Pragmatic Construction Of The Self In English Composition Theory:

A Pragmatic Construction of the Self in English Composition Theory Joseph Zeppetello, 1999 For composition instructors caught between traditional theories that emphasize writing skills and newer theories that require entering a political arena on behalf of certain neglected groups of students Zeppetello English Marist College Poughkeepsie New York adapts the thought of Richard Rorty into a pragmatic alternative for the classroom He considers the essentialist self which is out there waiting to be discovered and understood the linguistic self which is contingent and entirely created by language and the pragmatic self both classical and modern which is contingent on language which is also in turn contingent The text is double spaced Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

An Interpersonal Pragmatic Study of Professional Identity Construction in Chinese Televised Debating Discourse Chengtuan Li, 2021-12-04 This book explores debaters professional identity construction through implicit negation in televised debates from an interpersonal pragmatic perspective It reveals the linguistic strategies used to indirectly negate the identity of others and highlights three pairs of professional identity constructed through implicit negation 1 expert vs non expert identity 2 outsider vs insider identity 3 authentic vs false identity Furthermore it proposes the Inter relationality Principle self through other identity and other through self identity which contribute to Bucholtz and Hall s theory of identity construction Lastly the book discusses the relations between professional identity construction through implicit negation and im politeness and builds a model of professional identity construction through implicit negation based on interpersonal pragmatics By focusing on the interpersonal pragmatics of professional identity construction the book advances the interpersonal pragmatic study of identity construction im politeness and implicit negation As such it is a valuable resource for a broad readership including graduate students and scholars who are interested in professional identity construction implicit negation and im politeness research

Toward a Motivation Model of Pragmatics Rong Chen, 2022-07-18

With the discursive turn has come a distrust a complete rejection by some of theories that seek deeper reasons for surface phenomena Rong Chen argues that this distrust with its accompanying overemphasis on specificity and fluidity of linguistic meaning and social values is unwarranted and unhelpful Drawing on insights from social theories and various strands of pragmatics he proposes a motivation model of pragmatics MMP contending that language use can be adequately coherently and elegantly studied via the motivation behind it in its varied and dynamic contexts The model with its well laid out components is then applied to im politeness research cross cultural pragmatics diachronic pragmatics discourse and genre analysis conversation analysis identity construction and the study of metaphor sarcasm parody and lying MMP is thus a framework aimed at accounting for fluidity with stable notions specificity with general principles and differences with similar underlying factors As such the book should appeal to students of pragmatics im politeness conversation analysis sociolinguistics applied linguistics communication sociology and psychology

Identity and Pragmatic Language Use Yoko Nogami, 2020-06-22 ELF English as a lingua franca research counters the monocentric view of English based on norms of native speakers of English and supports any usages reflecting sociopragmatic and pragmalinguistic reality of ELF communication Such an approach empowers any speakers of English to contemplate their own varieties of English as legitimate providing them greater options for positive self identification Based on qualitative and interpretive methodology this book illustrates how Japanese L2 English users establish identities related to L2 English as part of their multiple identities and how they explore new identity options through ELF Moreover the author demonstrates how power relations relating to English language are constructed through the participants experiences in ELF interactions Also analysis of the data reveals that to what degree the Japanese L2 English users wish to affiliate with particular groups in ELF interactions with people from diverse cultural background Because of the multidisciplinary nature of the study this book will appeal to a broad audience such as scholars and students who are interested in further understanding of identity and sociocultural issues involved in intercultural communication

Tracking Interaction in Chinese Scholars' Academic Writing Jing Wei, 2024-06-15 This book tracks changes in the use of metadiscourse in Chinese scholars English and Chinese research articles discusses how these changes reflect changes in Chinese scholars interactions with their peers in China and outside China and analyzes how Chinese scholars are responding to changes in the academic context that embrace and shape rhetorical practices in the academic world Around the turn of the twenty first century the Chinese government declared the goal of enhancing international soft power and one important way to achieve this goal is to promote China s global academic influence China has indeed made remarkable strides in terms of academic output by publishing Chinese scholars research papers and monographs around the world However international soft power means more than just the export of papers or books it means connecting to and participating in the academic world For this to happen Chinese scholars must get to know their international counterparts understand their rhetorical preferences and be willing and able to accommodate their needs      Dialogue, Science and Academic Writing Zohar Livnat,2012-01-11 This book investigates the dialogic nature of research articles from the perspective of discourse analysis based on theories of dialogicity It proposes a theoretical and applied framework for the understanding and exploration of scientific dialogicity Focusing on some dialogic components among them citations concession inclusive we and interrogatives a combined model of scientific dialogicity is proposed that reflects the place and role of various linguistic structures against the background of various theoretical approaches to dialogicity Taking this combined model as a basis the analysis demonstrates how scientific dialogicity is realized in an actual scientific dispute and how a scientific project is constructed step by step by means of a dialogue with its readers and discourse community A number of different patterns of scientific dialogicity are offered characterized by the different levels of the polemic held with the research world and other specific researchers from the classic moderate and polite dialogicity to a direct and personal confrontation between scientists
