Multisensory Human Kathy L. Callahan, 2005-04 An anthropologist connects the recent explosion of interest in intuition, regression therapy, and near-death experiences to our very evolution as a species. In this rich, interesting read, Dr. Kathy Callahan explains that we are in the middle of an extremely important stage of our growth as human beings. As a species, we are reaching new heights in our awareness that we are more than just bodies walking the earth; we are immortal souls. The transformation is so profound that Dr. Callahan proposes a new subspecies: Homo sapiens intueri. This name refers to our quickly expanding ability to acquire a deeper, more personal knowledge. Using information from current anthropology, the Edgar Cayce material, the Bible, and many other sources, the author traces our creation and development as whole beings and then proposes what is in store for us next as a species.

Being Scioto Hopewell: Ritual Drama and Personhood in Cross-Cultural Perspective Christopher Carr, 2022-01-05 This book, in two volumes, breathes fresh air empirically, methodologically, and theoretically into understanding the rich ceremonial lives, the philosophical, religious knowledge, and the impressive material feats and labor organization that distinguish Hopewell Indians of central Ohio and neighboring regions during the first centuries CE. The first volume defines cross culturally for the first time the ritual drama as a genre of social performance. It reconstructs and compares parts of 14 such dramas that Hopewellian and other Woodland period peoples performed in their ceremonial centers to help the soul like essences of their deceased make the journey to an afterlife. The second volume builds and critiques ten formal cross cultural models of personhood and the self and infers the nature of Scioto Hopewell people's ontology. Two facets of their ontology are found to have been instrumental in their creating the intercommunity alliances and cooperation and gathering the labor required to construct their huge multicomunity ceremonial centers: a relational collective concept of the self defined by the ethical quality of the relationships one has with other beings and a concept of multiple soul like essences that compose a human being and can be harnessed strategically to create familial like ethical bonds of cooperation among individuals and communities. The archaeological reconstructions of Hopewellian ritual dramas and concepts of personhood and the self and of Hopewell people's strategic uses of these are informed by three large surveys of historic Woodland and Plains Indians narratives, ideas and rites about journeys to afterlives, the creatures who inhabit the cosmos and the nature and functions of soul like essences coupled with rich contextual archaeological and bioarchaeological taphonomic analyses. The bioarchaeological taphonomic method of l'anthropologie de terrain new to North American archaeology is introduced and applied. In all the research in this book vitalizes a vision of an anthropology committed to native logic and motivation and skeptical of the imposition of Western world views and categories onto native peoples.
