Love and Politics in Outer Space Harvey Stein, 1986      Politics and the Order of Love Eric Gregory, 2008-08-15

Augustine for all of his influence on Western culture and politics was hardly a liberal Drawing from theology feminist theory and political philosophy Eric Gregory offers here a liberal ethics of citizenship one less susceptible to anti liberal critics because it is informed by the Augustinian tradition The result is a book that expands Augustinian imaginations for liberalism and liberal imaginations for Augustinianism Gregory examines a broad range of Augustine s texts and their reception in different disciplines and identifies two classical themes which have analogues in secular political theory love and related notions of care solidarity and sympathy and sin as well as related notions of cruelty evil and narrow self interest From an Augustinian point of view Gregory argues love and sin constrain each other in ways that yield a distinctive vision of the limits and possibilities of politics In providing a constructive argument for Christian participation in liberal democratic societies Gregory advances efforts to revive a political theology in which love s relation to justice is prominent Politics and the Order of Love will provoke new conversations for those interested in Christian ethics moral psychology and the role of religion in a liberal society

Love and Space in Contemporary African Diasporic Women's Writing Jennifer Leetsch, 2021-07-16 This book sets out to investigate how contemporary African diasporic women writers respond to the imbalances pressures and crises of twenty first century globalization by querying the boundaries between two separate conceptual domains love and space The study breaks new ground by systematically bringing together critical love studies with research into the cultures of migration diaspora and refuge Examining a notable tendency among current black feminist writers poets and performers to insist on the affective dimension of world making the book ponders strategies of reconfiguring postcolonial discourses Indeed the analyses of literary works and intermedia performances by Chimamanda Adichie Zadie Smith Helen Oyeyemi Shailja Patel and Warsan Shire reveal an urge of moving beyond a familiar insistence on processes of alienation or rupture and towards a new reparative emphasis on connection and intimacy to imagine possible inhabitable worlds

Outer Space in Society, Politics and Law Christian Brünner, Alexander Soucek, 2012-08-30 Spaceflight is a rational undertaking yet full of emotions It is a dream of mankind and a multi billion industry likewise It is subject to a distinct branch of law and moreover part of modern pop culture In short spaceflight is fascinating Outer Space in society politics and law is an inter disciplinary approach to the understanding of modern space law Technical cultural and historical aspects lay the foundation for a sound comprehension why space law norms have been established and what they mean in practice The reader will realize the impact space and spaceflight have on society from Stonehenge to climate change A new approach to presenting space law comprehensive and illustrative We live in a society absolutely dependent on science and technology and yet have cleverly arranged things so that almost no one understands science and technology That s a clear prescription for disaster Carl Sagan of Intimacy articulates the concept of love within the relationship between the intimate and the social rethinking how intimacy is conceived and experienced in the context of 21st century neoliberalism Reflecting on experiences of intimate romantic and sexual love and the role of individual identity these essays explore historical trajectories that have culminated in particular contemporary experiences of intimate love Politically this work links identity and articulation of the self to liberatory practices in the arenas of friendship romance and sex This interdisciplinary exploration of what love means in the 21st century incorporates academic writing and original creative work from established and emerging scholars around the globe Essays from across the humanities and social sciences including literary studies sociology psychology philosophy and gender studies interrogate the role of relational intimacy on topics of Love and Romance Love and Liberation and Love and Technologies of Intimacy The volume looks at the past present and future in search of inspiration for transforming and re charting the pathways of love seeking a more diverse and emancipatory model of social life and what it would take to restore love to social and institutional spaces

Love and the Politics of Care Stanislava Dikova, Wendy McMahon, Jordan Savage, 2022-11-03 This edited volume offers a contemporary rethinking of the relationship between love and care in the context of neoliberal practices of professionalization and work Each of the book's three sections interrogates a particular site of care where the affective political legal and economic dimensions of care intersect in challenging ways These sites are located within a variety of institutionally managed contexts such as the contemporary university the theatre hall the prison complex the family home the urban landscape and the care industry The geographical spread of the case studies stretches across India Vietnam Sweden Brazil South Africa the UK and the US and provides broad coverage that crosses the divide between the Global North and the Global South To address this transnational interdisciplinary field of study the collection utilises insights from across the humanities and social sciences and includes contributions from literature sociology cultural and media studies philosophy feminist theory theatre art history and education These inquiries build on a variety of conceptual tools and research methods from data analysis to psychoanalytic reading Love and the Politics of Care delivers an attentive and widely relevant examination of the politics of care and makes a compelling case for an urgent reconsideration of the methods that currently structure and regulate it

