be looked upon as a concept whose complexity emerges in interaction due to the complex nature of its object Our interpretation is thus construction based one in which meaning is not to be found exclusively in the lexical semantics of the term but also in the clearly meaning laden grammatical construction e g a complement clause expressing the object or cause of the emotion The construal of a scene mapped on the form of a complex sentence involves the emotion that is unambiguously complex and not necessarily universal or prototypical We argue throughout this book that cross linguistic grammatical mismatches are a visible sign of conceptual and categorizational distinctions between the conceptualization of emotion in different languages and cultures They also signal differences in what individual speakers consider salient in a portrayed scene We offer a contrastive corpus based study of Polish and English emotion concepts and the linguistic patterns they enter Our theoretical approach combines lexical semantics and cognitive linguistics and proposes a cognitive corpus linguistics methodology It is a cognitive linguistic endeavor in which we analyze grammatical category mismatches and provide detailed semantic analyses of different complement choices of emotion predicates We also discuss insights into Polish and English cultural values gleaned from the different underlying categorizations of emotions Combining theoretical analyses with pedagogical theory and classroom applications this work breaks new ground and will reach audiences of linguists teachers and students of Polish teachers and students of English translators and other language researchers and practitioners The Mammaries of the Welfare State Upamanyu Chatterjee, 2001 In This Sequel To Upamanyu Chatterjee S Debut Novel English August Agastya Sen Older Funnier More Beleaguered Almost Endearing And Some Of His Friends Are Back Comic And Kafkaesque The Mammaries Of The Welfare State Is A Masterwork Of Satire By A Major Writer At The Height Of His Powers Felicity's Wedding Patricia O'Reilly, 2012-09-18 It is Felicity s wedding day supposedly the happiest day of her life She is surrounded by family friends and the finest trappings Dublin and her doting father Clarence can offer Waiting at the church are her sisters Stella mother of the bride and the charming successful perfect bridegroom Jonathan But will she can she should she go through with it Her decision will cast ripples into lives far beyond her own In this warm and witty story Patricia O Reilly explores the sometimes painfully tangled web of relationships within one family with its hopes and expectations its guilt and regrets

Culture Wars in British Literature Tracy J. Prince, 2012-09-21 The past century s culture wars that Britain has been consumed by but that few North Americans seem aware of have resulted in revised notions of Britishness and British literature Yet literary anthologies remain anchored to an archaic Anglo English interpretation of British literature Conflicts have been played out over specific national vs British identity some residents prefer to describe themselves as being from Scotland England Wales or Northern Ireland instead of Britain in debates over immigration race ethnicity class and gender and in arguments over British literature These debates are strikingly detailed in such chapters as The Difficulty Defining Black British British Jewish Writers and Xenophobia and the Booker Prize Connections are also drawn between civil rights movements in the U S and UK This generalist cultural study is a lively read and a fascinating glimpse into Britain s changing identity as reflected in 20th and 21st century British literature      Vocabulary Building Through Domains ,      A Pagan Place Edna O'Brien, 2024-05-01 A woman recalls her rural Irish home and the reason for her escape in this poetic novel by one of the great writers in the English speaking world The New York Times In A Pagan Place Edna O'Brien returns to Ireland the uniquely wonderful terrible and peculiar place she once called home After leaving to join a religious community in Belgium a young woman remembers her childhood on the western coast of Ireland She reflects on the rituals of rural life the people she encountered and the enchanting beauty of the landscape This is the Ireland of country villages and barley fields of mischievous girls and druids in the woods As the impressions of her former home intensify her mind turns to the shocking event that led to her departure O'Brien's evocative prose shows the chilling hold that history and the dead clamp on the living Paul Gray Time O'Brien brings together the earthy and the delicately poetic she has the soul of Molly Bloom and the skills of Virginia Woolf Ray Sawhill Newsweek      Books Ireland , 2006
