Green Politics is Eutopian Paul Gilk, 2009-02-26 There have been various thinkers who have attempted to explain the Earth altering even ecocidal features in modern life Jacques Ellul for instance a French intellectual became famous for his exposition of technique But technique does not adequately address the institutional context out of which technique itself arises In these essays Paul Gilk stands on the shoulders of two American scholars in particular One is world historian Lewis Mumford whose work spans fifty years of scholarship The other is classics professor Norman O Brown who brought his erudition into a systematic study of Freud From these intellectuals especially Gilk concludes that the accelerating ecocidal characteristics of globalisation are inherent manifestations of perfectionist utopian predatory institutions endemic to civilisation Our great difficulty in arriving at or accepting this conclusion is that civilisation contains no negatives it is strictly a positive construct We are therefore incapable of thinking critically about it A corrective is slowly emerging from Green intellectuals Green politics says Gilk is not utopian but eutopian It is not aimed at perfectionist immortality but rather at earthly wholeness Yet the ethical message of Green politics confronts a society saturated with utopian mythology The question is to what extent and at what speed ecological and cultural breakdown will dissolve civilised utopian certitudes and provide the requisite openings for the growth of Green eutopian culture

After Human Thomas Connolly, 2021-04-01 Shortlisted for the British Fantasy Awards Non Fiction 2022 Shortlisted for the Locus Science Fiction Foundation Non Fiction Award 2022 SF has long been understood as a literature of radical potential capable of imagining entirely new worlds and ways of being Yet SF has been slow to embrace posthumanist ideas about the human subject The human of the SF tradition is instead a liminal being caught somewhere between the transcendent Man of classical humanism and the subversive cyborg of posthumanist thought This study offers a critical history of the human in SF By examining a range of SF works from 1818 to the 1970s it seeks to answer some key questions What role does technology play in defining what it means to be or not to be human How do these writers understand the relationship between humanity and the rest of nature And how can we use SF to re examine our ethical position towards the non human world and move to more egalitarian understandings of the human subject The Masked Kid Goes West Dan Neiser,2020-06-01 Graduating from high school the Masked Kid narrowly escapes a mob of angry classmates blaming him for making their annuals late He becomes a budding young college scientist with good intentions but terrorizes his fellow students with experiments gone wrong He goes on to become a Secret Agent in his own mind horrifying dates with a car that cuts out intermittently on dark highways Later fantasizing that he is the Caped Crusader he applies Roommate Revenge to defend his Boy Wonder roommate against a heartless ex girlfriend Nobody is safe the Masked Kid is on the loose again and will soon be heading West The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004 Starcombing David Langford,2009-05-01 Starcombing contains eighty five newly collected pieces of David Langford s witty commentary on the SF fantasy scene columns articles reviews essays even a few short short stories from the famous Futures page in Nature Compulsive reading crammed with insights and laughs The Ultimate Teen Book Guide Daniel Hahn,Leonie Flynn,Susan Reuben,2007-12-26 Covering such genres as fantasy horror chick lit graphic novels sci fi and mystery an all encompassing must have resource profiles more than 700 of the best books for teens from the classics to the latest bestsellers Simultaneous Science Fiction and Narrative Form David Roberts,Andrew Milner,Peter Murphy,2023-02-23 Establishing science fiction as its own distinct and increasingly important narrative form this book explores how the genre challenges pervasive perceptions of society as they appear in the conventional modern novel Inspired by and building upon Georg Luk cs s criticism of the orthodox novel for its depiction of life as alienating and disjointed Milner Murphy and Roberts demonstrate that science fiction steps beyond this contemporary form to be a more constructive form of literature one able to conceive of society as complete integrated and well rounded Taking stock of three kinds of science fiction which lie outside the scope of the modern novel theological ontological science fiction the science fiction of future history and epic science fiction this book demonstrates the genre s unique capacity to encapsulate the whole world persons and events things and objects in a glance and address the motive behind the longing for meaningful totality With reference to a vast array of works by authors such as Michel Houellebecq Elias Canetti Isaac Asimov Jules Verne H G Wells Aldous Huxley Marge Piercy Iain M Banks Margaret Atwood Ursula K Le Guin William Gibson Dirk C Fleck Philip K Dick George Orwell and Kazuo Ishiguro this book offers a compelling argument for rethinking the position and potential of the science fiction novel and to challenge the way we perceive our culture Science Fiction and Posthumanism in the Anthropocene Jonathan Hay,2024-12-26 With science fiction stories imagining futures and worlds vastly different from our own and posthuman philosophies radically reconceptualising our species place within our own world this book is a deep dive into the similarities between science fiction studies and critical posthumanism and how they can be read together Both fields fantasise about future technologies envisage alienness through conversation with everyday life and both anticipate the Anthropocene as a dire source of rupture from the present Drawing inspiration from these and other consonances this book establishes a common theoretical ground between the two fields upon which the two currents of future oriented thought can meet and begin to share a common language An investigation that draws critical currency from the everyday condition of our species in relation to technology and our perilous situation in the Anthropocene the book observes posthumanism not just as a theoretical framework that may be applied to science fictional ideas but also as an integral part of how it is that science fiction is generated Featuring case studies of the work of prominent authors Isaac Asimov Ursula K Le Guin and Kim Stanley Robinson alongside the BBC television series Doctor Who and the cult videogame Outer Wilds Science Fiction and Posthumanism in the Anthropocene formulates a new critical paradigm which recognises the value of such works to posthumanist thought Addressing those with an interest in either academic discipline it demonstrates that urgent discourses around our shared future are more imperative now than ever before