Adriana Cavarero Elisabetta R. Bertolino, 2017-12-04 Critical legal scholars have made us aware that law is made up not only of rules but also of language But who speaks the language of law And can one lawfully speak in one's voice For the Italian philosopher Adriana Cavarero to answer these questions we must not separate who is speaking from the very act of speaking moreover we must recuperate the material singularity and relationality of the mouth that speaks Drawing on Cavarero's work this book focuses on the potentiality of the voice for resisting law's sovereign structures For Cavarero it is the voice that expresses one's living and unrepeatable singularity in a way that cannot be subsumed by the universalities and standards of law The voice is essentially a material and singular passage of air and vibration that necessarily reveals one's uniqueness in relationality Speaking discloses this uniqueness and so one's vulnerability. It therefore leads to possibilities of resistance that here bring a fresh approach to longstanding legal theoretical concerns with singularity, ethics and justice.

Ethics and Politics of Space for the Anthropocene Anu Valtonen, Outi Rantala, Paolo D. Farah, 2020-10-30. Featuring an international multidisciplinary set of contributors, this thought-provoking book reimagines established narratives of the Anthropocene to allow differences in regions and contexts to be taken seriously, emphasising the importance of localised and situated knowledge. It offers critical engagement with the debates around the Anthropocene by challenging the dominant techno-rational agenda that often prevails in socio-political and academic discussions.

The Politics of Love Maxime Foerster, 2018-04-03. What would love be if heterosexual couples were no longer assigned gender and sexual norms? Maxime Foerster examines the heterosexual trouble between men and women in nineteenth-century French Romantic and Decadent literature. Key works by authors ranging from George Sand to Charles Baudelaire persistently demonstrate that heterosexuality did not work; these authors and many others investigated the struggle that men and women alike waged against patriarchal norms. Whereas Romantic fiction dedicated itself to the reinvention of love, Decadence promoted sexual and gender deviance. In expertly evaluating the discord afflicting fictional heterosexual couples, male and female dandies and doctors and their female patients, Foerster shows the crucial role that literature played in the fashioning of alternative identities. A concluding look at Proust's la recherche du temps perdu traces the legacy of heterosexual trouble in the twentieth century.

Law and the Politics of Reconciliation Scott Veitch, 2016-04-15. This collection of essays by an international group of authors explores the ways in which law and legal institutions are used in countries coming to terms with traumatic pasts and in some cases traumatic presents. In putting to question what is often taken for granted in uncritical calls for reconciliation, it critically analyses and frequently challenges the political and legal assumptions underlying discourses of reconciliation. Drawing on a broad spectrum of disciplinary and interdisciplinary insights, the authors examine how competing conceptions of law, time and politics are deployed in social transformations and how pressing demands for reconstruction, reconciliation and justice inform and respond to legal categories and their use of time. The book is genuinely interdisciplinary, drawing on work in politics, philosophy, theology, sociology and law. It will appeal to a wide audience of researchers and academics working in these areas.

