Pragmatism and Education , 2005-01-01 The papers in this book have emerged from a conference which was organized in Zurich in 2003 by the Pestalozzianum Research Institute for the History of Education and the Educational Institute of the University of Zurich The conference was organized in light of the increasing internationalization of educational discussion within the last ten to twenty years and the topic was the relation between pragmatism and educational theory The contributions appear in a kind of chronological order First James A Good examines the repeatedly asserted Hegelian roots of Dewey's philosophy while Hans Peter Krüger Meike Sophia Baader and Roswitha Lehmann Rommel address specific aspects of pragmatism such as public communication religion and aesthetics with the main emphasis of the analysis on William James and John Dewey Jane Addams and George Herbert Mead's education stands at the center of interest in the contributions by Daniel Tröhler Birgit Althans Gert Biesta and Jürgen Oelkers while Philipp

Gonon and Stefan Bittner turn to the question of why pragmatism had such a hard time of gaining a foothold in Germany The final contribution Philip W Jackson s systematic analysis of Dewey s thought breaks with the chronological perspective of the volume shifting the focus to other central and fruitful issues Philosophy in Educational Research David

Bridges,2016-12-01 This book provides critical and reflective discussions of a wide range of issues arising in education at the interface between philosophy research policy and practice It addresses epistemological questions about the intellectual resources that underpin educational research explores the relationship between philosophy and educational research and examines debates about truth and truthfulness in educational research Furthermore it looks at issues to do with the relationship between research practice and policy and discusses questions about ethics and educational research Finally the book delves into the deeply contested area of research quality assessment The book is based on extensive engagement in empirically based educational research projects and in the institutional and professional management of research as well as in philosophical work It clarifies what is at stake in international debates around educational research and teases out the nature of the arguments and where argument permits the conclusions to which these point The book discusses these familiar themes using less predictable sources and points of reference such as codes of social obligation in contemporary Egypt and New Zealand the Soviet and the inspiration of the nineteenth century philosopher Abai in contemporary Kazakhstan seventeenth century France Pascal and the disputes between Jesuits and Jansenites eighteenth century Italy Giambattista Vico and la scienza nuova educational magic in traditional Ethiopia and ends at a banquet with Socrates and dinner with wine and a conversation loving Montaigne Empirical Methods for Evaluating Educational Interventions Gary D.

Phye,Daniel H. Robinson,Joel Levin,2005-04-22 New US government requirements state that federally funded grants and school programs must prove that they are based on scientifically proved improvements in teaching and learning All new grants must show they are based on scientifically sound research to be funded and budgets to schools must likewise show that they are based on scientifically sound research However the movement in education over the past several years has been toward qualitative rather than quantitative measures The new legislation comes at a time when researchers are ill trained to measure results or even to frame questions in an empirical way and when school administrators and teachers are no longer remember or were never trained to prove statistically that their programs are effective Experimental Methods for Evaluating Educational Interventions is a tutorial on what it means to frame a question in an empirical manner how one needs to test that a method works what statistics one uses to measure effectiveness and how to document these findings in a way so as to be compliant with new empirically based requirements The book is simplistic enough to be accessible to those teaching and administrative educational professionals long out of schooling but comprehensive and sophisticated enough to be of use to researchers who know experimental design and statistics but don t know how to use what they know to write acceptable grant proposals or to get governmental funding for their programs Provides an overview to interpreting empirical data in education Reviews data analysis techniques use and interpretation Discusses research on learning instruction and curriculum Explores importance of showing progress as well as cause and effect Identifies obstacles to applying research into practice Examines policy development for states nations and countries

Educational Research: Proofs, Arguments, and Other Reasonings Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2009-10-08 This book focuses on the language of educational research as well as on the language of education It conceives both as social practices and investigates how rhetoric plays a part in the complex process of historically situated argumentation The book aims to answer such questions as What is the nature of the arguments and the kinds of sources one relies on and What kind of reasoning is offered to convince practitioners Taking postmodern criticism seriously the contributors argue that the scholar or researcher cannot indulge in relativism or be satisfied with a description of particular cases Instead theoreticians as well as practitioners have to engage in sound thinking and dialogue The chapters in this volume highlight relevant characteristics of the language of educational research In addition attention is paid to the language of particular debates which figure prominently in the wider educational context such as the language of goals of parenting citizenship and capability

Philosophy of Education George Herbert Mead, Gert J. J. Biesta, Daniel Trohler, 2015-11-17 Never before published this book features George Herbert Mead s illuminating lectures on the Philosophy of Education at the University of Chicago during the early 20th century These lectures provide unique insight into Mead s educational thought and reveal how his early psychological writings on the social character of meaning and the social origin of reflective consciousness was central in the development of what Mead referred to as his social conception of education The introduction to the book provides an overview of Mead s educational thought and places it against the wider social intellectual and historical background of modern educational concepts

Generalizing from Educational Research Kadriye Ercikan, Wolff-Michael Roth, 2009-01-26 Tackling one of the most critical issues in education research today how research methods are related to value and meaningfulness this frontline volume presents an integrated approach to educational inquiry where the focus is on creating meaningful findings that are not polarized by qualitative versus quantitative methodologies This approach allows readers to better understand possibilities and shortcomings of different types of research

Realism and Educational Research David Scott, 2002-01-04 Although the literature of social research covers a vast range of material there has been little on the role of social theory in educational research In this respect David Scott's book covers an important gap in the market as it focuses on the centrality of social theory in a variety of empirical projects. The volume covers a range of conceptual and theoretical discussions and subsequently applies these concepts to our analysis of empirical studies. As a consequence it is a volume that deserves to be read widely by students and researchers alike.

