Second Strike Arguments About Nuclear War In South Asia Hardcover:

Second Strike Rajesh Rajagopalan, 2005 In May 1998 India tested a series of nuclear devices in Pokharan Two weeks later Pakistan announced a matching series of its own tests A year later when the two countries had a bitter confrontation in Kargil the worst fears of proliferation pessimists appeared to be coming true The alarm bells have never really stopped ringing since then In Second Strike Rajesh Rajagopalan challenges much of the conventional wisdom on the perceived nuclear danger in the region and suggests that the nuclear situation in South Asia is far less dangerous and much more stable than it is generally given credit for Presenting a threefold case the author focuses on the impact of nuclear doctrines on stability a hitherto neglected aspect of the nuclear debate and argues that Indian and Pakistani doctrines reduce the pressures on the two nuclear forces Next he presents the view that the doctrines of the two countries lessen the likelihood of accidents and other dangers such as terrorists stealing nuclear weapons the crucial role played by political leaders and contends that political leaders tighten control over nuclear weapons in critical situations is uniquely Southern Californian Publishers Weekly ,1985 Nuclear Proliferation in South Asia Manas Chatterji,Padmanabh M. Kamath,2020-11-24 The book explains the Bharatiya Janata Party s BJP compulsions to commit its government in the election manifesto of 2014 to study the Indian Nuclear Doctrine IND and revise and update it to make it relevant to contemporary geostrategic realities Contributors to this volume have cited Pakistan s deployment of tactical nuclear weapons TNWs and use of international terrorism IT as the main reasons for the BJP advocating a review of the IND It is suggested that the addition of use of TNWs or IT by state or non state actors in the existing IND is a sufficient cause for India to ensure massive retaliation with a second strike To make the threat of a second strike realistic it is necessary to acquire sufficient second strike capabilities in particular submarine launched ballistic missiles What is the relevance of IND in the absence of India not having a declared national security doctrine Nuclear know how is necessary for generating nuclear energy various issues relating to it are analysed The IND also claims nuclear disarmament as its inseparable goal and this book highlights the Indian commitment to achieve it Issues raised here have a global reach Students of international relations diplomats policy makers and those attentive to public debate will find the book interesting and immensely useful

The Economist ,1967 The Nuclear Shadow over South Asia, 1947 to the Present Kaushik Roy,2017-03-02 This collection of seminal articles illustrates the reasons for the spiraling nuclear race in the Asian subcontinent and introduces the principal debates in the field Authors discuss whether the acquisition of nuclear weapons by the South Asian powers has raised the likelihood of a nuclear war in the subcontinent or reduced the chance of a conventional war breaking out They examine whether a small nuclear arsenal or a nuclear triad as declared by India is suitable for bringing stability to the region as well as the risk of an accidental nuclear conflagration The first section charts the evolution of nuclear programmes on the basis of realpolitik and the second section analyses nuclear policies on the basis of religious and cultural ethos A few essays turn the spotlight on the role of external powers in accelerating decelerating and mediating the ongoing nuclear tension between India and Pakistan South Asia and the Nuclear Future ,2004 U S policy toward the nuclearization of India and Pakistan has shifted from sanctions and rollback to reluctant acceptance of their nuclear status The United States now seeks to ensure that India and Pakistan become responsible nuclear powers and is emphasizing cooperative measures to prevent war secure weapons and material from terrorist theft and stop the further spread of nuclear weapons Analyses of Indian and Pakistani nuclear behavior must consider the domestic political motivations of key decisionmakers and not just national security interests Nuclear weapons in South Asia have both precipitated one limited war Kargil 1999 and prevented another the 2001 02 crisis The lessons learned from these events in New Delhi and Islamabad may be dissimilar India and Pakistan might be willing to cooperate with the broader nuclear nonproliferation regime even if they cannot join the NPT as nuclear weapons states Such a step could be essential in bolstering efforts to prevent illicit nuclear assistance to new proliferating nations The strategic effects of a potential Indian missile defense deployment are highly uncertain The United States India and Pakistan have mutual interests in preventing nuclear terrorism which could lead to deeper cooperation among the three countries
