Scharen, 2016-05-05 In this richly collaborative work five distinguished scholars examine the oft neglected embodied practical wisdom that is essential for true theological understanding and faithful Christian living After first showing what Christian practical wisdom is and does in several real life situations the authors tell why such practical wisdom matters and how it operates exploring reasons behind its decline in both the academy and the church and setting forth constructive cases for its renewal

Scharen ,2016 In this richly collaborative work five distinguished scholars examine the oft neglected embodied practical wisdom that is essential for true theological understanding and faithful Christian living After first showing what Christian practical wisdom is and does in several real life situations the authors tell why such practical wisdom matters and how it operates exploring reasons behind its decline in both the academy and the church and setting forth constructive cases for its renewal

Christian Theology in Practice Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, 2012-02-02 For the past fifty years scholars in both pastoral and practical theology have attempted to recapture human religious experience and practice as essential sites for theological engagement redefining in the process what theology is how it is done and who does it In this book Bonnie J Miller McLemore shows how this trend in scholarship has led to an expanded subject matter alternative ways of knowing and richer terms for analysis in doing Christian theology Tracing more than two decades of her own search for a more inclusive discipline one that truly grapples with theology in the midst of life Christian Theology in Practice shows not only where Miller McLemore herself has traveled in the field but also how pastoral and practical theology has developed during this time Looking forward Miller McLemore calls on the academy and Christian congregations to disrupt conventional theological boundaries and to acknowledge the multiplicity of shapes and places in which the wisdom of God appears

Teaching for a Culturally Diverse and Racially Just World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2014-02-25 Cultural and ethnic diversity is the reality of our world and much more so in this age of heightened globalization Yet do our ways of doing theological education match with our current reality and hopes for a colorful and just tomorrow How shall we do theological formation so it helps give birth to a culturally diverse racially just and hospitable world This edited volume gathers the voices of minoritized scholars and their white allies in the profession in response to the above questions More particularly this volume gathers the responses of these scholars to the questions What is the plight of theological education Who are the teachers Who are our students What shall we teach How shall we teach How shall we form and lead theological institutions It is the hope of this volume to contribute to the making of theological education that is hospitably just to difference s and welcoming of our diverse population which is our only viable future When we embody this vision in our daily educational practices particularly in the training of our future religious leaders we may help usher in a new colorful and just world

Integrating Work in Theological Education Kathleen A. Cahalan, Edward Foley, Gordon S. Mikoski, 2017-03-09 If only we could do a better job of helping students at connecting the dots theological educators commonly lament Integration often proposed as a solution to the woes of professional education for ministry would help students integrate knowledge skills spirituality and integrity When these remain disconnected incompetence ensues and the cost runs high for churches denominations and ministers themselves However we fail in thinking that integrating work is for students alone It is a multifaceted constructive process of learning that is contextual reflective and dialogical It aims toward important ends competent leaders who can guide Christian communities today It entails rhythms not stages and dynamic movement including disintegration Integrating work is learning in motion across domains and among and between persons It is social and communal born of a life of learning together for faculty staff administrators and students It is work that bridges the long standing gaps between school ministry practice and life It s a verb not a noun Here a diverse group of theological educators through descriptive case studies theological reflection and theory building offer a distinctive contribution to understanding integrating work and how best to achieve it across three domains in community curriculums and courses

The End of Theological Education Ted A. Smith, 2023-05-26 How to envision theological education in this time between the times The dominant model of theological education is coming to an end but Ted A Smith looks to its ultimate ends as sources of hope and renewal Smith locates the crisis facing theological education today in a sweeping history of religion in the United States from the standing orders of the colonial period to the voluntary associations of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries He then connects today s challenges to shifts in contemporary society including declining religious affiliation individualization rising desires for authenticity and the unraveling of professions Smith refuses to tell the story as one of progress or decline Instead he puts theological education in eschatological perspective understanding it in relation to its ultimate purpose knowledge of God knowledge so deep so intimate that it requires and accomplishes our transformation This knowledge is not restricted to a professional clerical class but is given for the salvation of all Seeing by the light of this hope Smith calls readers to reimagine church ministry and theological education for this time between the times

Classroom Learning Jason Mills,2023-07-31 Christian higher education institutions across North America are experimenting with radical shifts in educational content and delivery Cyber education is becoming a common supplement or replacement for embodied learning especially since the global coronavirus pandemic Most theological educators have embraced the shift online finding ways to leverage technology to enhance teaching very few consider how technology itself impacts theological students particularly those being educated for pastoral ministry What effect do shifts toward online courses have on those enrolled in programs of pastoral formation Are future ordinands being adequately trained When developed well Web based learning can strengthen intellectual virtues However it can also inhibit character virtue formation and self differentiation Internet usage has been shown to negatively affect social well being resulting in higher rates of anxiety depression and isolation in students furthermore it alters behavior making learners more distracted less empathetic and less able to concentrate and contemplate Theological schools should therefore articulate clearer standards for student formation and strengthen aspects of embodied learning to prepare clergy for ministry in an increasingly complex church and world Leadership in Theological Education, Volume 2 Fritz Deininger,Orbelina Eguizabal,2017-11-14 The ICETE Programme for Academic Leadership IPAL was officially established in 2010 and arose out of the need to provide training to theological institutions in different regions of the world IPAL provides a three year cycle of seminars for the professional development of evangelical academic leaders and administrators to help institutions in their pursuit of quality and excellence