Science Education in Theory and Practice Ben Akpan, Teresa J. Kennedy, 2020-09-08. This book provides a collection of applicable learning theories and their applications to science teaching. It presents a synthesis of historical theories while also providing practical implications for improvement of pedagogical practices aimed at advancing the field into the future. The theoretical viewpoints included in this volume span cognitive and social human development, address theories of learning and describe approaches to teaching and curriculum development. The book presents and discusses humanistic, behaviourist, cognitivist and constructivist theories. In addition, it looks at other theories such as multiple intelligences, theory systems, thinking, gender, sexuality theory and indigenous knowledge systems. Each chapter follows a reader motivated approach anchored on a narrative genre. The book serves as a guide for those aiming to create optional learning experiences to prepare the next generation STEM workforce.

Proceedings of the 23rd European Conference on Research Methodology for Business and Management Studies Dr Ana Isabel Azevedo, 2024-07-04. These proceedings represent the work of contributors to the 23rd European Conference on Research Methodology (ECRM 2024) hosted by ISCAP in Porto, Portugal on 4-5 July 2024. The Conference Co-Chairs are Dr Ana Isabel Azevedo and Dr Jos Manuel Azevedo, both from ISCAP, Portugal. ECRM is a well-established event on the academic research calendar and now in its 23rd year and remains an opportunity for participants to share ideas and meet. The aims and scope of this conference is to bring together researchers from a range of disciplines and sectors to share expertise and novel approaches in business and management research methods. ECRM is interested in contributions on the subject of research methods used in business and management research. The papers tend to either focus directly on creating and implementing innovative methodologies or research papers which highlight an interesting use of methodologies in their study. The opening keynote presentation is given by Marta Agostinho, Executive Director of EU LIFE, with the title 'Excellent Scientific Research: What Does it Mean and Why Should we Care About it'. On the second day, Professor Susanne Tietze from The University of Sheffield Hallam, UK, will give a talk on the subject 'Cross Language Research Methods: Translation and Linguistic Reflexivity'. With an initial submission of 90 abstracts after the double-blind peer review process, there are 30 Academic research papers, 1 PhD research paper, 1 Masters Research paper and 1 work in progress paper published in these Conference Proceedings. These papers represent research from India, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Czech Republic, Estonia, Germany, India, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Morocco, Norway, Oman, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, South Africa, Sweden, UK and the USA.

Mixed Methods and Credibility of Evidence in Evaluation Donna M. Mertens, Sharlene Hesse-Biber, 2013-06-11

Mixed methods in evaluation have the potential to enhance the credibility of evaluation and the outcomes of evaluation This issue explores advances in understanding mixed methods in philosophical theoretical and methodological terms and presents specific illustrations of the application of these concepts in evaluation practice Leading thinkers in the mixed methods evaluation community provide frameworks and strategies that are associated with improving the probability of reaching the goals of enhanced credibility for evaluations the evidence they produce and the actions taken as a result of the evaluation findings This is the 138th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation an official publication of the American Evaluation Association

Educational Research Gert Biesta, 2020-03-19 With so much technical information about research methods it is easy to lose sight of the bigger picture of why we carry out educational research and where and how research might contribute to the improvement of education Educational Research An Unorthodox Introduction steps you through the wider social and political contexts of educational research focusing on fundamental questions such as what education actually is and what it is for In doing so the book raises questions that more orthodox introductions to the theory and practice of educational research often leave aside Gert Biesta covers a range of key issues which permeate any educational research project including the roles of theory in research what it means and takes to improve education the nature of educational practice the history of educational research and scholarship the connection between research professionalism and democracy and what the social and political dimensions of academic publishing are Each chapter includes a set of questions to stimulate further discussion

Reflective Practice in Educational Research Linda Evans, 2002-09-23 Have you ever found that your initial research training if indeed you received one has proved not entirely adequate Has you ever found research more complex or intractable than expected If so this book is for you Drawing on examples from her own research and others Linda Evans shows how as reflective practioners researchers as can develop more advanced methods and understandings

Pragmatism and Modernities , 2010-01-01 Pragmatism belongs at least to a certain degree to the Protestant based reaction towards the economic social and political developments of the time in the US and it is no coincidence that the pragmatists all came from religious families if not even theologian families But these life conditions have changed over the course of the last century as much as the Protestant self assurance has been questioned more and more The question discussed in this book by international scholars is as to whether the possible modernity of pragmatism of around and after 1900 can still be labeled modern today in the modernity or post modernity around and after 2000 Has philosophy and philosophy of education found better alternatives Have the alternatives of the time around 1900 proven to be better Were the contemporary critics of pragmatism right These questions are discussed in fourteen chapters clustered in three lager parts The first part deals with pragmatism and modernity around 1900 the second part discusses contemporary alternatives to pragmatism and critics of pragmatism and the third and last part of the book deals with the modernity of pragmatism today Intended audience philosophers philosophers of education historians historians of education

religious educators historians of sociology cultural historians political scientists postmodernists
