The Priority of Love Timothy Patrick Jackson, 2003 This book explores the relation between agape or Christian charity and social justice Timothy Jackson defines agape as the central virtue in Christian ethical thought and action and applies his insights to three concrete issues political violence forgiveness and abortion Taking his primary cue from the New Testament while drawing extensively from contemporary theology and philosophy Jackson identifies three features of Christian charity unconditional commitment to the good of others equal regard for others well being and passionate service open to self sacrifice for the sake of others Charity prescribed by Jesus for his disciples and named by Saint Paul as the greatest theological virtue is contrasted with various accounts of justice Jackson argues that agape is not trumped by justice or other goods Rather agape precedes justice without the work of love society would not produce persons capable of merit demerit and contract the elements of most modern conceptions of justice Jackson then considers the implications of his ideas for several questions the nature of God the relation between Christian love and political violence the place of forgiveness and the morality of abortion Arguing that agapic love is to be construed as a gift of grace as well as a divine commandment Jackson concludes that love is the eternal life that makes temporal existence possible and thus the first Christian virtue Though foremost a contribution to Christian ethics Jackson's arguments and the issues he takes up will find a broader readership

Aquinas on Beatific Charity and the Problem of Love Christopher J. Malloy, 2019-10-29 Christopher J Malloy s Aquinas on Beatific Charity and the Problem of Love examines the relationship between the desire for happiness and the love of another chiefly the love of God for His own sake Great thinkers judge the matters connected with this problem differently Aristotle and others contend that the desire for happiness grounds ethical activity Others contend that a pure love of God or of the other is not founded on desire for happiness The former charge the latter with leaving love groundless and the latter charge the former with reducing love to egoism Aquinas s appreciation of the Aristotelian tradition is forefront in his classic treatment of human action which begins with the desire for happiness Accordingly many readers proponents and critics read Aquinas as simply eudaimonistic There are however other principles at work in his thought these suggest a simple but profound difficulty in his thought one reflective of the subtlety of real life Are the two sets of principles contradictory Juxtaposed Considering beatific charity as the ultimate lens for this problem Malloy proposes that Aquinas s texts and principles are hierarchically harmonious while developmentally complex They indicate that love of happiness has a foundational role in human action and that love of God for His own sake has priority in the order of finality This ordered balance depends upon a conception of the common good in accord with a metaphysics of participation as having existence and formal perfection from and in likeness to the One Who Is created persons incline to love God more than and more intensely than themselves Thus love of the Divine Other while indeed the supreme love especially as deified through charity does not demand disinterested love God truly is man s good His true lover longs to be with Him

The Trinity Saint Augustine (of Hippo), 1990 A splendid translation made from a trustworthy Latin text of what is for some of us the foundation work of Christian theology He has fitted out his translation clearly the best of the four that have been made into English with notes that go well beyond the perfunctory and a 38 page introduction that is a delight to read Journal of Religion and Health Barry Ulanov

One Principal Good One Jonathan Wheatley, Dave Reese, 2022-12-28 This book speaks to the majesty of the King James Bible in both its literary contribution to the English language and how it distinguishes itself from the previous English translations and those that have been attempted since The authors address the doctrines of Inspiration and Preservation and that by faith believe that only the King James Bible is worthy of being called the inspired preserved word of God in the English language The authors cover the Process of Bible translation by committee and the rules by which they were provided as guidance by the king at the Hampton Court conference. Specifically the doctrinal impact of the Third Rule whereby the translators were to keep the old Ecclesiastical words such as Church not to be translated as Congregation. Other words to be used were Charity in addition to Love, Baptisms as well as Washings, and the distinction between Covenant and Testament is clearly seen in the context where the words are used. In addition to the doctrinal import, there is considerable attention given to the printing technology of the fourteenth to sixteenth centuries and a dissertation on the artwork of the first edition printed in 1611. The practical results of preaching the King James Bible in places like the Philippines and other foreign lands are presented with plentiful illustrations and examples. Lastly, the authors have included the Epistle Dedicatory and Translators to the Reader that were provided in earlier editions of the King James Bible but sadly seldom printed in the newer editions.

2 Make Your Home in My Love Catherine Skinner Powell, 2019-11-13. Are you living as God's burning bush without being consumed? Or might you be headed toward burnout? We will rediscover the blessing of this mutual love relationship with God overflowing to others as God's sheer gift. Could it be that the first and greatest commandment is for our greatest joy and not some mysterious burden to fulfill? One metaphor is the vine and the branches from John 15:1-11. Jesus is the vine and we are the branches; apart from the vine, the branch can do nothing. God wants to be our supply, our source in an intimate encounter of the finite with the infinite. God was the source for these heroes of faith: Augustine of Hippo, Bernard of Clairvaux, Catherine of Siena, Ignatius of Loyola, John Calvin, and Teresa of Avila. Using a descriptive process called the Classic Three Ways, including the purgative, letting go, illuminative, seeing with the heart, and unitive intimacy dating back to around 500 CE, we now add a fourth way: the unitive active dance. From that dance of mutual love, ministry overflows. We do it together; it is participatory humankind following God's lead. It's not a formula; it's our living God.

Arcana Coelestia Emanuel Swedenborg, 1870. Charity and Its Fruits, Or, Christian Love as Manifested in the Heart and Life Jonathan Edwards, 1856. Love and Politics Jeffery L. Nicholas, 2021-06-07. In Love and Politics, Jeffery L. Nicholas argues that Eros is the final rejection of an alienated life in which humans are prevented from developing their human powers. Eros, in contrast, is an overflowing of acting into new realities and new beauties: a world in which human beings extend their powers and senses. Nicholas uniquely interprets Alasdair MacIntyre's Revolutionary Aristotelianism as a response to alienation defined as the divorce of fact from value. However, this account cannot address alienation in the form of the oppression of women or people of color. Importantly, it fails to acknowledge the domination of nature that blackens the heart of alienated life. Alienation must be seen as a separation of the human from nature. Nicholas turns to Aristotle first to uncover the way his philosophy embodies a divorce of human from nature, then to reconstruct the essential elements of Aristotle's metaphysics to defend a philosophical anthropology based on Eros. Love and Politics: Persistent Human Desires as a Foundation for Liberation presents a critical theory that synthesizes MacIntyre's Revolutionary Aristotelianism, Frankfurt School Critical Theory, and Social Reproduction Theory. It will be of great interest to political theorists and philosophers
