Ciuba, 2010-09-01 In Walker Percy Books of Revelations Gary M Ciuba examines how Percy's apocalyptic vision inspires the structure themes and strategies of his fiction This book explores the unity of the southern novelist's fiction by focusing on its religious and artistic design one of the first studies to approach Percy's work from this perspective Ciuba considers Percy's six published novels The Moviegoer The Last Gentleman Love in the Ruins Lancelot The Second Coming and The Thanatos Syndrome and also offers the first extended critical analysis of his unpublished work The Gramercy Winner Although the novels are often seen as increasingly satiric jeremiads about the possible doom of America Ciuba argues that Percy's fiction is principally shaped by a demythologized and partially realized form of eschatology This apocalyptic vision has less to do with the end of the external world than with the demise of the protagonists' internal worldviews According to Ciuba Percy does more than offer direly comic warnings about the end of the world he shows how the world actually ends and then may begin again in the everyday lives and extraordinary loves of his astonished seers

Love Among the Ruins Warwick Deeping, 2013 Love Among the Ruins Anon she rose softly turned towards the mirror hanging on the wall gazed into its depths with a species of bewitched fear One glance given she turned away with a shudder hid her face in her hands walked the room in a mute frenzy of self horror Presently she knelt again before the window seat struggled in prayer turning her face piteously to an open casement where the golden woods stood under the red wand of the west The light waned a little She rose up again from her knees shook her hair forward so that it bathed her face trod slowly towards the mirror stared at herself therein The crystal bowl was broken the ivory throne dishonoured The blush of the rose had faded the gleam of the opal fallen to dust Youth and its sapphire shield had passed into the gloom of dreams The stars and the moon were magical no more She wavered away from the window to a dark corner hid her face in the arras The same wild cry rang like a piteous requiem through her brain The man lived and loved her and she had come to this Burning Gilderoy had stolen her beauty made her a mockery of her very self God that Fate should compel her to lift her scars to the eyes of love In the gathering dusk she went again to the mirror peered therein with strained eyes and a tremor of the lip The twilight softened somewhat the bitterness of truth She shook her hair forward saw her eyes gleam fingered her white throat and smiled a little Presently she lit a taper held it with wavering hand peered at the steel panel once again She cried out jerked away and crushed the frail light under her foot Darkness increased seeming to clothe her misery She wandered through the room twisting her black hair about her wrist moaning and darting piteous glances into the gloom Once she took a poniard from a table fingered the point pressed her hand over her heart threw the knife away with a gesture of despair On the morrow the man would come to her What would she see in those grey eyes of his Horror and loathing ah God not that Anon she grew calmer and less distressed prayed awhile lit a lamp delved in an ambry built in the wall That night her hands worked zealously while the moon shimmered on the mere setting silver wrinkles on its agate face The woods were still and solemn as death deep with the voiceless sympathy of the hour Black lace hung upon Yeoland's hands the sable thread ran through and through her white fingers quivered in the light of the lamp Her few hours of sleep that night were wild and feverish smitten through with piteous dreams On the morrow she bound a black fillet about her brows and let the dusky mask of lace fall over face and bosom She prayed a long while before her crucifix but she did not gaze again into dead Duessa's mirror

Love among the Ruins Victoria Wohl, 2009-02-09 Classical Athenian literature often speaks of democratic politics in sexual terms Citizens are urged to become lovers of the polis and politicians claim to be lovers of the people Victoria Wohl argues that this was no dead metaphor Exploring the intersection between eros and politics in democratic Athens Wohl traces the private desires aroused by public ideology and the political consequences of citizens' most intimate longings Love among the Ruins analyzes the civic fantasies that lay beneath but not necessarily parallel to Athens's political ideology It shows how desire can disrupt politics and provides a deeper at times disturbing insight into the democratic unconscious of ancient Athens The Athenians imagined the perfect citizen as a noble and manly lover But this icon conceals a multitude of other possible figures sexy tyrants potent pathics and seductive perverses Through critical readings of canonical texts Wohl investigates these fantasies which seem so antithetical to Athens's manifest ideals She examines the interrelation of patriotism and narcissism the trope of politics as prostitution the elite suspicion of political pleasure and the status of perversion within Athens's sexual and political norms She also discusses the morbid drive that propelled Athenian imperialism as well as democratic Athens's paradoxical fascination with the joys of tyranny Drawing on contemporary critical theory in original ways Wohl sketches the relationship between citizen psyche and political life to illuminate the complex frequently contradictory passions that structure democracy ancient and modern
