Practice Development Unit An Experiment In Multidisciplinary Innovation:

The Practice Development Unit Steve Page, David Allsopp, Sally Casley, 2008-04-30 The theory behind the PDU model is outlined and the key principles underpinning it are identified The PDU approach is clearly differentiated from the Nursing Development Unit model Implementation of key principles is explored in depth with reference to specific work carried out in the PDU Issues of evaluation potential future developments and applications of the PDU model are also discussed The book is for nurses and other practitioners working in PDUs and NDUs and for health professionals in any setting with an interest in clinical innovation practice development research and leadership of multi professional teams Key Concepts in

Healthcare Education Annette McIntosh-Scott, Janice Gidman, Elizabeth Mason-Whitehead, 2010-10-29 Key Concepts in Healthcare Education is a guide to the key theories issues and practical considerations involved in healthcare education in the 21st century It is aimed at those studying to be educators in both academic and practice settings as well as supporting the continuing professional development of more experienced lecturers and practice educators The book can be used as a reference source a platform for further study and an essential text The book comprises 40 succinct chapters each covering a topic and featuring a definition of the concept key points discussion of the main issues a case study to illustrate the application to practice and suggestions for further reading For those developing or enhancing their knowledge and skills in education and mentorship in healthcare Key Concepts in Healthcare Education is the ideal companion to learning

Demystifying the Nurse/therapist Consultant Robert McSherry, Sarah Johnson, 2005 This unique text explores the role and responsibilities of nurse and therapist consultants providing a clearer understanding of the terms The information clarifies the advanced specialist practitioner post and how it relates to the nursing and healthcare professions and specific posts East chapter is based around reflective activities case studies and summaries of key points giving further references to recommended reading and useful resources

Clinical Leadership Development John Edmonstone, 2005-02-04 This book has been stimulated by the author's continuing work as a programme tutor on the national Medical Leadership development programmes run through the Centre for Health Planning Management at the University of Keele together with three years part time working with the Centre for the Development of Healthcare Policy Practice at the University of Leeds The experience of working with colleagues in these settings together with his own consultancy work has convinced the author of the centrality of clinical leadership to the success of health care organisations and therefore also of the need to develop that leadership While aware that much excellent work was going on it was also clear that this emerging good practice needed to be brought together into a single publication which captured the innovation and challenge in as comprehensive a way as possible This book is for leaders at all levels in the NHS spanning board and executive levels to directorate network and front line leadership roles It is also of value to those involved in leadership development education and research "That's how we do it...we treat them all the same" Fiona Cowdell, 2014-09-01 The prevalence of dementia is increasing rapidly as the population ages and there is a steady rise in people with dementia being admitted to acute hospitals Media coverage of the care received by people with dementia in acute hospitals is almost wholly negative The purpose of this book is to provide a detailed description of what the experience both positive and negative is really like from the perspectives of patients lay carers and health and social care staff and to propose a model for improving care The book comprises four elements A literature review sets person focused research in the context of dementia research as a whole Research illuminates the experiences of acute hospital care for people with dementia through ethnographic description and narratives To improve practice a development model that engages staff on a cognitive and emotional level based on the philosophies of confluent education and situated learning is explained Finally the strands are drawn together to demonstrate that people with dementia even those at an advanced stage and with superimposed physical illness can be engaged in research that is both ethical and meaningful Improvements in practice are possible and they need to be underpinned by a belief in the personhood of staff as well as that of patients Areas for further research and practice development in this vital subject are identified

