Philippe de Vigneulles and the Art of Prose Translation Catherine M. Jones, 2008 The cultural agenda of Philippe de Vigneulles translator of the Lorraine epic cycle into Middle French prose Over fifty chansons de geste were reworked into prose between the fourteenth and sixteenth centuries for patrons and audiences who demanded updated de rhymed versions of heroic songs While most prose translations were commissioned by noble patrons Philippe de Vigneulles 1471 1527 a cloth merchant of Metz operated outside the system of patronage on self imposed projects with a pronounced civic bias His translation of the monumental Lorraine epic cycle into Middle French prose afforded him an opportunity to reconfigure the city s legendary past and validate the concerns of a prosperous merchant class The craft of mise en prose is examined in the context of the author s larger cultural agenda as he weaves the epic legend into his civic personal and aesthetic preoccupations This perspective illuminates a previously neglected sphere of medieval literary production revealing fundamental assumptions about the epic tradition and the power of prose in urban culture CATHERINE M JONES is françaises du De regimine principum de Gilles de Rome Noëlle-Laetitia Perret, 2011-05-23 This book deals with the different translations into Old French of Giles of Rome s De regimine principum dedicated to Philippe le Bel around 1279 and their readership First hand manuscript research has permitted us to understand not only the general context of their production but also the social conditions of their transmission and circulation This work concentrates on different aspects of the reception of Giles of Rome s pedagogical ideas by his translators who are by no means passive in this process This book provides not only a concrete idea of what Giles of Rome s educational ideas became when mediated for the consumption of a lay public but also how the translators in their translations supported the transmission of re appropriated knowledge

Medieval translation practices Peter Andersen, 2004 This publication presents the papers from the international symposium about medieval translation practices that took place at the University of Copenhagen on the 25th and 26th of October 2002 The symposium was organised in a collaboration between the Institute for Roman Studies the Arnamagnean Institute the English Institute and the Institute of Greek and Latin Text in English and French Reinventing Babel in Medieval French Emma Campbell, 2023 Drawing on case studies from the francophone cultures of Flanders England and northern France this volume explores how medieval texts challenge modern definitions of language text and translation

The Bilingual Text Jan Walsh Hokenson, Marcella Munson, 2014-06-03 Bilingual texts have been left outside the mainstream of both translation theory and literary history Yet the tradition of the bilingual writer moving between different sign systems and audiences to create a text in two languages is a rich and venerable one going back at least to the Middle Ages The self translated bilingual text was commonplace in the multilingual world of medieval and early modern Europe frequently bridging Latin and the vernaculars While self translation persisted among cultured elites it diminished during the consolidation of the nation states in the long era of nationalistic monolingualism only to resurge in the postcolonial era The Bilingual Text makes a first step toward providing the fields of translation studies and comparative literature with a comprehensive account of literary self translation in the West It tracks the shifting paradigms of bilinguality across the centuries and addresses the urgent questions that the bilingual text raises for translation theorists today Is each part of the bilingual text a separate original creation or is each incomplete without the other Is self translation a unique genre Can either version be split off into a single language or literary tradition How can two linguistic versions of a text be fitted into standard models of foreign and domestic texts and cultures Because such texts defeat standard categories of analysis The Bilingual Text reverses the usual critical gaze highlighting not dissimilarities but continuities across versions allowing for dissimilarities within orders of correspondence and englobing the literary as well as linguistic and cultural dimensions of the text Emphasizing the arcs of historical change in concepts of language and translation that inform each case study The Bilingual Text examines the perdurance of this phenomenon in Western societies and literatures The Theory and Practice of Translation in the Middle Ages Rosalynn Voaden, 2003 The interest of the writers of these essays in the intricacies and implications of translation in the Middle Ages or of the translation of medieval texts in the modern period has resulted in a diverse and intellectually stimulating volume The papers in this volume written in either English French or Spanish approach translation from a wide variety of perspectives and offer a range of interpretations of the concept of translation The volume contains essays ranging in time from the Anglo Saxon period to the present and in topic from medieval recipe books to arguments in favour of women administering the sacrament Languages studied include non European languages as well as Latin and numerous European vernaculars as both source and target languages As any translator or student of translation quickly becomes aware it is impossible to divorce language from culture All the contributors to this volume struggle with the complexities of translation as a cultural act even when the focus would seem to be specifically linguistic It is these complexities which lend the study of the theory and practice of translation in the Middle Ages its enduring fascination

French Romance, Medieval Sweden and the Europeanisation of Culture Sofia Lodén, 2021 The adaptation of French texts into medieval Swedish reveals the progress of a Europe wide literary culture Translations of French romances into other vernaculars in the Middle Ages have sometimes been viewed as less important versions of prestigious sources rather than in their place as part of a broader range of complex and wider European text traditions This consideration of how French romance was translated rewritten and interpreted in medieval Sweden focuses on the wider context It examines four major texts which appear in both languages Le Chevalier au lion and its Swedish translation Herr Ivan Le Conte de Floire et Blancheflor and Flores och Blanzeflor Valentin et Sansnom the original French text has been lost but the tale has survived in the prose version Valentin et Orson and the Swedish text Namnl s och Valentin and Paris et Vienne and the fragmentary Swedish version Riddar Paris och jungfru Vienna Each is analysed through the lens of different themes female characters children animals and masculinity The author argues that French romance made a major contribution to the Europeanisation of medieval culture whilst also playing a key role in the formation of a national literature in Sweden

Spiritual Grammar F. Dominic Longo, 2017-07-11 Spiritual Grammar identifies a genre of religious literature that until now has not been recognized as such In this surprising and theoretically nuanced study F Dominic Longo reveals how grammatical structures of language addressed in two medieval texts published nearly four centuries apart from distinct religious traditions offer a metaphor for how the self is embedded in spiritual reality Reading The Grammar of Hearts Nahw al qul b by the great Sufi shaykh and Islamic scholar Abd al Kar m al Qushayr d 1074 and Moralized Grammar Donatus moralizatus by Christian theologian Jean Gerson d 1429 Longo reveals how both authors use the rules of language and syntax to advance their pastoral goals Indeed grammar provides the two masters with a fresh way of explaining spiritual reality to their pupils and to discipline the souls of their readers in the hopes that their writings would make others adept in the grammar of the heart

McFadyen,2017-06-26 The renowned and illustrious tales of King Arthur his knights and the Round Table pervade all European vernaculars as well as the Latin tradition Arthurian narrative material which had originally been transmitted in oral culture began to be inscribed regularly in the twelfth century developing from pseudo historical beginnings in the Latin chronicles of historians such as Geoffrey of Monmouth into masterful literary works like the romances of Chr tien de Troyes Evidently a big hit Arthur found himself being swiftly translated adapted and integrated into the literary traditions of almost every European vernacular during the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries This Handbook seeks to showcase the European character of Arthurian romance both past and present By working across national philological boundaries which in the past have tended to segregate the study of Arthurian romance according to language as well as by exploring primary texts from different vernaculars and the Latin tradition in conjunction with recent theoretical concepts and approaches this Handbook brings together a pioneering and more complete view of the specifically European context of Arthurian romance and promotes the more connected study of Arthurian literature across the entirety of its European context Bulletin
