Clinically relevant, theoretically sound, and scientifically based, this book contains systematic discussions of topics and theoretical perspectives as well as illustrative clinical examples that demonstrate the manner in which principles are applied in Family Focused Therapy.

Couples and Family Therapy in Clinical Practice Ira D. Glick, Douglas S. Rait, Alison M. Heru, Michael Ascher, 2015-10-26

Couples and Family Therapy in Clinical Practice has been the psychiatric and mental health clinician's trusted companion for over four decades. This new fifth edition delivers the essential information that clinicians of all disciplines need to provide effective family-centered interventions for couples and families. A practical clinical guide, it helps clinicians integrate family systems approaches with pharmacotherapies for individual patients and their families. Couples and Family Therapy in Clinical Practice draws on the authors' extensive clinical experience as well as on the scientific literature in the family systems, psychiatry, psychotherapy, and neuroscience fields.

Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J. Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 1993-03-31

Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots, i.e., sources from which these orientations and strategies flow. Thus, an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots, its beginnings. In the mid-1980s, there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself. A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward: a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future. There were precedents for such a project: The Handbook of Marriage and the Family, edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964; the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes, edited by Wesley Burr, Reuben Hill, F. Ivan Nye, and Ira Reiss, published in 1979; and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family, edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz, then in production.

Empowering Families, Helping Adolescents Wendy Snyder, 1998-12

Designed for alcohol and other drug abuse (AODA) and mental health professionals, paraprofessionals, administrators, and policymakers who want to learn more about family-centered treatment of adolescents with alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health disorders, this monograph explains the steps necessary to implement a family-centered approach to treatment. Includes a brief overview of family systems theory and practice; focuses on some specific aspects of family-centered clinical practice; examines administrative, organizational, financing, and training issues; and outlines strategies for addressing these issues.

Lost Childhoods Gregory J. Jurkovic, 2014-06-17

Parentification, the assumption of responsibility for the welfare of family members by children and adolescents, is increasing as a result of various forces both inside and outside of the family. Evidence suggests that pathological parentification of children has serious consequences for them and for succeeding generations as do other forms of maltreatment This work is an exploration of the forces at work in families with parentified children and the treatment strategies that hold the promise of interrupting a cycle of destructive behaviour The author begins by guiding the reader from conceptualization to possible causes and manifestations of parentification facilitating a clear understanding of how and why this scenario is common The second part of the book builds on this foundation to introduce methods of assessment treatment and prevention This part of the text includes insights into the professional ethical and personal challenges faced by therapists who themselves have a history of pathological parentification

Multi-Systemic Structural-Strategic Interventions for Child and Adolescent Behavior Problems Patrick H Tolan, 2018-10-24 Learn to tackle the very challenging behavior problems of children and adolescents that you commonly see in your family therapy practice This practical book provides the practicing clinician with an overview of structural strategic approaches for treating child and adolescent behavior problems It is unique in specifying successful approaches for a range of behavior problems with all approaches based on the same concept the Structural Strategic model of family therapy Behavior problems are the most common reason for referral of children and adolescents for therapy In addition behavior problems are major impediments to educational progress and full benefit from medical care Multi Systemic Structural Strategic Interventions for Child and Adolescent Behavior Problems focuses on the major types of behavior problems antisocial and delinquent behavior drug abuse eating disorders sex related problems school behavioral problems and problems with compliance with pediatric medical care Chapters by Editor Patrick H Tolan and an impressive group of contributing authors will expand your knowledge and the utility of structural strategic family therapy by emphasizing the role of responsibility and accountability of family members This volume is the first to use this view to specifically address the treatment of a variety of behavior problems Techniques for applying structural strategic approaches in working with other systems including schools are also presented Aimed at the practicing clinician especially those who consider themselves primarily family therapists Multi Systemic Structural Strategic Interventions for Child and Adolescent Behavior Problems is of interest to any professional treating children and adolescents A useful text for trainers of interns and residents and faculty of independent family therapy training programs this major book is also an important addition to specialized courses in family therapy child therapy and SS therapy and graduate courses in social work psychology and nursing programs

The Practice of Family Therapy Suzanne Midori Hanna, Derek A. Ball, 2024-12-10 Now in its sixth edition The Practice of Family Therapy comes at a time when traditional approaches to psychotherapy have given way to multidimensional strategies that best serve the needs of diverse groups who are grappling with the many challenges unique to family therapy practice With expanded coverage of different models along with new developments in evidence based and postmodern practices this integrative textbook bridges the gap between science and systemic relational approaches as it guides the reader through each stage of family therapy

Part I lays the groundwork by introducing the first second and third generation models of family therapy teaching the reader to integrate different elements from these models into a systemic structure of practice Part II explores the practical application of these models including scripts for specific interventions and newly updated clinical examples that highlight how to effectively work with diverse client populations of today Students will learn how to make connections between individual symptoms and cutting edge family practices to respond successfully to cases involving substance abuse trauma grief depression suicide risk violence LGBTQIA families and severely mentally ill clients and their families This newly updated and streamlined edition includes fresh information on working with LGBTQIA families and on the family as a resource for suicidal members and it also includes new discussion of models such as emotion focused couple therapy and internal family systems This text also encourages students to think more broadly about community connections as important resources for clients such as chosen families and cultural identities that affect one s sense of belonging in relationships With study guides for each model and a glossary to review main concepts this text is a comprehensive and accessible guide for students and practitioners Aligned with the knowledge and content statements of the Association of Marital and Family Therapy Regulatory Boards AMFTRB this textbook will be key reading for graduate students who are preparing for the national licensing exam in marriage and family therapy