Agricultural Innovation Systems The World Bank,2012-02-21 Managing the ability of agriculture to meet rising global demand and to respond to the changes and opportunities will require good policy sustained investments and innovation not business as usual Investments in public Research and Development extension education and their links with one another have elicited high returns and pro poor growth but these investments alone will not elicit innovation at the pace or on the scale required by the intensifying and proliferating challenges confronting agriculture Experience indicates that aside from a strong capacity in Research and Development the ability to innovate is often related to collective action coordination the exchange of knowledge among diverse actors the incentives and resources available to form partnerships and develop businesses and conditions that make it possible for farmers or entrepreneurs to use the innovations While consensus is developing about what is meant by innovation and innovation system no detailed blueprint exists for making agricultural innovation happen at a given time in a given place for a given result The AIS approach that looks at these multiple conditions and relationships that promote innovation in agriculture has however moved from a concept to a sub discipline with principles of analysis and action AIS investments must be specific to the context responding to the stage of development in a particular country and agricultural sector especially the AIS This sourcebook contributes to identifying designing and implementing the investments approaches and complementary interventions that appear most likely to strengthen AIS and to promote agricultural innovation and equitable growth It emphasizes the lessons learned benefits and impacts implementation issues and prospects for replicating or expanding successful practices The information in this sourcebook derives from approaches that have been tested at different scales in different contexts It reflects the experiences and evolving understanding of numerous individuals and organizations concerned with agricultural innovation including the World Bank This information is targeted to the key operational staff in international and regional development agencies and national governments who design and implement lending projects and to the practitioners who design thematic programs and technical assistance packages The sourcebook can also be an important resource for the research community and nongovernmental organizations NGOs

Strategic Approaches to Regional Development Iryna Kristensen,Alexandre Dubois,Jukka Teräs,2018-12-18 The existence and persistence of regional disparities between European regions require context tailored policies to promote structural change This book explores the congruence between place based development and regional competitiveness in the EU context Drawing on a range of social science disciplines this book unpicks the complexity of regional transformation processes aiming to enhance the applicability and transferability of theoretical approaches to innovation and place based regional development in diverse European territorial settings The contributors have a particular focus on less favoured regions and on the application of Smart Specialisation a strategic approach to innovation based regional development to the issues at hand The book comes at a critical moment meeting the growing demand of academics practitioners and policymakers with an interest in promoting regional economic growth and well being

Educational Innovations Beyond Technology Nancy Law, Allan Yuen, Robert Fox, 2011-01-15 The text explores the concept of innovation and analyse and compare different dimensions of innovation found in the various case studies the transfer of innovation and the mechanisms of change on an innovative online case study database on education innovations that has been designed to be used by education practitioners to support organizational leadership international collaboration and reflective practice in the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC eEducation Leadership initiative on a project aimed to support the establishment of communities of practice for education practitioners facilitated through an extendable online database that can be used to contribute and share case studies of their own ICT supported pedagogical innovations It discusses roles of the teacher and the anticipated changes to the education profession at a system level in the coming decade on the basis of emerging changes observed in the case studies and leadership issues at the school level The book analyses change mechanisms for different kinds of innovation and how different contextual and cultural factors interact to bring about the changes observed

Innovations in Psychosocial Interventions for Psychosis Alan Meaden, Andrew Fox, 2015-03-24 Despite the steady acceptance of psychological interventions for people with psychosis in routine practice many people continue to experience problems in their recovery The need to develop new approaches particularly for those who are more difficult to engage and have significant co morbidities is therefore important Innovations in Psychosocial Interventions for Psychosis positions psychological formulation as a key organising principle for the delivery of care within multidisciplinary teams The interventions described all have the common theme of supporting recovery and achieving goals that are of primary importance to the service user which targets interventions on broader obstacles to recovery Along with their experienced contributors Alan Meaden and Andrew Fox introduce new developments in psychological interventions for people affected by psychosis who are hard to reach working in a variety of settings with people at various stages of recovery The book is divided into three parts In part one brief interventions and approaches aimed at promoting engagement are described as interventions in their own right Part two is focused on longer term interventions with individuals Some of these highlight new developments in the evidence base whilst others draw on work applied less frequently to psychosis drawing from the broader psychological therapy practice based evidence field In part three attention is given to innovations in group settings and those aimed at promoting greater multidisciplinary working in settings where a whole team approach is needed Each chapter describes the theory underpinning a different approach its development key strategies principles and stages and contain case examples that illustrate the use of the approach in a clinical setting Innovations in Psychosocial Interventions for Psychosis will be an invaluable resource to professionals working with this client group including clinical and counselling psychologists psychiatrists and other allied health professionals Effective Team Management
