Second Language Writing Research Paul Kei Matsuda, Tony Silva, 2014-04-08 This book consists of original chapters on various methodological issues in second language writing research Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing Tony Silva, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2010-01-15 Theory has been used widely in the field of second language writing Second language writing specialists teachers researchers and administrators have yet to have an open and sustained conversation about what theory is how it works and more important how to practice theory Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing features fourteen essays by distinguished scholars in second language writing who explore various aspects of theoretical work that goes on in the field Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing Rosa M. Manchón, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2016-09-12 The Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing is an authoritative reference compendium of the theory and research on second and foreign language writing that can be of value to researchers professionals and graduate students It is intended both as a retrospective critical reflection that can situate research on L2 writing in its historical context and provide a state of the art view of past achievements and as a prospective critical analysis of what lies ahead in terms of theory research and applications Accordingly the Handbook aims to provide i foundational information on the emergence and subsequent evolution of the field ii state of the art surveys of available theoretical and research basic and applied insights iii overviews of research methods in L2 writing research iv critical reflections on future developments and iv explorations of existing and emerging disciplinary interfaces with other fields of inquiry The Psycholinguistics of Bilingualism François Grosjean, Ping Li, 2013-01-09 The Psycholinguistics of Bilingualism presents a comprehensive introduction to the foundations of bilingualism covering language processing language acquisition cognition and the bilingual brain This thorough introduction to the psycholinguistics of bilingualism is accessible to non specialists with little previous exposure to the field Introduces students to the methodological approaches currently employed in the field including observation experimentation verbal and computational modelling and brain imaging Examines spoken and written language processing simultaneous and successive language acquisition bilingual memory and cognitive effects and neurolinguistic and neuro computational models of the bilingual brain Written in an accessible style by two of the field s leading researchers together with contributions from internationally renowned scholars Featuring chapter by chapter research questions this is an essential resource for those seeking insights into the bilingual mind and our current knowledge of the cognitive basis of bilingualism Teaching and Researching Writing Ken Hyland, 2021-09-23 The new edition of Ken Hyland s text provides an authoritative guide to writing theory research and teaching Emphasising the dynamic relationship between scholarship and pedagogy it shows how research feeds into teaching practice Teaching and Researching Writing introduces readers to key conceptual issues in the field today and reinforces their understanding with detailed cases then offers tools for further investigating areas of interest This is the essential resource for students of applied linguistics and language education to acquire and operationalise writing research theories methods findings and practices as well as for scholars and practitioners looking to learn more about writing and literacy New to the fourth edition Added or expanded coverage of important topics such as translingualism digital literacies and technologies multimodal and social media writing action research teacher reflection curriculum design teaching young learners and discipline specific and profession specific writing Updated throughout including revision to case studies and classroom practices and discussion of Rhetorical Genre Studies intercultural rhetoric and expertise Reorganised References and Resources section for ease of use for students researchers and teachers

Written Corrective Feedback in Second Language Acquisition and Writing John Bitchener, Dana R. Ferris, 2012-03-15 What should language and writing teachers do about giving students written corrective feedback This book surveys theory research and practice on the important and sometimes controversial issue of written corrective feedback also known as error grammar correction and its impact on second language acquisition and second language writing development Offering state of the art treatment of a topic that is highly relevant to both researchers and practitioners it critically analyzes and synthesizes several parallel and complementary strands of research work on error feedback both oral and written in SLA and studies of the impact of error correction in writing composition courses and addresses practical applications Drawing from both second language acquisition and writing composition literature this volume is the first to intentionally connect these two separate but important lines of inquiry

Goals for Academic Writing Alister H. Cumming, 2006-01-01 This book documents the results of a multi year project that investigated the goals for writing improvement among 45 students and their instructors in intensive courses of English as a Second Language ESL then a year later in academic programs at two Canadian universities The researchers present a detailed framework to describe these goals from the perspectives of the students as well as their instructors The goals are analyzed for groups of students from particular backgrounds internationally for changes over time and in relation to the ESL and academic courses The authors use activity theory goal theory various sociolinguistic concepts and multiple data sources interviews observations stimulated recalls questionnaires and text analyses to provide a contextually grounded perspective on learning teaching writing second language development and curriculum policy The book will interest researchers educators and administrators of ESL university college and literacy programs around the world

Intercultural Language Use and Language Learning Eva Alcon Soler, Maria Pilar Safont Jorda, 2007-05-24 Eva Alcon Soler Maria Pilar Safont Jord Universitat Jaume I Spain The main purpose of the present book is to broaden the scope of research on the development of intercultural communicative competence Bearing this purpose in mind English learners are considered as intercultural speakers who share their interest for engaging in real life communication According to Byram and Fleming 1998 the intercultural speaker is someone with knowledge of one or more cultures and social identities and who enjoys discovering and maintaining relationships with people from other cultural backgrounds although s he has not been formally trained for that purpose Besides possessing knowledge of at least two cultures is the case of many learners in bilingual or multilingual communities In these contexts the objective of language learning should then focus on developing intercultural competence which in turn may involve promoting language diversity while encouraging English as both a means and an end of instruction see Alc n this volume This is the idea underlying the volume which further sustains Kramsch's argument 1998 against the native non native dichotomy Following that author we also believe that in a multilingual world where learners may belong to more than one speech community their main goal is not to become a native speaker of English but to use this language as a tool for interaction among many other languages and cultures

Aspects of Language Development in an Intensive English Program

Alan Juffs, 2020-03-02 While there is much in the literature on ESL development this book is the first of its kind to track the development of specific language abilities in an Intensive English Program IEP longitudinally and highlights the implications of this particular study's findings for future IEP implementation and practice and ESL and SLA research The volume draws on many years worth of data from learners at an IEP at the University of Pittsburgh to explore selected aspects of language development including lexical grammatical speaking and writing abilities in addition to placement assessment practices and student learning outcomes A concluding chapter points to the ways in which these findings can be applied to decision making around IEP curriculum development and the future role of IEPs in higher education more broadly With its focus on students in IEP settings and the concentration on data from students evaluated over multiple semesters this volume offers a unique opportunity in which to examine longitudinal developmental patterns of different L1 groups on a variety of measures from the same learners and will be key reading for students and researchers in second language acquisition English for Academic Purposes language education and applied linguistics
