Reframing Trauma in Contemporary Fiction Film Tarja Laine,2023-07-31 In Reframing Trauma in Contemporary Fiction Film Tarja Laine provides insights into how cinema engages its spectator emotionally with the pathology of memory that lies at the heart of trauma By arguing that cinema communicates the inability to process a traumatic event by means of its aesthetic specificity Laine demonstrates that traumatic cinema can be an important source of ethical knowledge both within and beyond the cinematic world The films discussed in this book do not necessarily narrate trauma but embody that aspect of trauma which resists narrativization This is why there are modes of affective engagement beyond storytelling by which spectators can meaningfully relate to trauma Scholars of film studies media studies and philosophy will find this book of particular interest

Kwakiutl Tales Franz Boas,1910

In the Ruins of the Cold War Bunker Luke Bennett,2017-06-22 During the Cold War military and civil defence bunkers were an evocative materialisation of deadly military stand off They were also a symbol of a deeply affective pervasive anxiety about the prospect of world destroying nuclear war But following the sudden fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 these sites were swiftly abandoned and exposed to both material and semantic ruination This volume investigates the uses and meanings now projected onto these seeming blank derelict spaces It explores how engagements with bunker ruins provide fertile ground for the study of improvised meaning making place attachment hobby practices social materiality and trauma studies With its commentators ranging across the arts and humanities and the social sciences this multi disciplinary collection sets a concern with the phenomenological qualities of these places as contemporary ruins and of their strange affective affordances alongside scholarship examining how these places embody and or otherwise connect with their Cold War originations and purpose both materially and through memory and trauma Each contribution reflexively considers the process of engaging with these places and whether via the archive or direct sensory immersion In doing so the book broadens the bunker s contemporary signification and contributes to theoretically informed analysis of ruination place attachment meaning making and material culture