Politics of Religion/Religions of Politics Alistair Welchman, 2014-10-20. The liberal enlightenment as well as the more radical left have both traditionally opposed religion as a reactionary force in politics, a view culminating in an identification of the politics of religion as fundamentalist theocracy. But recently a number of thinkers, Agamben, Badiou, Žižek and in particular Simon Critchley, have begun to explore a more productive engagement of the religious and the political in which religion features as a possible or even necessary form of human emancipation. The papers in this collection, deriving from a workshop held on and with Simon Critchley at the University of Texas at San Antonio in February 2010, take up the ways in which religion's encounter with politics transforms not only politics but also religion itself, molding it into various religions of politics, including not just heretical religious metaphysics but also what Critchley describes as non metaphysical religion the faith of the faithless Starting from Critchley s own genealogy of Pauline faith the articles in this collection explore and defend some of the religions of politics and their implications Costica Bradatan teases out the implications of Critchley s substitution of humor for tragedy as the vehicle for the minimal self distancing required for any politics Jill Stauffer compares Critchley s non metaphysical religiosity with Charles Taylor s account of Christianity Alistair Welchman unpacks the political theology of the border in terms of god s timeless act of creation Anne O Byrne explores the subtle dialectic between mores and morality in Rousseau s political ethics Roland Champagne sees a kind non metaphysical religion in Arendt s category of the political pariah Davide Panagia presents Critchley s ethics of exposure as the basis for a non metaphysical political bond Philip Quadrio wonders about the political ramifications of Critchley s own mystical anarchism and Tina Chanter re reads the primal site in the Western tradition at which the political and the religious intersect the Antigone story side stepping philosophical interpretations of the story dominated by Hegel s reading by means of a series of post colonial re imaginings of the play The collection concludes with an interview with Simon Critchley taking up the themes of the workshop in the light of more recent political events the Arab Spring and the rise and fall of the Occupy movement

On the Politics of Ugliness Sara Rodrigues, Ela Przybylo, 2018-08-29 Ugliness or unsightliness is much more than a quality or property of an individual's appearance it has long functioned as a social category that demarcates access to social cultural and political spaces and capital The editors of and authors in this collection harness intersectional and interdisciplinary approaches in order to examine ugliness as a political category that is deployed to uphold established notions of worth and entitlement On the Politics of Ugliness identifies and challenges the harmful effects that labels and feelings of ugliness have on individuals and the socio political order It explores ugliness in relation to the intersectional processes of racialization colonization and settler colonialism gender making ableism heteronormativity and fatphobia On the Politics of Ugliness asks that we fight against visual injustice and imagine new ways of seeing Silent Cinema and the Politics of Space Jennifer M. Bean, Anupama Kapse, Laura Horak, 2014-04-02 In this cross cultural history of narrative cinema and media from the 1910s to the 1930s leading and emergent scholars explore the transnational crossings and exchanges that occurred in early cinema between the two world wars Drawing on film archives from around the world this volume advances the premise that silent cinema freely crossed national borders and linguistic thresholds in ways that became far less possible after the emergence of sound These essays address important questions about the uneven forces geographic economic political psychological textual and experiential that underscore a non linear approach to film history The messiness of film history as demonstrated here opens a new realm of inquiry into unexpected political social and aesthetic crossings of silent cinema Epistolary Narratives of Love, Gender and Agonistic Politics Maria

Tamboukou, 2023-09-30 This book revolves around epistolary narratives of women political theorists and activists following traces of Hannah Arendt's philosophical approaches to love and agonistic politics Arendt's interlocutors are four revolutionary women in the long durée of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in Europe and the USA the romantic socialist Désirée Vernet Gay the Marxist Rosa Luxemburg the anarchist Emma Goldman and the labour activist Rose Pesotta The book's central argument is that Arendt's philosophical thought can throw light on dangerous liaisons between love gender and agonistic politics further making connections with feminist ruminations around love as an existential force in the ephemeral constitution of the female self in modernity Drawing on extended research with physical digital and published archival collections the book responds to the challenges of the digital turn and highlights the importance of memory work as a way of understanding the lasting effects of the past on the present As such Epistolary Narratives of Love Gender and Agonistic Politics will appeal to scholars of sociology and gender studies with interests in research methods particularly archival methods the work of Arendt feminist thought and memory studies Hannah Arendt and the Politics of Friendship Jon

Nixon, 2015-01-29 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com For Hannah Arendt friendship had political relevance and importance The essence of friendship she believed consisted in discourse and it is only through discourse she argued that the world is rendered humane This book explores some of the key ideas in Hannah Arendt's work through a study of four lifelong friendships with Heinrich

Bl cher Martin Heidegger Karl Jaspers and Mary McCarthy The book draws on correspondence from both sides illuminating our understanding of the social contexts within which Arendt s thinking developed and was clarified It offers a cultural history of ideas shedding light on two core ideas in Arendt of plurality and promise and on how those particular ideas emerged through a particular set of relationships at a significant moment in the history of the West This book offers an original and accessible way in to Arendt s work for students and scholars of politics philosophy intellectual history and literature
